OLD TIME BURNT CORK FAVORITE DIES.

GEORGE THATCHER SUCCUMBS TO CANCER.

George Thatcher, one of the veterans of minstrelsy, and for years one of the most popular of our burnt cork stars, died June 25, at the home of his nephew in East Orange, N. J., from cancer.

The disease from which he died made its appearance several months ago, but he kept in harness until last March, when he was forced to leave "The Little Rebel" Co., with which he had played the old negro servant.

Few of the black face players of our stage were as versatile as Mr. Thatcher, and in the course of his career he had proved himself to be equally capable in humor or pathos. He had appeared in minstrelsy, vaudeville, farce comedy, comic opera and drama, and it would be difficult to state in which he was most proficient. He could bring tears with the same facility as he could cause smiles and laughter. His performance of the old slave, in "The Little Rebel," drew forth the highest encomiums from dramatic writers all over the country, some even going so far as to state it was the best work of the kind ever seen on the American stage.

RICHARD HYDE'S WILL.

The late Richard Hyde, of Hyde & Behman, who died Dec. 14, 1912, left a gross estate of $1,285,410.60, which was reduced by various obligations to $1,245,487.21. The share of Mrs. Mary Hyde, the widow, is appraised at $181,500.85. The four children, William J. Hyde, Mrs. Lulu H. Hubbard, James R. Hyde and Lillian B. Hyde, receive $237,038.50 each. James Hyde, a brother, receives $20,000, and $20,000 is divided equally among two nieces and two nephews. The Actors' Fund of America receives $25,000, and there are other small bequests.

NORINE COFFEY.

The singing girl from Broadway, at Planters' Hotel Cabaret, Chicago, featuring Theodore Morse's big song hit, "Bobbin' Up and Down."

STANLEY WALPOLE WITH RELIANCE.

Stanley Walpole, the well known actor, who arrived from Australia with his wife about three months ago, after six years in dramatics "over there," was a recent CLIPPER caller.

MR. WALPOLE has been engaged by the Reliance Motion Picture Stock Company for leads, while the Kalem Company were fortunate enough to secure Mrs. Walpole's services for leading roles in their productions.

NEW WESTERN MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION.

REPRESENTATIVE MANAGERS OF MIDDLE WEST CONVENE AT HOTEL LA SALLE, IN CHICAGO, TO FORM "THEATRE AND PRODUCING MANAGERS' PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION"—WILL BE AFFILIATED WITH EASTERN MANAGERS' ASSOCIATION.

(Special to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.)

CHICAGO, Saturday, June 28. Fifty Middle Western theatre managers, representing all of the circuits, including Sullivan & Considine, Alfred Hamburger, the Allards, F. & H. Amusement Co., Butterfield Circuit, Inter-State, Jones, Linick & Schaefer, gathered together at the Hotel La Salle, in Chicago, last Wednesday (June 25), and formed a new organization, to be known as "The Theatre and Producing Managers' Protective Association."

The organization was perfected as completely as possible considering this being the first meeting, and the following officers were elected: W. S. Butterfield, president; Boyle Woolfolk, vice-president; Bert Cortel, secretary, and Alfred Hamburger, treasurer. The new offices will be located in FAVERSHAM vs. KEENAN.

William Faversham, who has been sued for breach of contract by Frank Keenan, who played Cassius in Faversham's production of "Julius Caesar," filed an answer June 24, alleging that he had a right to terminate Mr. Keenan's contract with two weeks' notice if he did not observe the rules of the company. He alleged that Keenan failed to abide by these rules.

Mr. Faversham says he did all he was required to do by giving Keenan two weeks notice and full pay, and also a ticket from Omaha to New York.

GEORGE SCOTT.

Featuring "You Made Me Love You," published by Broadway Music Corp.

NEW HOUSE FOR TERRE HAUTE.

As a result of the purchase from T. W. Barhydt Jr., of the Hoefler holdings in the Varieties Theatre, in Terre Haute, Ind., and the lot at Eighth and Ohio Streets, by vaudeville managers who control thirty houses, Terre Haute will enjoy all the advantages of strong affiliations.

The gentlemen who become Mr. Barhydt's partners in the Varieties as result of their purchase of the interests held, until very recently, by Mr. Hoefler are: Messrs. Helman, while Mr. Helman operates theatres in Evansville, Ind., South Bend, Gary, Michigan City, Springfield, Ill., Bloomington, Champaign, Urbana; Madison, Wis., and Messrs. Helman and Butterfield together operate houses in Green Bay, Wis., Oshkosh, Rockford, Ill.; Waterloo, Ia., and Davenport.

Mr. Barhydt supplemented the official statement that with the assurance that the present staff at the Varieties will be retained. Ross Garver and Bert Farmer will continue to manage the house in front. Mr. Bryant will direct the orchestra. Carl Brentlinger will be stage carpenter and Hugh Reynolds, who was on the road with "Milestones" last season, will be the property clerk in place of "Pinknot" Wilby, who has gone to California. The shows booked at the Varieties for the week and beginning Thursdays will go to Terre Haute direct from Evansville, so that all of the performers who need an orchestra rehearsal will arrive together in ample time. The shows for the first half of the week will come from one of the other houses in the circuit.

KLAW & ERLANGER SUE.

George Mooser, of San Francisco, has brought suit against Abraham L. Erlanger and Marc Klaw for $39,700 for alleged breach of contract. Mooser alleges in his complaint that he contracted with the defendants on Dec. 28, 1912, for the employment of Ching Ling Foo, his wife and daughter, Chee Toy, and four other Orientals for forty-seven weeks at $1,450 a week. He further states that on May 31 Klaw & Erlanger refused to employ the Chinese performers or Leon Mosser, of Shanghai, their manager, and as they had no opportunity to make other contracts, George Mooser lost money.

WILLIAM FURST will write the incidental music for "Evangeline," which Arthur Hopkins will produce at the Park Theatre Sept. 29.

Chicago, at a place determined later, and the organization will meet once a month to extend its operations.

The purpose of the newly formed body is to give protection to managers along all lines pertaining to the theatrical business. In this respect it will be affiliated with the Eastern Managers Association, and the two will co-operate so far as the protective feature is concerned. A committee of three met Chas. Bird, representative of the Eastern Managers Association, upon his arrival in Chicago and conferred with him regarding the situation in the Middle West.

All managers of theatres, road shows, or anyone who holds a managerial position in a concern pertaining to theatricals in which he has money invested is eligible to membership in the new body. WARREN A. PATRICK.

TO EXCHANGE SINGERS.

A cable received at the Century Opera House, June 26, from Milton Aborn, who is now in Europe engaging artists, states that he has arranged to exchange principals at various times in the season with the Boston Opera House, an arrangement to this effect having been recently made with Henry Russell, who is now in London. The only individual announced in this connection is Elizabeth Ansdon, one of the prima donna sopranos of the Boston Opera Company, who will appear at the Century during the first few weeks of the season.

The Messrs. Aborn have also completed arrangements with Lois Ewell, soprano; Walter Wheatley, tenor; Thomas Chalmers, baritone, and Ivy Scott, soprano, all of whom will be in the permanent forces of the Century company for the coming season.

Miss Ewell is a Brooklyn girl, who graduated from comic opera to grand opera, and sang for several seasons with different American organizations presenting the latter art form in England. During the past year she has been studying in Europe and appearing in special engagements in several opera houses there.

Mr. Wheatley is a young American tenor who made his comic opera debut a few years ago in Alice Nielson's company, and later sang the title role in "The Highwayman" and similar offerings. He has been singing in grand opera for several seasons, and recently appeared at Covent Garden, London.

Mr. Chalmers is a young American baritone who made his debut in this country as a tenor in Henry W. Savage's production of Puccini's "The Girl of the Golden West," before which he sang for several years in European opera houses, acquiring a repertoire of twenty-five operas.

Miss Scott is an Australian, and was brought to this country by Mr. Savage for one of his "Merry Widow" companies, and she also made her grand opera debut in his production of "The Girl of the Golden West," in which she had the title part.

MABELLE PARKER ENGAGED.

Mabelle Parker, recently divorced from Earl Schwartz, musical director, has announced her engagement to Alfred B. Sorenson, a prominent hotel directly opposite the new Washington Theatre, which will open its doors next month. The site is 120 by 180 Avenue, Detroit, Mich., directly opposite the legitimate drama. The building will be ten stories in height, the upper portion being given over to offices.

The names of the owners are not made public.

DETROIT'S NEW THEATRE.

A new $2,000,000 theatre is to be erected at Washington Boulevard and Grand River Avenue, Detroit, Mich., directly opposite the new Washington Theatre, which will open its doors next month. The site is 120 by 180 Avenue, Detroit, Mich., directly opposite the legitimate drama. The building will be ten stories in height, the upper portion being given over to offices.

The names of the owners are not made public.

AUSTIN'S AIRDOME OPENS.

The Bell Airdome, in Austin, Tex., situated at Ninth and Colorado Streets, is open and doing good business. It is the only one and has a seating capacity of 3,500, and is operated by the City Airdome Company. Only approved high class motion pictures are shown.

WHERE IS HE?

J. A. Parker, owner of Bijou Theatre, at Hinton, W. Va., wants to know the whereabouts of Prof. De Vronde, who, he claims, left Hinton suddenly without paying rent or salaries. Any information regarding him will be thankfully received by Mr. Parker.

HELEN WARE.

Helen Ware has, for several years, enjoyed the distinction of being one of our most popular footlight favorites, and has appeared in many notable successes under the management of some of New York's leading managers. At the present time she is appearing at the Eltinge Theatre as Mary Turner, in "Within the Law," taking the place of Jane Cowl, while that lady is enjoying a vacation abroad. When Miss Cowl returns she will resume her place in that play and Miss Ware will head a second company of that play, which will be sent on the road.

DOINGS IN VAUDEVILLE.

EVA TANGUY is "resting."

AL. JOHNSON has some fine offers.

THE Great Raymond was divorced.

TOM WATERS has his own company.

JESS DANDY is rehearsing a new act.

DAISY HARCOURT goes to South Africa.

JOHN AND WINNIE HENNINGSON "dipped" East.

AL. B. WHITE AND BESSIE DE VOIE will do an act.

E. D. HOPSON originated "split weeks" in vaudeville.

LEW CANTOR's new show is called "Along the Pike."

BERT SHEPHERD will return to America in September.

WALTER C. KELLY plays the London Hippodrome this fall.

AMY BUCKLEY recovered valuable jewels lost a year ago.

HARRY VAN FOSSEN goes with the Neil O'Brien Minstrels.

CONROY AND LE MAIRE will be with "The Passing Show of 1913."

LEON MEROLL is a shining star in "The Follies."

EDWIN STEVENS and TINA MARSHALL are working on a new offering.

EABLE S. DEWEY and MARIE ROGERS will be seen in a tabloid next season.

JACK TRAINOR will have Halton Powell's role in "Henpecked Henry" next season.

EXCELA AND FRANKS are playing Sullivan & Considine houses in the Middle West country.

CHARLES LA VIGNE and EMMA LANGNER have taken the Dourtrick Vaudeville Agency in Chicago.

HAL JOHNSON will be seen next season in "The Arrival of Kitty," a Halton Powell tabloid.

LA SALLE AND WALSH are a "revelation in ragtime" at the Orpheum Theatre, St. Joe, Mo.

ANNA E. INMAN, who has been fifty-three years on the stage, recently made her debut in vaudeville with an act from her own pen.

JOHNNY MORAN AND COMPANY, in "The Training Camp," a new vaudeville act, combine drama and sporting exhibit very cleverly.

MENLO E. MOORE will have a vaudeville musical comedy with the title "Aladdin's Wonderful Lamp," which will carry a ton and a half of scenery.

L. F. ALLART is routing up a number of tabloids for the Allart Circuit next season.

HAMILTON COLEMAN has written a vaudeville act, entitled "The Bachelor's Dream," which will be produced in the fall by Menlo E. Moore. It will have an elaborate production.

FRANK Q. DOYLE has introduced a hippodrome style into vaudeville in Chicago, alternating pictures and acts, and making the shows "go" under a policy long thought to be suicidal.

FREDERICK IRELAND has quarters in the Grand Opera House Annex, Chicago, where he prepares choruses for the stage, rehearsing and drilling them so they can pass inspection from the stage managers.

ALFRED HAMBURGER, the Chicago theatrical magnate, has just acquired another big printing establishment, which fully divides his time between his show affairs and his printing business. Hamburger is building two more houses in Chicago.

MINNIE PALMER, Chicago's only lady producer, is taking a fortnight's vacation at St. Joseph, Mo., following a strenuous season and preceding what she expects to be another strenuous season as she has promised the Western Vaudeville Managers' Association to produce fifteen tabloids next season.

JOSEPHINE COHAN'S RETURN.

When she stepped from the Twentieth Century Limited in New York June 23, Josephine Cohan completed a twelve thousand mile journey begun at Sydney, N. S. W., in May 31. The water journey was made aboard the South Pacific steamship Ventura, which reached San Francisco at 1 p. m. on Thursday, June 19. Three hours later Miss Cohan and her companion, Bonnie Watt, of Sydney, started across the continent on the Overland Limited, and, connecting with the Twentieth Century Limited on Sunday, June 22, in Chicago, reached New York the following morning—a record for the distance.

Josephine Cohan and her husband, Fred Niblo, went to Australia more than a year ago under a six months' contract with the J. C. Williamson Company, Ltd. This has been extended to two years. Miss Cohan will visit her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry J. Cohan, at Sunnyscroft, Monroe, Orange County, N. Y., during July and August, and in September will return to Australia in time to appear with her husband at Her Majesty's Theatre, Sydney, in George M. Cohan's comedy, "Broadway Jones," the Australian and New Zealand rights of which have been leased by the Williamson Producing Syndicate of the Antipodes.

WOODS' FIRST.

"Potash and Perlmutter" will be the first of A. H. Woods' productions for the coming season. It is to open the Cohan Theatre, early in August with Barney Bernard, Alexander Carr, Lee Kohlmar, Louise Dresser, Joseph Klugour, Albert Parker and Elita Proctor Otis in the cast.

CHARLES H. CLARK, of the team of Clark and Murphy, and May, late of Colby and May, have joined hands, and will be known hereafter as Clark and May.

To Exhibitors, Exchange Men and All Interested in Photoplays and Motion Pictures GREETINGS

Drink of the good cheer that surrounds you. Let your countenances impart radiance wherever you tread, and enjoy with us every advantage this convention offers. Make this the greatest gathering of moving picture enthusiasts, one that will establish a record in motion picture history.

And when you return to your respective homes, remember Essanay produces the best there is in motion pictures.

ISIDORE BERNSTEIN.
Isidore Bernstein, known throughout the moving picture trade as "Bernie," recently appointed manager of the Pacific Coast studios of the Universal Film Mfg. Co., has been in the moving picture business several years, starting as an exhibitor, later becoming an exchange man, and after that having been associated with the Yankee, Republic and Monopole Film Companies.

M. A. CHOYNSKI.

to National Convention of Motion Picture
Exhibitors' League of America.

THOMAS SANTSCHE.

Thomas is not, in reality, Santsehl's correct first name. It is Paul W. He is called Tom by his friends and Thomas by the Selig Polyscope Co.'s press agents and officials. The name of Tom has stuck to him ever since he appeared in his first moving picture for the Selig Company. This happened back in 1907, when he joined the Selig forces at their Chicago studios. The director, under whom he was working, had difficulty in remembering his name. For this reason he was dubbed "Tom," that being the name of the part he was playing at the time. He made good in this first picture, and from then on Tom was in demand by the producers.

Santsehl is one of the most interesting members of the Western branch of the Selig Polyscope Company. Big in physical development, taciturn in disposition and possessing a keen sense of humor, this popular leading man has won for himself a following so large that his adopted name is almost a by-word among picture fans. Lucerne, Switzerland, the very name of which fills one with poetic fancies, was his birthplace. Early in life his soul developed the wanderlust, and he turned toward the United States. St. Louis claimed Tom for its own, and here it was that he received his schooling. This completed, he turned his attention to the trade of watchmaker. Having a great love for music he spent many hours each day at the piano. Always possessed of an overpowering ambition for the stage, he spent his days at the jeweler's bench and his nights at the "show shops" doing extra work whenever opportunity afforded.

The inevitable soon happened. The jewelry business began to lose its hold on Tom and the boards claimed him. Theatrical experiences came fast and furious after that, and Tom always made good. One day he walked into the Selig Polyscope studios and announced that he was ready for work. He was tried out and put into "leads." Here he remained until he became leading man of the Western company, of which he was an original member. He accompanied the first motion picture camera man into California, and has remained in that fair land ever since.

Tom has an unusual talent for music, and plays almost entirely by "ear" and "inspiration," often improvising to the everlasting pleasure of his friends, who never tire of hearing him. Tom Santsehl holds the reputation of having played more different roles than any other actor in the moving picture business. His dressing room diary, which is incomplete, shows that he has portrayed over 1,100 different parts during his five years as a picture player.

The Selig Co. and Tom are inseparable, and neither is anxious to lose the other.

AD. KESSEL JR.

Mr. Kessel is president of the New York Motion Picture Corporation, and is acknowledged to be one of the shrewdest and most level-headed men in the film game. He has been a predominant figure among the Independent forces for some years. Outside of picture making Mr. Kessel's chief diversions are yachting and baseball.

P. A. POWERS.

A forceful, aggressive and resourceful man, of large and brilliant attainments, who stands to-day pre-eminent as a leader among the Independents in the motion picture field. Mr. Powers is president of the Independent Exchange.

FRANK A. TICHENOR.

Frank A. Tichenor has been in the motion picture business for the last four years.

When it was decided to hold the first international exposition of the motion picture art in conjunction with the third annual convention of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America, Mr. Tichenor was appointed chairman of the committee. Since then he has worked untiringly to make it the biggest kind of a success. It is not an unusual thing to see the lights burning in his office, in the German Bank Building, long after business hours.

The success this exposition is assured to be is greatly due to his efforts.

F. E. SAMUELS.

F. E. Samuels is well and favorably known among the exhibitors of not only this country, but of London, where he attended the Cinematograph Exposition at Olympia last March as secretary of the First International Exposition of the Motion Picture Art and representative of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America.

He is one of the pioneers of the moving picture business in New York, and as far back as 1900 gave exhibitions of moving pictures in the basement of The Fair, on Fourteenth Street, which was at that time a slot machine arcade.

Mr. Samuels is devoting his entire time at present to the coming exposition, and hopes to be able to make a good showing at the finish.

LOUISE VALE.

Louise Vale, the leading woman of the Pilot films, has become as great a success in the moving picture field as she attained during her starring seasons in the legitimate. Miss Vale has made great strides since she resigned her position as leading woman for the Rex films. Among her latest splendid performances in the silent drama are "Until Death Us Do Part," "The Governor's Romance" and "For Old Times' Sake." Her great experience as a dramatic stock leading woman has been of incalculable value to her in her new sphere, and the sumptuous gowns worn by her in pictures have won the admiration of picture "fans."

HOPP HADLEY.

Hopp Hadley, or Samuel Hopkins Hadley, Ph.D., as he is known in his home circle, was a showman of considerable prominence before he entered the moving picture field of endeavor. From public school to Pennington Seminary; from Pennington to New York University; from the University to the stage; from the stage to the front of the theatre; from manager to general manager of Henry D. Carey's Attractions; after which he built a moving picture theatre, and has been a lively member of the film fraternity ever since.

AMERICAN MUSEUM OF SAFETY PICTURES.

Purposing to gain the hearty backing of the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America in convention of the First International Exposition of the Motion Picture Art, at the New Grand Central Palace, New York City, week of July 7, the American Museum of Safety will show pictures illustrating the dangers of the street, especially to children. It is the purpose of the Safety Committee to get official confirmation from the Exhibitors' League of the movement to give free demonstrations to children in or out of school of the dangers of mutilation and death arising from congested conditions in the streets. These pictures will make clear to the most jejune intelligence how and how not to get off trolley cars and other vehicles, the dangers of stealing rides, and how roller skates may roll them into the grave or the hospital, via crushing wheels, etc., etc.

The American Museum of Safety have been assured of the hearty co-operation of local theatre owners to show these pictures at hours of recess or at other times. The purpose is now to make this co-operation, now principally confined to New York City, nation wide in scope. Being sure of places to exhibit the films, the Safety Committee will then go after the respective boards of education and persuade them to allot time in which the pupils may see with their own eyes how their little comrades lose their limbs and lives. The Safety Committee already has films illustrating street dangers, and to this library they will add.

It is the purpose of the officers of the American Museum of Safety to extend this movement further than to children only. With the financial aid of corporations having plants with machinery which expose their workers to injury or death they will carry this educational movement to adult minds. This method will reduce the number of cripples and lower the records of mortality.

HELEN GARDNER.

A motion picture actress of renown, who has made a sensational success as the portrayor of the title role in the big feature film production of "Cleopatra." Her latest and most notable effort is the lead in "The Wife of Cain."

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD ST.

(WILLIAM A. MATTHEWS, MGR.)

Lillian Bradley was a very proper headliner for the first half of last week's bill here, and not satisfied to live up to the prominent advance billing Manager Matthews had given her, why she "toppled the show" at Wednesday (June 25) evening performance, and was found capable of making a neat little appreciative speech to her audience and satisfying their wishes with another number. Miss Bradley has begun her career with bound and if she lives up to the adage that Frank Campbell told us about, as to women and wine improving with age, what a future this voice gifted girl has.

It was the first time we had seen one of Herr Matthews' shows thoroughly "held up" by a single or any other act, and so we must give Miss Bradley full credit for what she accomplished here last Wednesday night.

Major Doyle, Belle and Jones, singers and dancers, and the Three Lubins, dancers, ran the week for last two acts. (See New Acts for last two acts.)

The Major, though as diminutive in stature as ever, is growing fast in his ability to entertain. He sang a few songs and talked a heap on Tuesday, and he kept the house in continuous laughter throughout his bright monologue.

Herbert and Willin, black face comedians, the clever dancer of the team as a wench, are as speedy as their legs were in their first week, and they went over with their usual success.

Ed. C. Jordan and company, in a comedy sketch, entitled "Tom Katz's Night Out," and the Four Brass Band, completed a solid evening of good entertainment, and they also more fully reviewed on our New Act page.

Flossie Le Vere and her boys and Jack Strauss shared first honors on the incoming bill of Thursday, June 26, when the three "little blonde bunch of motion" from the minute she makes her first entrance until the last bow is taken. The two young men working with her are clever wooden shoe dancers, and the boys should pay a bit more attention to "making up." Jack Strauss had little trouble winning his way with that singing voice of his and a good Italian characterization.

The Goldie Boys, dancers; Harry Botter and company, in a family war, "A Matrimonial Bazaar," Bollinger and Reynolds, wire artists; Stayman and Hayden, comedy musicians, and Vera Bettina, singing comedienne, made up a bill that was not equal to the one that opened the week, but it was unusually good program of pictures helped out the weak spots very well.

Bill for first half of the current week includes: Charles J. Nelson, Jane Knowles and company, in "What Henrietta Did," Edythe Gibbons, the Stroud Trio, the Three Connors, Sieton and Toledo and Burton. For the last half, beginning Thursday: Francis Wood, Lawrence Gordon and company, in "Who's Boss," Rube Willis and Three Types, Alman and McFarland, "The Goddess Nicotine," and Big Jim.

HAMMERSTEIN'S.

(WM. HAMMERSTEIN, MGR.)

Sophie Tucker, after a long absence from New York, made her appearance at the house on the "Corner" the current week, and proved to be the same big drawing hit that she has been in the past.

Quinn and Quinn opened the show with a clever singing and dancing turn that pleased. Carl Green, the oil cartoonist, held over from last week.

Hanon and Clifton played a return engagement with their staid hand-to-hand act. Redford and Winchester entertained with their up-to-date comedy juggling act.

Frozin, the accordion virtuoso, was another hold-over.

Grace Van Studdford sang herself into the hearts of the audience with a repertoire of songs, and secured a tremendous hit. Nick's Roller Skating Girls, a sextette of stunners, held the audience all attention with their wonderful evolutions on the rollers, the dancing numbers were well executed, and the act scored.

Herbert and Clifton presented their dancing classic, "The Swan," which scored several weeks ago at the same house.

Doyle and Dixon entered on their second week.

Ben Welch, the Hebrew comic, never fails to go over big and was the same laughing hit he has been in the past.

Another act that is a repeater at this house is John F. Conroy, with his diving girls. This is a great tank act.

Don, the Italian dog, obliged with a few remarks in German.

The Marvellous Millers put over their latest evolutions in ballroom dancing, and should be marked down as equal to the best in their particular line.

Sophie Tucker received a wonderful ovation, this being her first appearance in this house in four years. She is the same Sophie Tucker, with the same great voice and the right idea of putting over the syncopated melody. Her selection of the popular rag order, and the audience didn't seem to get enough of her, as she had to sing seven songs before she could bow off. Frank Westphal accompanied her on the piano. "Floating Down the River" was a fine opener.

UNION SQUARE.

(E. F. ROGERS, MGR.)

A dozen electric fans, placed on the walls and fronts of the balcony of the theatre, huge exhaust fans in the dome, and palm-leaf fans placed at the disposal of every patron, make it possible, even during the thermometer's highest altitude, to enjoy comfortably the excellent performances now being given at this old-time but popular theatre.

For this week the premier position of the bill is justly accorded to the Manor Orchestra of seventeen musicians, the vocalists being John Lorenz and Frances Lloyd, the former a well known operatic tenor, while Miss Lloyd is very favorably known as a member of the Astor company. John Bradford is the conductor, and the title of the new production is "A Night at the Opera." (See New Acts this issue.)

A new one act dramatic playlet, entitled "A Close Call," received its first presentation here 30, by John de Persia and a capable little company of five people. (See New Acts, this issue.)

Armstrong and Ford, as "The English Johnny and the Cop," provided unlimited fun in their cross-fire of dialogue, the material being of a good order, and their work gave evidence of a sincere desire to please.

Gordon and Rice, in a cycling specialty, and Lorence and Gallagher, a new duo of eccentric comedians, were new here, Monday, 30, marking their first appearances here. (See New Acts, this issue.)

Miss Maxine and her company of six singers put over their songs and dances in good style, their whirlwind finish winning big applause.

Mildred Grover, in songs and sayings, did nicely with her songs, though she sang one too many, and should have retired on her third song. Her stories were too long, which caused them to cut interest.

The Musical Airline, a fair act, opening with banjo duets by the man and woman who compose the act. These were followed by piano and banjo numbers, and they finished with the banjos and imitations.

Thos. Potter Dunn, as a humorist, vocalist, and imitator of different nationalities, received a back seat for no one in present day vaudeville. His child imitation, the yodling song and the tipsy young woman on the car were quite perfect.

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL.

(CHARLES S. POTSDAM, MGR.)

While the show, at this cool resort, on Monday night failed to produce anything out of the ordinary, it enabled one to spend a hot evening in a pleasant and comfortable manner.

John Zimmer, a juggler, opened the show. He tossed his tricks frequently and did not leave a good impression.

The Newsboys Sextette are billed as "popular singers of popular songs," and this fully describes their act. All of them have good voices, and they work as if their lives depended upon it.

Durkin's dogs and monkeys pleased the children. The dogs, on Monday night, did not work with their accustomed ease, due, no doubt to the heat. One of the dogs does a fall that is one of the funniest things ever seen on the stage.

Corcoran and Lloyd are two young men who know how to dance. Their "chatter" they could well dispense with, for not only is it old, but it is unfunny. It was only when they danced that the audience appeared interested in their act.

The act of Dick Bernard is reviewed in our New Acts column.

The Tony Cornetto Trio is composed of two men and a mere mite of a girl. Just why Tony is one featured one of the act is a question for his assistants divided the honors. The act is presented in one, and is full of knockabout stuff.

The Eight Vassar Girls is a big "flash" act with fine electrical effects. It makes a pretty stage picture, and this lets it out. The dancing is nothing remarkable, and the playing of instruments proves conclusively that the girls will never gain fame as musicians.

Brown and West (man and woman) have a very pretty act that would have no trouble in getting over big on the big time. Both of them possess personalities and can dance skillfully. Their "kidding" is clever, and it contains many lines that only professional people comprehend. To the layman some of these lines are Greek, but to the show folks it is very funny.

Hanon and Clifton are gymnasts of a high order, and their stunts compel applause and amazement.

The bill for the rest of the week includes: Dena Cooper and company, Flerny and Sabott, Dick Bernard and company, Cowboy Minstrels, Billy Barlow, Brown and West, Frankie Drew, Three Gerts, Emmet and Emmet.

JARDIN DE DANSE.

Under the personal direction of Carter De Haven, the New York Roof has been transformed into a beautiful ballroom floor, and to the melodious strains of a twenty piece orchestra you can dance all the popular figures of the day, including the turkey trot, the tango, the dreamy waltz and two step. Between dances you can see one of the best cabaret shows in New York.

Carter De Haven has installed a restaurant service, and the wet goods to be had are of the standard of the best hotels in New York. The opening night, June 24, the "400" was well represented. Lawrence Waterbury, W. K. Vanderbilt and a number of well known society people paid the Jardin de Danse a visit, and if the management lives up to its present standard of excellence, this new De Haven and Morris enterprise seems assured of success.

The prices are just a little high for the regular Broadway speller, but the better class of patronage is desired, and the general outlook is that capacity business will hold forth. The cabaret bill includes: Joan Sawyer and Wallace Macoutech, Susanne Dunne, Roomora and Macrell's Models and the Dancing Higgins.

Academy of Music (Robert E. Irwin, mgr.)—The stock is presenting "The Deisters" this week. The part originally played by Helen Ware gives Priscilla Knowles opportunity to please her admirers, while Mr. Stetius has the opposite role. Allan Noe, Marie Curtis and Angela McCaull have prominent parts. James J. Ryan plays his original part as played by him in the production at the Hudson.

Brighton Beach Music Hall (C. S. Bred, mgr.)—The bill for this week includes: Vinie Daly, Ching Ling Foo and company, Billy Gould and Belle Ashlyn, Sophie Barnard, Lou Anzer and company, John and Mae Burke, Thos. French Girls, Ben Beyer and Brocton and Joe Welch.

Henderson's (Carlton Hoagland, mgr.)—This week's bill includes: Harry Fox and Jennie Dolly, "The Purple Lady," with Ralph Lynn, Prince Florio, the Stanley Trio, and Armstrong and Manley.

Madison Square Roof Garden.—The Wonderful Chinese Wishing Tree continues to be a favored attraction here. On Monday and Friday evenings amateur shows are added to the regular performance. Dancing in the moonlight and dining under the palms are features.

PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE.

(GUS MCCUNE, MGR.)

A fairly good sized audience, who were very liberal in applause, notwithstanding the hot weather, was in attendance here Monday matinee.

The house is one of the coolest in New York, being cooled by a patent apparatus that makes a difference of nearly twenty degrees from the street.

Talented Jean Weir and her excellent company presented one of the most interesting sketches that has ever been seen at this house. It is called "His Last Offense," and tells the story of two brothers, one being on the wrong path. Miss Weir, who plays the wife of the good brother, gave a very convincing performance, and one that stamps her to be an actress of the first water. She is the author and producer of the sketch. She has handled each situation cleverly, even to the smallest detail, and in consequence the audience, who thoroughly enjoyed the performance, gave her and the company several curtain calls. Of her support, William Chambers, who plays a dual role, was easily the best, and gave a meritorious performance.

As far as the audience is concerned William Slato, the Italian American, can come back here any time he pleases. The reception accorded him was a glorious one. He has a fairly good voice and puts over several songs with good results. His talk is bright and up-to-date, and went over with a bang.

Conroy and Le Maire, in their latest skit of ice, called "The New Bachelor," had a little trouble here as they do at other New York houses, in making the audience laugh. While they held the stage the crowd was in a convulsion of laughter over the many funny situations. The present act is easily the best they have ever been seen in.

The Modern Sengall, assisted by Elsie Terry, gave their mystery, and at its conclusion had the audience guessing. The act was played some time ago at an uptown house and met with fairly good results. Its presentation here was the best it has received so far.

John Cardo and Fritz Noll, in selections of operatic gems, was a big feature. The singing of both numbers was very much enjoyed. "I'm Falling in Love with You," a big feature, and showed what a splendid voice Mr. Cardo possesses. The offering is refined in every sense of the word.

McMahon, Diamond and Clemence, in their class singing and dancing specialty, have played almost every vaudeville house in New York, and are so well known that comment is unnecessary. Safe to say that they duplicated the success here that has attended their efforts at each house.

The Two Roses, in their musical specialty, are also well known in New York. Their offering is of high class and seldom fails to please. The cello playing, as usual, was a big feature.

Willie Gardner roller-skated himself into much favor. He demonstrated many fancy and difficult stunts on skates, and at the conclusion of his worthy performance received several encores.

Valveno and La More, in acrobatic feats, opened the show and proved that this spot is no hand-pick.

Ruby Lusby and Girls, in songs, were seen for the first time in New York. (See New Acts.)

The Paulham Team, who play basketball while riding bicycles, proved a big novelty. They played the show to the conclusion of their performance.

NEW BRIGHTON THEATRE.

(SAM'L MCKEE, MGR.)

There is a fine comedy bill holding forth at the handsome seaside theatre, presided at by Sam McKee, for the current week of June 30.

Zeda and Hoot, contortionists, were the openers, and fared exceedingly well in the number one position.

Innes and Loran were second, a little early for them. They were just themselves, a smart and classy singing and talking combination.

Julia Nash and company presented a comedy playlet, entitled "Her First Case." The sketch, in a trifle talky, but McKee makes the best of rather limited opportunities, and secures the coveted laughs mainly through her clever acting and intelligent reading.

Marcel P. Leslie and Henry Chesterfield capably filled the star.

Two men, billed as Sharp and Platt, eccentric German comedians, who played cornet and trombone as a finishing bit, were accorded a fine reception. This is evidently not the old black face musical act of the same name.

Hatley (M. H. Saxe, mgr.)—Miniature musical comedies, together with vaudeville and the latest photoplays are shown here.

Brown (Geo. Schenck, mgr.)—Loew's vaudeville, changed twice weekly, also latest photoplays.

A VISIT WITH DICKEY & TERRY'S COMPANY.

Our correspondent at Peoria, Ill., had the pleasure of attending a performance of Dickey & Terry's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" Company, under canvas, at Washington, Ill., June 23. The company are in their eleventh week, and business has been immense since their opening date, April 27. The management have given special attention to the parade this season, and many new features have been added.

The company numbers fifty people, and the roster remains the same as when opened: W. G. Dickey and E. D. Terry, proprietors and managers; A. C. West, business manager; Orion Lewis, stage director; E. C. Jones, band leader; Frank Laitenberg, orchestra leader; Guy Long, Niles G. Nelson, J. D. Wall, C. L. Wilson, F. S. Simpson, A. S. Carroll, W. H. Currott, H. V. Darr, Charles Elwyn, Arthur Lorette, Charles Jones, musicians; Mrs. W. G. Dickey, Mrs. H. V. Darr, Cora Darr, Corinne Dickey, Nettie Barnett, C. W. Bobbe, J. W. Beecher, Wilbur Ben-scooter, Charles Beechum, Mattie Butler, Bonnie Clark, Semoura Clark, Ethel Kenny, R. E. L. Wilson, Burt Tracy, Fred Lierle, Mrs. Chas. Beechum, Charles Helmer, Ralph Cline, Clark Gentry, E. L. Coup, John McVerry, C. W. Bobbe, Harry Armstrong, Robt. Parker and Corinne Snyder; Ed. Hale, candy butcher; Charles Thompson, boss canvasman; Dick Thompson, boss hostler; Phillip Green, master of properties; J. C. Admire and Fred Hofenstein, advance men.

The show is playing the larger one night stands in Illinois, and the press and public have praised the show all along the route.

C. F. Ackerman, of the "Uncle Tom" company, visited the show at Kokuk, Ill. Chas. Terry and son are at present the guests of his brother, E. D. Terry. E. C. Jones has leased the show for the winter season. It is Mr. Jones' intention to have one of the largest "Uncle Tom" shows on the road.

BLANCHETTE BATES and her company gave a performance of "The Witness for the Defense," at Salt Lake, Utah, recently, in their ordinary street clothes. The railroad company failed to get their baggage car placed for unloading in time and the wardrobe trunks didn't reach the theatre until the performance was nearly over.

mgr.)—This house closed Saturday evening, June 28.

Keith's Harlem Opera House (Harry A. Swift, mgr.)—Business has improved of late here. The stock company offers for this week, "The Eastway Way," with "The Million" to follow.

Keith's Bronx.—Re-opened with "The Battle of Gettysburg," pictures, at ten, twenty and thirty cents, on Monday, 30.

TOD'S TIPS.

JEAN WEIR, the charming Scottish comedienne, and her company are presenting "The Last Offense" at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, this week. I eased it to you not long ago that Miss Weir was working the wrong "time," Frank McCune says. Result—Now on the time she belongs.

MILLO BELDON and COMPANY are "decoy-ing sister" at the Temple, Detroit, this week. Miss Miller is the particular pretty girl who does the "sister" role to perfection.

BLANCHETTE COLVIN, one of the "winsomest of the winsome" singing comedienne, melodized another harmonious hit at the New Brighton, down at the beach, last week.

The Four Society Girls, a new singing combination, opened on the Sullivan-Conedine Circuit recently, and have been sort of "cleaning things up" ever since. The girls are: Melodie Miller, soprano; Bessie Franklin, alto; Eleanor Elliot, mezzo; and Geoffrey Alter, contralto. In "Chl." this week, at the Empress.

REBA and INEZ KAUFMAN, chaperoned by Mamma Kaufman, will sail for Europe for the eleventh time July 5, to hit contracts that will keep them busy abroad until late in 1915. These girls are without a doubt one of the few classy sister acts in the business on either side of "the pond." They recently finished another "big" tour over the Orpheum time, and landed in New York June 21. And now they blow right away again.

A couple of sweet girls, but what else could they be when one stops to consider Mother Kaufman. What a three act they would make.

ELISE MURRAY and GUY SWAYNE have added two swell numbers to their recently launched singing and dancing act. Elise is on a par with any of her sex when it comes to warbling or dancing, while Guy acts as pianist for breakfast, lunch and dinner, and steps in as a pair of "the boys" for C. Peebles is the bloke who quickly decided to handle this clever pair.

Mr. and Mrs. FRED THOMAS are still mourning the loss of little "Snookums," their fuzzy little poodle, who was killed by a street car in New York about a week ago. Out at their home at Bayshore, L. I., now.

GUS MCCUNE saw the Twenty-third Street show "stopped" Wednesday evening, June 25, and who does "that little thing" but Lillian Bradley, the prima donna soprano, who not so long ago did not fully realize what a beautiful voice was being hidden away from the public's appreciation "way down deep in that 'swanny' throat of hers. She was urged to drop down to a Fifth Avenue try-out show on Friday morning, and she was there. Then Lillian has been the song treat of every bill she has graced, she has. And now "wise guy" Gus is going to slip her into the Fifth Avenue Theatre, he is. And she will clean up, rest the same, she will.

MARYLLE ROSAR, of Rother and Anthony, is another inhabitant of Bayshore, L. I., every summer, and she is enjoying that invigorating atmosphere and farming along with Fred and May Thomas, her near neighbors. "Hidderest" is the handle to Marylles' bungalow, which the Rosars have christened their "Oudelight." Some things planned for "the grand old Summer-time" out there in that little Heavenly villa.

HARRY RAPP'S Three Kiddies act, which has a try-out at the Fifth Avenue Theatre, June 20, were announced for the regular bill at that house this week, but were replaced by Ruby Lusby and her girls at the last minute because a permit was not forthcoming.

EVELYN WAKE, one of our few real good comedienne, came with the Rosars to the patron of the vaudeville over there.

EILEEN ROSAR, who very properly filled principal roles with BILLY ALLEN's musical comedy productions last season, slips me an earful of what big things the Rosar Family are planning for their musical act for next season. The folks are enjoying these days at their cottage at Tottenville, Staten Island, and Eileen should worry about getting all sunburnt.

Continued from the hot spell, Gus McCune is thoroughly satisfied with what fruit he has plucked from these weekly gatherings, and they will be resumed on the same day of each week beginning the latter part of August.

Why Adolph Glose, father of Augusta Glose, is not being seen yet is a mystery to those who saw the performance he gave at a try-out way back on May 2. Why? So say we all of it.

JOE HERBERT and LILLIAN GOLDSMITH are still doing the big thing with "The Dance of the Siren." At Gus McCune's corner week of July 14.

FLANNY RUTLEDGE and JEANNE PICKERING are coming, including Harry and E. Gilmore, opened on the Proctor Circuit Monday, June 30, in their rural comedy sketch "A Fatted Calf."

HARRY WARDELL, late understudy for AL JOINT at the Winter Garden, will slip over an impression of that popular burnt cork comedian at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, July 10-12.

HELEN VIOLETTE, who played the role of the District Attorney in "Court by Girls," with Edw. Strauss, who played a Proctor's Fifth Avenue week of June 16, is hard at work rehearsing "some" act with Lena Pinaud, who gracefully kicked herself into daily hits as the witness for the defense.

RUTH WHEELER, who not long ago signed a contract "for life" with Harry Maxwell, recently shot me with the information that pretzels were good bait for catching bow-legged German eels. Naomi, the other half of the Wheeler Sisters, dropped me a card and told me different, and said the "grass grows green" all around their home in Philly, and as long as Harvey holds out with the mower and the hedge clippers they will continue to sprinkle the lawn with hair oil. Cook up another pill, James.

JIMMIE KENNEDY and MAUDE KRAMER will waken the show at the Fifth Avenue next week. This was predicted three weeks ago as their sentence.

SIDNEY AND TOWLEY EAST.

Sidney and Towley have signed under the management of Floyd Stokes, and are back in New York after a successful Western trip.

A WARRANT of attachment against Harold Thompson, manager of the Grand Opera House, Philadelphia, applied for last week by Bernard Blumenthal, in $1,077.66, which the plaintiff says the manager has owed him for more than two years. Justice Gieglrich signed the warrant.

MAX RABINOFF, according to a decision of Supreme Court Justice Gerard, will be obliged to submit to an examination, pending the trial of a suit against Rabinoff by Ben Atwell for an accounting and dissolution of partnership.

CIRCUS NEWS

101 RANCH NOTES.

(BY JOE LEWIS.)

The week of June 23 was tremendous in patronage, following the Ringling Bros.' Circus, and the performance was much pleased although the opposition was close.

The Fourth of July is near, and the little ones crave for the crack of the whips and jingle of spurs which hangs so sweetly in a pictorial display, cowboys, cowgirls and Indians mounted in parade, received many pleasing comments from the spectators on the curb. Some parade, some saw. It's a big-bang from start to finish.

The 101 Ranch Show train, outbound from Boston, was derailed near East Somerville while taking crossing, caused a late performance at Lynn, the following stand. There were three men hurt, two sent to the Boston Relief Hospital.

Al Hutchinson had his finger smashed severely. He is a performer well known to the profession, doing banjo and black face.

The performance was given to a packed house. To the quick management of Manager Bigsby all was in running order for the evening show.

Joe Lewis is now doing the Dutch cop in the Wild West. Watch him next season. No, watch him now. Some cop, hey!

Dan Dix, the silly yip and cowboy clown, is proud of the gold tooth placed this week in his mouth. "Rosevelt." Show your teeth, Teddy.

Chief Iron Tail, the Indian who now is famous for the new nickel, has this New York Clipper sent to him every week by the Indian interpreter.

Milt. Hinkle, cowboy broncho buster, joined the show at Boston.

Tex. Cooper, the noted cowboy, is contemplating placing an order for a new pair of shoes. Stauffer is some shap maker. Look out Stauff. Got me?

Chief Tephon says Russian tobacco is harmless. He is dreaming—dreaming. Mac. McCreary says, "Johnny Pheneas—says, 'should worry let Shorty do that. Shorty says a few more like Shorty and I will have to work overtime some hills."

Tommy Kirm, the noted trick rider, is laying off for a few days, as poison ivy got the best of him. Shorty Janick is filling his place until he returns.

McQuire and daughter, of Berene, were visitors at Salem, Mass. A guest of Chester Byers. Buster Mack, the pretty blonde cowgirl, and Billie Mack, found two bank checks valued at $1,200, at Gloucester, Mass., while on their way to the show grounds in the morning. They returned them to the owner, and received a reward. Billie and Buster are looking for checks every morning.

Dolly Clark shot herself accidentally while laying a revolver away at the matinee performance at Lynn.

Myrtle McBride is a new subscriber for this New York Clipper.

Mabel Oline has a pretty beauty mark on her left cheek. Don't blush, Mabel.

Miss Clyde Lindsay, the Cheyenne broncho buster, is still making them sit up and take notice in her daring riding and busting.

Weaver Gray can throw three ropes at one time on a running horse, some trick.

If you ever visit the 101 Ranch Show go in and hear Prof. Baker's Colored Concert Band, a feature band, playing all of the raggy, catchy ones from musicville. The comedians are: Frank Nash, Chas. Brown, Ernest Williams.

James Mitchell and the well known comedian, Sam Ford, who pour's the new songs down melody lane. They all present at one act of "Down in Dixie. Some singers, some dancers. They are real laugh makers.

Bill Gretz and Chas. Tipton smile at the good eaters, some cook house.

SIX IN ONE NOTES.

Wait until you hear the Scotch bagpipers play "The Cock of the North," in their new suits.

May Joe the three legged child, is off on a short vacation.

Capt. Claud is sure the Beau Brummell of the Six in One.

You ought to see the new pictures Jolly Maybelle has for sale.

Mile. Electra, (Mrs. Billie Warren) sure holds the crowds.

Billie Warren makes two hundred lectures every day.

Geon Milton longs for Buffalo Bill. "Why?" "Shorty," work the monkey.

Is Yellow "Jack," Mile.

The Mulligan Guards made their quarters at the Putnam Hotel, and found Prof. Fred Putnam one real fellow, as show folks is the centre of his organism. On the closing night he had the Mulligan Guards just chuck full of hospitality. Incidentally, Chaucery, to open, had best look to his laurels, as that man Healy is some story teller.

Happy Bunnell, the fashion-plate of the Mulligan Guards, is some shining light with that sparkler. How'dy, Butch.

Calvin Conlon, seventeen years old son of A. S. Conlon, the well known circus man, of 1337 Bardown Road, Louisville, Ky., was killed by a live wire dangling from a pole in the rear of the Conlon residence, afternoon June 7, while in the act of driving chickens through an alley. The boy brushed against the dangling wire, screamed and fell. He was dead when assistance came.

A. S. Conlon has been manager of the Sells-Floto side show for the past two seasons.

TWO BILLS AT TERRE HAUTE.

Rain had no effect on the Two Bills' Show, June 24, at Terre Haute, Ind., both performances showing to capacity. Col. Cody received a rousing reception as he appeared in the arena, and in a short speech introduced his partner, Pawnee Bill. Splendid business is reported. Col. Chas. W. Seeley left the show week of 23, for Montreal, on business.

Herbert Lerner now has a "Big Ben" alarm clock, as the other day he never woke up until after three o'clock, and everyone was wondering what happened to Herbert, when in he walked just in time for our wire act. Herbert wouldn't

HAGENBECK-WALLACE NOTES.

BY JACK MOORE,
(The Boy Wonder.)

Sunday we arrived in Utica at 1 P. M., and every one was all topped up to see the ball game that we had arranged with the Dearfield team of Utica, and this bunch certainly turns out when there is a ball game in sight, and when it comes to rooting they have got the world beat. The ladies were there in full force and made a pretty sight, all dressed in white, and they are not backward in rooting either. It was a great game and our boys worked fine. The game was a tie at the ninth inning so we had to play the tenth inning, and if it hadn't been for an error on our part we would surely have won the game, but as it was the score was 5 to 4 in favor of the Dearfield team. We were all in hopes that we would have a game with the B. & B. Show but they wired us that they had no team. But we hear, over here, that they have one. Now we are all wondering if they are afraid of being beaten.

Jimmie Ward was locked up the other day, but broke out with poison ivy, and is now a sight. Every time Jim sees any tall grass he shies. We are certainly having our share of raffles over from three week week. Lillian Kincald has been the lucky girl; so far she has won a diamond ring, last week, and a pair of diamond earrings this week. That is going some for luck. Now, she wouldn't make a chance on anything.

Mr. Griffin, the shoe man, was on in Utica for a visit, and he looks fine. He is sixty-one years old. He enjoyed our show and enough orders wouldn't make a chance on anything.

Tuesday, Oswego, N. Y.—A swell day, grassy lot and one block to the lake, which is fine for the boys, as they all enjoy a good swim on a hot day, and there was also a saw-mill just outside the dressing room, and the riders and acrobats were out on the sawdust pile doing stunts they never thought of before. Mac. McCreary is certainly getting to be some tumbler. Mac is a fine boy, and everyone likes him. Reno sure has cause to be proud of him as he is sure a coming rider.

Mr. and Mrs. Cole are entertaining friends and relatives here to-day at Watertown, and by the looks of the crowd I think his sixty-second cousins were all here, but I saw them all drinking lemonade and eating crackerjack, so I am sure they had a good time. They came over from Potsdam, N. Y., which used to be Bert's boyhood home. After the matinee I had the pleasure of meeting a few of them: Mrs. Le Lane, Bert's mother, and his charming niece, Lucine Senter, also Miss Wilson, who is a cousin, I think. Then there was a bunch of awfully good fellows among them that I remember was: Geo. Barnett, John Mullin, Wm. Floyd, Macdon, and so many others that I can't recall their names, but they were all real fellows, and by what I hear they had some time down at the hotel, between shows. Anyway I saw Bert, who is a good swimmer on a hot day, and a little while later Bert fixed him up, and he was right on hand when it was time to make his announcement and say, Bert is some announcer. The other day when announcing about the overland auto time, more than one old farmer put his hand in his pocket and start to draw out his bank roll.

We have just started a collection for the Fourth of July and we are sure going to have some fireworks after the show at night, and so many of them that I can't recall their names, but they were all real fellows, and by what I hear they had some time down at the hotel, between shows. Well, I think we have now got a bow canvas man who is Johnny on-the-spot with the canvas every morning and evening. Christmas is his name, and the boys all work hard for him, and they all like him.

Lots of birthdays. Three yesterday, Chas. Fisher, Sam Newman and our old friend Pete Cornella. They all told their age but Pete, and he says he is as young as he feels, and by the way he acts around here he must be a chicken. One of his boys let it slip, and fifty-three was the age, but say, when it comes to having a good time Pete has the young ones beat a mile, so I think he has the right idea.

Tony Tatt was the first to fall off the band wagon this season. Tony says it as good as a bank.

We passed the Ringling Show, Friday night, on our way to Amsterdam, we are having heaps of opposition with the B. & B. and Ringling Show, but it seems to make our business all the better, as our tents are full every day, so Uncle Ben should worry.

Our ball team has played two games this week and lost both games. Gee, boys, you want to get a move on you and get to be a regular team! There is going to be a wrestling match over here, between John Oulough, "Christmas," one of the good drivers, and the betting is pretty even so far, and I think it is going to be some-match.

Here is our regular Sunday "Mulligan" bunch, who have a good time every Sunday and who is royal chef: Red Hornet, Chas. Risher, Mr. Hagerman, Pete Marlow, Geo. Conners, Governor Wallace, Eddie De Voe, Max Allen, Fred Meyers, Sam Burris, Bill Sweeney, Chas. Carey, J. Murphy, Al. Massey, Mr. Turner, Pete Jenkins, A. Anderson, M. Davis, Sam Newman, Joe Prickett, Kid Kennard, "Chas. Bell, J. M. Marelli, Jack Ahearn.

Herbert Lerner now has a "Big Ben" alarm clock, as the other day he never woke up until after three o'clock, and everyone was wondering what happened to Herbert, when in he walked just in time for our wire act. Herbert wouldn't miss that for anything. But Herbert got with it as we were quite worried about you.

Well, this is Saturday, and to-morrow is the day we all wait for, as that is pay-day. Quite a number of folks are going to spend Sunday in New York, as we are only twenty miles from the large city Monday.

Well, boys, nothing to do until to-morrow. Say, if Jack's a herring is Sol Wise?

And has anyone caught little Jack Moore after five o'clock Saturday. Gee! but he was pale. Say, boys, that was one on me. Good night.

OKLAHOMA RANCH WILD WEST.

June 23.

The show, making a record business through Canada.

At Canora, Sask., 19, the stage-coach overturned in the arena, but no one was hurt.

At Winnipeg we turned them away for two days. On Monday, 10, we had to give two shows at night, to capacity business.

Bill Dearwin is getting the money on the uptown show.

Walter A. Shannon is a wizard at handling the crowds, and his side show is getting the money everywhere.

I received my button and card from The Showmen's League of America. I can boast of being one of the youngest members, being barely out of my teens.

Otto Klein, our champion, received quite a hand at Winnipeg. He is to defend his title there in August. Bill Burlock, our new press agent, is a wonder. His stories of the wild and woolly West wake the natives up along the line.

Eddie Brown our ever popular steward, sets a table fit for a king. "Kid" English, our head waiter, has a corps of efficient men, and sets a nice dining room, and good service. Muldoon is the assistant steward and chef, and is a real fellow.

Pete King has the fastest crew that ever handled a big top. Pete is the superintendent of canvas.

Georgie Mulhall and Charlie Mulhall joined in Thief River Falls, Minn., and are real features. Miss McGee and her high school horse, are "all there." The Kearneys are always favorites in pistol and rifle shooting.

Uncle Dan Boyington and his $10,000 troupe of mules are real favorites with the ladies and children. He has a feature act that would make your high school horses turn green with envy.

Ben Caspar has his four-in-one and his knife rack here and is one very busy man counting his money.

Al. Lewis and A. Woolf have concessions, and report good business.

Jack Lewis, our head porter, is the "the king of them all," and has a train I have ever had the pleasure of traveling on.

Lucille Mulhall, lady champion roper and rider, is the centre of attraction in the arena.

James Orr, our front door guard and press agent, broke his right hand playing baseball last Friday.

Chris Ayers has the inside concert tickets, and his boys get a record concert each day.

Fascha, the wire-haired man, is quite a novelty, and his lifting two ladies by his hair is nothing short of wonderful.

Prof. Horneum is a real fellow, and his comedy magic act is a riot. His flying lady or suspension act is good.

Leona La Marr, mind reader, and Belos, with her snakes, are features. Prof. Reed's hand and mindtricks are good. Geo. McCoy is leader.

"Jewell Jet" has a real feature named for the Winter season—Jewell's Lady Minstrels and band of ten pieces, playing the big and little. None too big or little.

RINGLING BROS.' SHOW NOTES.

BY HARRIS,
"That Southern Clown."

Mr. Vito left the Ringling Show in Springfield, Mass. on account of a sudden illness. We are all glad to know he is booked solid on the U. B. O. circuit. Luck to you, Vito.

Milares, the Mexican wire wonder, had an awful bad fall in Springfield, Mass., while doing his sensational high swing on the wire, but hopes to be back in a few days, greater and grander than ever.

Wm. Carroll, comely knockabout and producing clown, is still making good with the World's Greatest.

Ed. Walton is back with us again, after a few days of sickness. The Mange Club has lost all members (as well as their hair). Only one bottle of mange hair cure was bought (that was enough).

There is one little fellow on the show that keeps all the clowns guessing and he is no other than that funny little English clown, Paul Minno, producer of original clown stops. Next week I will endeavor to give to you a line-up of our undefeated baseball nine. And believe me it is some baseball team, too.

They are open to any and every team, and so far are champions, as they have won six games out of seven. Their last was with the Taunton, Mass., team of picked men. The score stood four to three in favor of the Ringling Bros. team in the fifth inning. Game called on account of darkness.

This is enough for this time.

MARCELINE INDOOR CIRCUS.

Marceline, the well known Hippodrome clown for several years, will head an indoor circus attraction on the Klaw & Erlanger time, under the direction of Z. M. Harris and Ted. Shaw, incorporated under the title of H. & S. Amusement Co.

101 RANCH IN SMASH-UP.

Three men were injured and a score of others badly shaken up June 23, when the 101 Ranch Wild West train was derailed on the Boston & Maine Railroad, near East Somerville, Mass.

TWO BILLS' SHOW IN CHICAGO. IN MELODY LANE.

SHOWMEN'S LEAGUE HONORS PRESIDENT CODY.

(Special wire to THE CLIPPER.)

The Two Bills' Shows opened a "Hot day" engagement at the Chicago Saturday afternoon, June 28, to an audience which was remarkably large, considering the extreme heat which prevailed. The night house was excellent, although it was apparent that the hot weather had a tendency to reduce the attendance. The business yesterday at both performances was good, and it is fair to presume that if the torridity subsides the big Wild West and Far East will round out a very successful Chicago engagement. The thing is certain, never was a better Wild West and Far East exhibition ever given in this city.

On Saturday evening, June 28, a luncheon was tendered by the Showmen's League of America to General W. F. Cody and official staff of the Two Bills' Shows on the roof garden at the Hotel La Salle. In the party from the Two Bills' Shows were: General W. F. Cody, Major Gordon W. Little, Louis E. Cooke, Major John M. Burke, Charles Thompson, Richard Radford, Harry Wilson, Johnny Baker, Charles Melius and Mesdames Little and Radford. Members of The Showmen's League of America who were there to help commemorate the occasion were: Chas. Andrews, first vice president; Warren A. Patrick, secretary; Walter F. Driver, E. P. Neumann Jr., H. M. Shoub, Charles Bell, Arthur Davis, Harry Prentice, Dave Edmunds, Fred L. Griffith, M. S. Rodick, A. K. Green, H. M. Howard, R. M. Bickert, of the United States Lithograph Company, and Edward Morrison, were also members of the merry party.

This morning at 11 o'clock a breakfast was given through the courtesy of the Hotel La Salle management to Gen. W. F. Cody and Major Gordon W. Little, in the form of a peace pow-wow.

Indiana, cowboys, cowgirls, prominent suffragette leaders and other noted personages made up the warm but happy party. Edward Litzinger, a prominent attorney of Chicago, presided as toastmaster, and opened the affair formally by presenting Gen. W. F. Cody, who responded with a brief talk expressing his gratitude in behalf of his associates and himself for the royal entertainment afforded him. After breakfast was served one of the Sioux Indian chiefs present spoke for his red brothers, his remarks interpreted by Red Feather. The chief expressed the good will of himself and his braves toward the white brothers, and his remarks fitted in admirably with the atmosphere of peace which predominated in all of the talks. Other noted speakers were: Prof. Frederick Starr, of the University of Chicago; Mrs. George Bass, a leading member of that organization; Major Gordon W. Little and Major Burke, of the Two Bills' Shows. Gen. W. F. Cody, who spoke last, in pursuance of a request by the toastmaster, gave a few of his intimate experiences with the Indians. The breakfast this morning was undoubtedly one of the most remarkable functions ever arranged in this country. Not a detail was overlooked to make the affair memorable.

To-morrow at noon the Hamilton Club will entertain President Gen. W. F. Cody, Major Gordon W. Little and executive officers of The Showmen's League of America at a luncheon in the clubhouse. Wednesday morning, at the Hotel La Salle, a suffragette breakfast will be tendered to President Gen. W. F. Cody, of The Showmen's League, by the ladies most prominent in bringing about the enfranchisement of women in Illinois. Gen. Cody will be the only male guest.

Among those who gathered at the Buffalo Bill peace pow-wow at the La Salle this morning were: Howard E. Eddy, president Chicago Association of Commerce; W. Rufus Abbott, secretary Industrial Club of Chicago; Guy Guernsey, president of the Hamilton Club; Wm. H. Austin, president of Indiana Society of Chicago; Charles F. French, president of the Irish Fellowship Club; Capt. Hicock, adjutant-general of the Department of Lakes; Virginia Brooks, settlement worker, and Nelson Lampert. Messages were read from Governor Edward P. Dunne and Mayor Carter H. Harrison, expressing their pleasure in not being able to be present. Moving pictures were taken of the event, as well as several still photographs of General Cody, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout and the Indian chiefs smoking the pipe of peace, probably the most interesting group of pictures ever made. WARREN A. PATRICK.

people went down to view them at one time or another during the day. Some question was raised as to whether there was another light on the band stand. I can definitely state that there is not, but have no doubt the brilliant myself lately. Don't know what it is. Now for the movies.

THOS. L. FINN SHOW NOTES.

Well, we are in our ninth week to capacity business. The show is as follows: T. L. Finn, owner and manager; Mrs. T. L. Finn, treasurer; Ed. Dunn, assistant manager; Phil. Holden, superintendent; Jack Camden, equestrian director; Jack Lewis, boss; and Jack Ryan, charge of big top; Kid Shaw, White, charge of side show top.

We have ninety-six people all told and one hundred and eight of stock. Our show is a parade is a hit all along the line. Parade consists of three bands and five open ends, seven cages, three canals, Cracker Jack, the boxing kangaroo, and the Far West. The side show is in charge of Manager Finn, who makes all openings, etc. Although the weather man has not been in our favor we have been playing to a R. O. business everywhere. At this writing everyone is well and happy and THE OLD RELIABLE CLIPPER is a welcome visitor every Friday.

ROBINSON WINS.

John P. Robinson, the Cincinnati circus man, won a $200,000 of assets in the stock of Mrs. Pearl R. Larkin and Mrs. Caroline R. Stevens, in the Ohio Supreme Court, at Columbus, June 24. The court held that Robinson does not have to account to Mrs. Larkin for $118,000, or to Mrs. Stevens for $120,750 in back dividends on stock. It also ruled that $40,000 in dividends accruing on each of stock, since the assets were again, goes to Milton Barker, assignee for creditors of Robinson. Mr. Robinson retains title in all the stock which had been in the name of his wife, who died intestate.

JACK HENRY SECURES THRILLER. Jack Henry, of the New York office of the H. B. Marinelli Company, and before that a circus man of wide experience, has placed under contract a genuine thriller. It is an automobile standing on a sort of lattice work, held by two poles about sixty feet in height. In this automobile is seated a young woman. The automobile will, at a given signal, receive eight times. Mr. Henry stated to a Clippers representative that in all his experience as a circus man that this was the most sensational thriller that he has ever seen. He will show it in Pittsburgh for two weeks, beginning July 14. A Clippers representative of the Ringlings will see it there.

GARTNER IN TROUBLE.

Alfred Gartner, who has been promoting a scheme for a gigantic permanent circus in New York, was arrested last week on the complaint of Nicol Gerson. Gartner's scheme called for the establishment of a circus to cost $5,000,000, which was to be a fixture in New York. Gerson claims to have given Gartner $1,500, and as he does not see any likelihood of the circus plans being carried out he charges Gartner with getting this money under false pretenses.

BEN ATWELL IN PICTURES.

Ben H. Atwell, whose press work in the interest of "The Whip" is now theatrical history, has resigned as general press representative of the stock & Gert, to enter the moving picture field. He will be connected with the Monopole Company.

TED S. BARRON BACK.

Ted S. Barron has returned from a three months' trip, and is once more looking after his music interests in New York City.

DOVE RETURNS TO FIELD.

The above doesn't mean that this popular Scotch-American minstrel is going to play baseball this season. Nothing like it. It is the simple announcement that Johnny Dove, after a pleasant and profitable season with our old friend, Al. G. Field, has re-engaged with that well known minstrel magnate to do his specialty, produce the dances and to further the Field interests generally. As all this calls for an increased salary, Dove feels happy enough to fly. Naturally.

TRY-OUTS AT HACKENSACK.

The Lyric Theatre, in Hackensack, N. J., opened Saturday evening, June 28, under the management of Hugh Otis, presenting Kine-macolor and black and white photoplays as the attraction. Later on Mr. Otis and Deland Howland, writer of sketches and songs, will put on new vaudeville acts and a miniature musical comedy and amateur productions in order to get them in shape for regular bookings.

Jas. K. HACKETT and COMPANY will head the bill at the Savoy, Atlantic City, next week.

SOME DOINGS.

The next few weeks will prove the busiest days for the music publishers, as all will shortly announce their new numbers for the coming season. Seligman before in the history of music have publishers so backward in announcing their new numbers. Heretofore the middle of June for the new songs on the market.

DO "SINGING SONGS" PAY? A question which has been discussed these days is about the money which is won cups and have proved to be a success.

To prove the point, a certain publisher has won cups with his song, and the publisher has won a cup, and still it is the biggest hit at the present time. The publishers are fast getting wise to these "frame-ups."

JOE SANTLEY WITH BROADWAY MUSIC CORP.

The boy wonder, Joe Santley, is now connected with the above firm, and extends a hearty welcome to all friends to pay him a call.

CHAS. MEYERS IN NEW YORK.

Chas. Meyers is in New York for a flying trip, to talk it over with the "big ones" there.

Raymond May, a favorite ballad singer of Chicago, is making them talk singing Chas. Meyers' "Goodnight, My Own," "Honey-mooning in the Sky With You" and "Just an Old Time Song."

KALMER AND PUCK HAVE NEW ONE.

"Who's the Girl?" is the title of a new song recently turned out by these rising young authors. Considering it has only been out about four weeks and the way it has been received, it will most likely prove a winner for the boys.

NAT VINCENT WITH BROADWAY.

Nat Vincent, formerly professional manager for the Ted Morse Music Co., is now connected with that enterprising young firm, the Broadway Music Corp. Nat thinks that "You Made Me Love You" is the greatest song ever written, and is telling hundreds of his friends that they can't do without it.

HARRY VON TILZER VACATIONING.

The man with a hundred hits, Harry Von Tilzer, is spending four days each week at his Summer home.

TED S. BARRON BACK.

After a tour lasting about three months, Ted Barron arrived in New York last Monday. He announces that he will shortly be back in business for himself. His principal numbers include:

"If Ever I Forget You," "Paradise for Two," "Let Me See Your Rainbow Smile," "In the Shadow of the Dear Old Blarney Stone," "How the Money Rolls In."

JACK DRISLANE CHANGES.

M. Witmark & Sons are fortunate in securing the services of Jack Drislane, who joined their staff last week. This boy is one of the fastest hustlers in the business, and should bring them in good returns.

MAX RITTER IMPROVING.

The friends of Max Ritter will doubtless be glad to know that he is rapidly recovering from his recent illness, and will shortly be on the job again. He is at present at home in Boston, Mass., with his folks.

WILL ROSSITER GOSSIP.

This is what Richard Henry Little, of the Chicago American, says of Nonette: "A lady with the whimsical name of Nonette succeeded in stopping the show at the Palace yesterday (Monday, 23) for several minutes, while the audience mostly applauded her songs." Her songs, be it known, were all branded Will Rossiter with "Floating Down the River" the prime favorite.

The Popularity Trio, three young ladies with charming personalities and melodious voices, will be booked exclusively by Harry Spingold, while Will Rossiter songs will predominate. Nelmeyer and Dunn report success extraordinary with "Floating Down the River." Edmund Seligman, having completed their time in Canada and the Far West, will now go on their park time in the Middle West, featuring "Floating Down the River."

Ollie Carey is enjoying wonderful success with two Will Rossiter numbers, namely: "Floating Down the River" and "Oh, You Wonderful Child."

"No song in years," writes Emma Carna, "has taken the fancies of my audiences like 'You Were All I Had.' It is a three act drama boiled down to five tense minutes of dramatic story and stunning melody."

HIT ACQUIRED BY STERN & CO.

"Harmony" Joe, the song sage of San Francisco, has been acquired by the "House of Hits." The original publishers, the White Music Co., sold over 100,000 in the few weeks that this song was on the market, but they found that their facilities were too limited to give the song all the publicity that they desired. Stern & Co. have put it among their big leaders. Band and orchestra arrangements have been issued, and it is one of the big favorites with turkey trotters. Vaudeville favorite singer, Sophie Tucker, has taken the number in rehearsal, and will make it her feature number in her coming engagements.

EDDIE LEWIS GOES TO BUFFALO.

Eddie Lewis, of the Remick offices, left for Buffalo, N. Y., June 28, to spend his vacation. Eddie will visit Niagara Falls, and expects to remain up State for two weeks.

A LONG REST.

Phillip Kahn, a music publisher, was found guilty of libeling criminally, Henry Russell, director of the Boston Opera House, and was sentenced to one year in the House of Correction.

WITH JOS. W. STERN & CO. Muriel Ringgold, with Will Cook's "Turkey Trot Opera Co.," is using "Junkman Rag" to great success, with Lucky Roberts (the boy who wrote this great song) at the piano, and Muriel singing it. This explains the repeated encores.

JAMES MURRAY is still with the Franklin Medicine Company, under the management of the Armond Bros., Ed. and Will, and playing the Racine and Kenosha, Wis., for the Summer.

The Musical Holbrooks play at Levermore's Cafe, Chelsea, Mass. They met many friends recently during the visits of the Ringgold and the 10th Ranch Shows.

William Zimmerman, manager of the Kingston Vaudeville Agency, began suit in Chicago against the Mills Novelty Co., owners of the Wonderland Theatre, for commissions due him for talent furnished to the theatre, and which was deducted from the performance salaries. Edward J. Ader, the Chicago theatrical lawyer, represented plaintiff.

DORIS WILSON AND COMPANY FEATURING STERN & CO.'S HITS.

One of the feature acts which were held over for a second week at Keith & Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre, New York, last season, was Doris Wilson and company, in the novelty presentation, "Through the Looking Glass." In it the company features Stern & Co.'s new success, "I Want to Be Somebody's Baby Girl," which they put over in great shape. An entire page on the program was given to the act and this song, creating considerable favorable comment.

SOLMAN COMING BACK.

Alfred Solman, who has been vacationing for the past ten weeks in California, returns to New York about July 10. During his tour Mr. Solman composed several ballads that he will place with his publishers, the Joe Morris Music Co.

SOME BOOSTER.

George Edwards, of the Joe Morris Co., is busy night and day placing his firm's numbers with the burlesque shows, and has met with good results. Almost every show in both wheels will feature the Morris numbers the coming season.

NEW PROFESSIONAL MANAGER.

Pay Evans, formerly professional manager for Gene Ellsworth, who is now playing in the Lyric Theatre, in Chicago, has been given a similar position with the Chicago publishing company. Mr. Evans is an entirely competent man in his line, and his addition to the Ells-Armstrong people should mean a great deal to that concern.

"On the Silvery Sea," a new song published by Ells & Armstrong, looks like one of the latest ones yet, and the Chicago crowd, which is considerable judge of music that sticks, are picking it up rapidly. Jane Barker is featuring it at the Planters' Cafe, in Chicago.

FRANK CLARK HAS SEVERAL NEW ONES.

Frank Clark reports that he is about to publish a new number by Breuer and Lee, called "Cheer Up, Daddy," another song full of Paul Dresser sentiment. The new ballad has a wonderful set of lyrics, and is just the style of song which is replacing so much of the ragtime with Chicagoans.

Another new but coming music publication is "I Wonder If You Will Miss Me, My Mother Used to Say," put out by the Frank Clark Music Co.

Helle Baker is using "My Boy" at Hammett's, in New York.

WITH THEO. MORSE IN CHICAGO.

The Theo. Morse Music Co. carried away second honors in the song contest at the Lyric Theatre, in Chicago, last Wednesday night. The sweet singing of "Dear Old Girl," by Vera Hill, won the honors.

Gilbert Hosce, the triple voice vocalist, reports "Dear Old Girl" a tremendous hit for him.

The Sailor Four are featuring Theo. Morse's big song, "Robbin' Up and Down," and went big with it at the Thalia Theatre, in Chicago.

Vera Long, at the La Salle Roof Garden, has them all commenting on Theo. Morse's ballad, "Dear Old Girl."

WENRICH-HOWARD DOPE IN CHICAGO.

Blatchford Nelson, lyric tenor, while playing at the Casino Theatre, in Chicago, last week, was a good booster for Wenrich-Howard, featuring "Kentucky Days" and "Tennessee Moon."

Elizabeth Glover, orchestra leader at the Academy Theatre, in Chicago, has been featuring all of this firm's numbers, for which they extend their sincere thanks, and desire to see her there again when the house re-opens.

Chris. Smith, leader of the Kedzie Orchestra, in Chicago, has also been programming Wenrich-Howard numbers for some time, and has complimented them upon their publications.

Ask that classy sextette in the Casino, at Forest Park, which is composed of those clever girls, Baker, Cameron and Estelle Wynning, and Shepard, Gerard and Toolin, whether "Kentucky Days" and "Tennessee Moon" is a hit for them or not.

Lou Chila, the great xylophonist, featured "Snow Deer" at the Garfield Theatre, in Chicago, last week.

Eddie McDonald, at the Revere House Cafe, in Chicago, is a hit with "Tennessee Moon" and "When It's Moonlight in Mayo."

"PULLMAN PORTERS" SURE TO GO OVER.

There isn't the least doubt in the minds of any of the wise ones but what Maurice Abraham's latest song "The Pullman Porters on Parade," will prove one of the biggest hits on the market the coming season. The song has only been out about eight weeks, and shows up better than anything on the market. "Oh, You Million Dollar Doll" another by the same writer, is also showing up same, and promises to be the firm's second best set.

OPENS MUSIC PUBLISHING.

The Popular Music Pub. Co. has opened new offices in the Regal Building, and expects a heavy week's business. The firm's legal numbers include: "When I Found," "My Harlem Cuckoo," "I'm Stilla," and "One Little Girl Is the Right Little Girl," are going over immense on the big "John Fisher," one noted pianist, is on the staff, with Sidney Vorisner, the industrious and ambitious plugger, in charge of the professional department.

GOING BIG.

Shapiro, Bernstein & Co.'s latest ballad, "It Takes a Little Rain With the Sunshine," written by Harry Carroll and Ballard MacDonald, is showing wonderful results in a short space of time and if it keeps up at its present rate of speed it will prove another "Lonesome Pine" for "The House of Hits."

CANT BE STOPPED.

"Mammy Janny's Jubilee" Gilbert and Mull's last song hit, is being featured by hundreds of big time acts all over the country. Last Sunday one of the boys from the Mills house singing with the band at Luna Park Coney Island, had to sing the chorus six times. This is indeed a record, as seldom will the management of this resort allow any singer to repeat more than two encores.

IRVING BERLIN IN EUROPE.

Reports have it that one of America's leading composers is cleaning up on the other side. I wonder if they mean Irving Berlin.

THE FLYING MARTINS, high trapeze artists, who are both Trenton, N. J., boys, and graduates of the Woodside Athletic Club of that city, will head the Union Square Theatre, New York, week of July 7, and on Tuesday, July 15, will sail for Europe, where they are booked for ten months. Negotiations are pending for their appearance in South Africa and Australia.

PAULINE WELCH, in private life Mrs. Bud Fisher, was badly hurt early on the morning of June 26, at the Piedmont Hotel, Atlanta, Ga. She was going for water with a pitcher containing ice, and slipped and fell. The pitcher broke and a jagged piece cut her throat. It was feared she would die, but the doctors report that she is recovering.

ANDERSON'S GAIETY THEATRE, IN SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

G. M. Anderson, known to devotees of the "movies" from one end of the country to the other as "Broncho Billy," and outside his photoplay acting hours one of the two business heads of the Essanay Co., will endeavor to demonstrate in San Francisco that if a rule holds good in one reading it ought to also in the reverse. In other words, Anderson, the film magnate, has magnate, has made his motion picture millions in a "legitimate" theatrical project, now on its structural way to completion.

This, of course, is at variance with the present rule, from which Anderson has been "banned," leaving the end to the area of the films. Klaw & Erlanger have taken a dip in the motion picture field, a thing entirely outside of their previous operations; Daniel Frohman, always identified with the highest sort of dramatic production, now controls the destinies of the "Famous Players" Film Company; A. H. Woods, the aggressive producer of some of the best attractions now being shown to the public, has established a chain of motion picture houses in Europe, and has made a fortune in the motion picture field, a thing entirely outside of their previous operations; Daniel Frohman, always identified with the highest sort of dramatic production, now controls the destinies of the "Famous Players" Film Company; A. "We will make New York productions in San Francisco, and have already contracted for eight new musical comedies to be done here simultaneously with the New York production. I have also contracted with several of the important song writers for their material, which will enable me to have the songs rendered here long before they are published or even heard anywhere else. "The Gaiety will be the house of variation, as we will continually give the public new material. Our aim is to give two dollars' worth for just half the price, by the best talent that money will buy. "Mr. Rosenthal will be in New York in a few days to complete negotiations with several big musical comedy stars for the initial production. The only definite engagement made so far is Rock and Fulton. "When I return to San Francisco, about the middle of August," said Mr. Rosenthal, "and the list of people is announced, the theatregoers of San Francisco, I feel sure, will be more than delighted. "The Gaiety will open in October.

AL SHEAN will be a prominent member of the musical stock company to be installed in Anderson's new Gaiety Theatre, San Francisco, as already noted in THE CLIPPER. William Rock and Maude Fulton are also members of the company. FRANK HATHAWAY writes: "Was forced to close Hathaway's Theatre Co. because of the sudden illness of Mrs. Buckley, piano player. However, we will open as soon as I get people. The company was doing nicely through Vermont."

YOUNG BUFFALO WILD WEST. COL. CUMMINS' FAR EAST AND V. C. SEAVER'S HIPPODROME.

BY AL. THIELHAR.

BANGOR, ME., Sunday, June 29. Am a little afraid the Young Buffalo correspondence will be somewhat short this week, because there is virtually nothing to tell but the old story we have repeated here the last three or four weeks.

Beautiful weather and big business. Yesterday was particularly flattering. We showed Portland, Me., two weeks after Ringling Bros., and one day before the 101 Ranch, to capacity business, both afternoon and evening sessions.

Last Sunday we were in Farnham, P. Q.; small and very quiet little place that is, full of excitement once a year, when the militia makes its Summer camp there. There were several regiments of the Canadian militia there, taking their yearly course of study in things military, and among the instructors were found several of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, who had met in St. John's a week previous. These boys are very much interested in our "movies," so we put on a new film for them that evening.

Some races between local horses were pulled off at Farnham on Sunday, and Vernon Seaver Jr. entered to win second in two heats. The youngster showed considerable skill in the management of a mount, and won the race with very good horses and more experienced drivers.

On Wednesday, 25, we returned to the States, to Island Pond, Vt., and while Canada treated us as a novelty, here we were met by a big crowd, and we were all very glad to see the good old "Stars and Stripes" at the head of the parade again.

Col. Cummins left the show at Lewiston for Portland to see the Canadian troops, and prepare for our coming the following day.

While at Portland I had the pleasure of meeting John P. Mulany, Bangor, Me., correspondent for THE CLIPPER. Mr. Mulany and his little daughter witnessed the afternoon performance, after which Mr. Mulany and myself had a very enjoyable little chat on the general superiority of Clippers men over the rest of humanity.

Mrs. Seaver, with Vernon Jr., and Mrs. Col. Cummins and daughter, Lois, spent our Portland day at Old Orchard-Beach, one hour's trolley ride from the city, and a very famous old watering place.

Joe Miller, of 101 Ranch fame, was a visitor in Portland. Mr. Miller was on the lot all day, guest of Mr. Seaver and Col. Cummins, and was very lavish in his praise of our show and show. This was indeed praise, coming from the proprietor of such an organization as the 101 Ranch Shows, for if any one is a judge of these things it certainly is Mr. Miller.

To our lasting grief and regret one "Dusty" Hemstreet, worthy Grand Commander of the G. M. Society, and one of its most active workers, left us at Montreal. Dusty was announcer, and routed the parade, but the cause of his departure is yet a mystery, for we have heard not a word from him, but it is suspected that he transferred his affections to the Pickney Wild West Show, now playing Dominion Park. Dusty is the sort of the card, and while our loss can be somewhat mitigated by more announcers, we are glad if he has been benefited.

While at Shawanano Falls, P. Q., we were treated to one of the sights of Canada. The falls are located about a mile and a half from town, and with the wonderful scenic setting they are in form a most beautiful sight. About five hundred yards above the falls are two large iron flood-gates, three of which were open. These gates release the water from above to go tumbling down in immense volume toward the falls through a rocky canyon perhaps two hundred yards in width. Arriving at the falls the water drops one hundred feet into a basin studded with huge rocks, and this with the pine clad mountains rising sheer on three sides, makes a very beautiful and impressive sight. Practically all the show

HALLEN AND HART TOGETHER AGAIN.

STOCK NEWS

PAUL SCOTT NOTES.

Janita Owens was specially engaged by Manager Clarke Brown to play Mrs. Bannan, in "The Country Boy," leaving 23 for Montreal, to attend rehearsals there, and will appear in the part this week.

Edna Darling is playing Mrs. Stanton, in "A Woman's Way," with the Malley-Denison Stock Company, at Newport, this week.

Frederika Slemmons is playing Lizzie, in "The Lottery Man," with the Savoy Theatre Stock Company, at Fall River, Mass., this week.

Miss Slemmons made an individual hit in "Ann Boyd," when Lucille La Verne produced her dramatization of the book at that name at Wallack's Theatre recently.

Lorna Elliott, Robert Le Sueur and the company which has been for the past five weeks at the Lyceum Theatre, Bayonne, N. J., are continuing to please good audiences.

Carol Arden, Willard Blackmore, Frances McGrath, Nellie Young, Fred House, P. S. Whitman and Cecil Kohlhaas were seen in the original production of "The Squall," when the Blair Parkers new rural drama, when it was played at the Empire Theatre, Paterson, N. J., last week.

Grace Leath Hodgkins and her daughter, Marie, have been signed by the United Amusement Company to play Mrs. Wiggs and Love, in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," next season.

STOCK AT LONG BEACH.

The Long Beach Dramatic Stock Company, in "A Butterfly on the Wheel," being presented with a cast including Mary Boland and Edwin Arden in the leading roles, opened June 28. The Long Beach Pavilion, is located on the Board Walk, with a well equipped stage. The auditorium is a canvas affair, seating 700.

Olive Temple and Lucia Moore play the roles they created in the original New York production.

On Wednesday evening, the second production will be made in "Comes the Conquest." The cast will include: Mary Boland, as the Comtesse Nina di Lorenzo; Edwin Arden, as Giorgio Riccardi; Jack Stanton, as Silvio di Lorenzo; Regine Wallace, as Bianca; Don Hancock, as Giuseppe; and Joseph Allenton, as the Footman.

The performances on Wednesday and Saturday evenings begin at 8 o'clock, and dancing until 12 will follow, dancers being required to appear in evening dress. The Sunday evening performances start at 8.30. Senator Reynolds, president of the Long Beach Estates, will donate the pavilion, with music, one evening in each week, free, for the help of the Long Beach residents, for a dance all their own.

THE CHICAGO STOCK.

The Chicago Stock Co. (Chas. H. Ross, manager) will close the present season Saturday, July 5, after a successful tour of forty-nine weeks, during which time the company has permanently located in Boston and Niagara Falls, together with a road tour taking the rest of the time. During the season the company has successfully produced "Lobster & Co.'s," "The Fourth Estate" and "The Battle of Shubert's comedies, 'Girls' and 'Going Some,' the rural plays, 'The Dairy Farm' and 'York State Folks,' the De Mille success, 'The Sign of the Cross,' 'Charley Ball,' 'Henrietta Crossman,' 'Sham,' 'Maxine Elliott's successful play, 'Myself, Bettina,' and many other recognized offerings of the same class and prominence. The company will be held off until Aug. 4, when Mr. RossKam, president, opens the season with a larger cast and one of the greatest lists of plays obtainable, for which the mechanical staff will be kept busy during the Summer building.

WINIFRED ST. CLAIRE NOTES.

E. D. Sipe writes from Danville, Ill.: "The company closes here, and we will take a four weeks' vacation on the Great Lakes, taking thirty days. I have three scenic artists that started to work this morning, all the scenery is to be re-painted and re-built, I have three workmen repairing and re-covering all of our scenery, fourteen sheets in all, and six exteriors, so that next season when we come out we will no doubt be the largest and most completely equipped traveling stock organization in the United States. We will also play the East again this season, as Miss St. Claire certainly gained an enviable reputation for herself in that territory last season."

FOUR A WEEK AT LONG BEACH.

The Long Beach Dramatic Stock Company will continue to give performances every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday evenings and Saturday matinee, with extra performances on holidays during the season. "A Butterfly on the Wheel" is this week's attraction, to be followed by "Comes the Conquest," and thereafter, in the order: "A Woman's Way," "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," "Divorçons," "The Fortune Hunter," "Jimmy Valentine" and others. Boland, Olive Temple, Lucia Moore, Regine Wallace, Katherine Irving, Edwin Arden, Jack Stanton, Kenneth Hunter, Edwin Mordant, Charles Harbury, Don Hancock and Joseph Allenton, engaged especially for the respective plays, all under the personal direction of Edward Elmer.

"FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY," Geo. M. Cohan's famous musical play, was produced by the Cal. Smith Stock Co., at the Hippodrome Theatre, Reading, Pa., last week, to capacity at every performance.

FRANCIS SAYLES PLAYERS.

The Francis Sayles Players presented "Our New Minister" at the Murray Theatre, Richmond, Ind., last week, to the largest business of the season. The house was sold out five nights, and the three matinees were capacity. Mr. Sayles surprised his many Richmond friends by appearing as the Constable. It was his first attempt at a part of this kind. However, he made good in it, and the newspapers of the city gave him long notices on the part.

Otha Worth is doing the leads and making many friends each week by her excellent work. Meta Eyerth replaced Agnes Earl. Other members of the company are: Pauline Le Roy, Evelyn Kincaid, Rose Pullen, J. J. Flynn, Sam E. Wilson, Joe Schaffer, Carl Adamson, Cash Toulisson, Carl Ruyon. The scenery is being built by Charles Pullen, and painted and designed by Charles Beckan. Dave Heilman is looking after the business end for Mr. Sayles. Mr. Sayles has contracted for the following plays for the next five weeks: "The Square Man," "Alias Jimmy Valentine," "Pals in Full," "Brewster's Millions" and "The Barrier."

So well pleased is Mr. Murray with the company that he has arranged with Mr. Sayles to play his house until the first of the year, which will make the longest run any company has ever had in Richmond. In fact, this is the first time that a company has ever attempted to play one bill a week in as small a city as Richmond. However, Mr. Sayles is now in his tenth week, and has been doing capacity.

"EASIEST WAY" AT BUSHWICK.

At the Bushwick Brooklyn, this week, Mabel Montgomery is playing Laura Maudslayi, in the Belasco play, "Caroline Locke," as Edith Sinclair; Kate Blanche, as Annie; M. J. Briggs, as John Madison; Wm. Macaulay, as William Brockton; and Mr. Ewatts, as Jim Weston, assist.

BAUGHMAN-GUSTINE STOCK CO. NOTES. From Carrollton, Ill. We just closed our seventh week of capacity business. While this part of the country is suffering from the want of rain, so far it has not affected us any. We recently ordered a new thirty foot middle piece of the native that concrete to see the best little "rep." show in this part of the country. Mr. Gustine, who has been staying at home this Summer so that he can look after the booking of the Winter show, came on to see us on Saturday, June 14, and to the delight of all the people brought us good old "joy water." Homer Swadley and wife recently joined us.

HARRY J. PAMPLIN, who is directing the Majestic Stock Co., at Texas City, Tex., reports business good. Mr. Pamplin (Lola S. Hayward), with Master Hayward Pamplin, joined the company early in July. The company are playing at the U. S. Amusement Park, owned and controlled by E. T. Gilot, of Texas City. ISABELLE F. ABEARN will spend her vacation with her father at the Atlantic House, Matunock, R. I.

GRACE SCOTT will head the permanent stock company which will open in H. G. Sommers Auditorium in South Bend, Ind., Sept. 1. The company will be made up of: "We have a $5,000 bungalow at Highland Park, Detroit, where we will spend our Summers. We have our own stock company, and are playing to capacity business, but will take the road in the Fall. The Old Reliable reaches our bungalow in time to cheer us, every week."

BEN GREY'S morality play, "Everyman," was the attraction last week at the Grand Opera House, Pittsburgh, Pa., with Sarah Truax in the title role. The piece was under the stage direction of Thomas Coffin Cooke. This week they have selected for Lola Truax's farewell performance in Pittsburgh, Charles Hoyt's famous satire on the suffrage question, "A Contented Woman."

"OUR NEW MINISTER" was produced last week at the Murray Theatre, Richmond, Ind., with Francis Sayles playing the leading part. For week of July 7 the Columbia Players will produce John Drew's success, "My Wife," at the Columbia Theatre, Washington, D. C., with A. H. Van Buren, Everett Butlerfield and Jesse Glendinning playing the leads.

"MADAME X" was produced for the first time at popular prices at the Seattle Theatre, Seattle, Wash., last week, under the management of Bailey & Mitchell.

"C. O. D." Frederick Chapin's play, had its fourth and last week at Morosco's Burbank Theatre, Los Angeles, Cal., to capacity at every performance.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER" was played last week by the Horne Stock Co. at the Colonial Theatre, Akron, O.

Jack H. Kohler is endeavoring to secure a theatre in Oshkosh, Wis., for the purpose of installing a permanent stock company there.

"BEVERLY OF GRAUSTARK" is being played this week by the Albee Stock Co., at Keith's Theatre, Providence, R. I., under the management of Chas. Lovengren.

"THE FORTUNE HUNTER" was the attraction last week at the Dominion Theatre, Ottawa, Can., under the management of Clark Brown.

"ARE YOU A MASON?" was given last week by the Lucille La Verne Co., at the Academy of Music, Richmond, Va., with Thomas A. Wise in the leading role.

"THE BONSTELLE CO." opened the season last week at the Garrick Theatre, Detroit, Mich., in the comedy drama, "The Mariettes," as played by Madame Nizanova.

"THE GREAT DIVIDE," with Bradman Tynen and Florence Stone, was the attraction last week at the Utah Theatre, Salt Lake City, under the stage direction of Dick Fortis.

"FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY" is the attraction this week at Keith's Theatre, Toledo, O.

ROMA READE AND COMPANY, in "Monte Cristo" last week, at the Grand, Ottawa, scored a great success. All the members of the company appeared to advantage.

"THE MAN WHO OWNS BROADWAY," another Geo. M. Cohan's stock success, makes the third Cohan piece that Ralph Kellard has produced at the Empire Theatre, New York, from the other two being "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" and "Fifty Miles from Boston."

"MARY JANE'S PA," by Edith Ellis, is the attraction this week at the Wieting Opera House, Syracuse, N. Y., under the management of Wm. J. Carey.

"ARE YOU A MASON?" by Leo. Dietrichstein, is the attraction this week at the International Theatre, Niagara Falls, N. Y., with Mae Desmond and John Rigney in the leading roles. The company is under the management of Dan Feeley.

"A TRIP TO CHINATOWN," by Chas. Hoyt, was selected by John Craig to close his season with at the Castle Square Theatre, Boston, Mass.

"MADAME SHERRY" is underlined for an early production at the Jefferson Theatre, Portland, Me. This house is under the management of Julius Cahn.

"THE HAVOC" was the attraction last week at the Imperial Theatre, Chicago, Ill., with Marie Nelson and Rodney Ranous playing the leads. This week the same stars will play the piece at the Victoria Theatre, Chicago, Ill.

"GUEST" STOCK IN DETROIT.

The new Washington Theatre, built by Detroit capitalists, will be operated by Wm. Morris, opening July 21. The theatre seats 2,000, and is described as the handsomest playhouse in the Middle West.

A permanent stock company will present standard and modern drama, with an occasional musical play. Each week will show a different star. Thus far four have been placed under contract. James K. Hackett will be the first "Guest." Then will follow Louise Gunning, Amelia Bingham and Cecilia Loftus.

"LITTLE JOHNNY JONES," by George M. Cohan, is being played this week by the Lytle-Vaughan Co., at Harmanus Bleecker Hall, Albany, N. Y., with Mr. Lytle and Miss Vaughan playing the leads.

"UNDER SOUTHERN SKIES," the best story of Dixie, by Lottie Blair Parker, was the attraction at Poff's Theatre, Springfield, Mass., last week.

"FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY" is to be produced shortly at the Bentley Grand Theatre, Long Beach, Cal., under the management of Captain Ament.

THE LA ROY STOCK CO. NOTES.—We are playing to capacity in Ohio mining town, and improved business makes necessary the addition of the big top 40x100 feet. We are in Pleasant City week of June 30. Mr. and Mrs. York and the child artist, Baby Dorothy joined 16, and H. Wolf, trombone player, was added to the band 23. The band is under the leadership of Terry Lane.

Roster: Harry La Roy, manager, and F. J. York, press agent; Terry Lane, Earl White, Jack N. York, and John Sheridan, Herbert Wolf, Chas. Marselles, Emma A. York, Baby Dorothy York Luella Sheldon, Blanche White, "The little favorite," Marie Hayes. THE CLIPPER comes as regularly as the ghost walk.

MAJOR, leading woman of the B. F. Keith Harlem Opera House Stock Co. will leave that organization after the performance next Saturday evening. She will spend a short vacation at Casco Bay, Me., returning in time for rehearsal of "The Silver Wedding" in which she is cast, and which opens at the Longacre Theatre on Aug. 11.

For their farewell week at the Saxe Theatre, Milwaukee, Wis., the Saxe Players, under the management of John Sheridan, are playing "The Lottery Man," Rida Johnson Young's farce.

"HAWTHORNE OF THE U. S. A.," the patriotic play of romance and laughter, is the attraction, this week at the Lyceum Theatre, Rochester, N. Y.

MR. AND MRS. JACK GRAHAM, formerly of the Whitehead Straus Stock Co., at Attleboro, Mass., were recently made the parents of a son.

"FLORENCE" opened the comic opera season at the Walnut Park Theatre, Pittsburgh, Mass., last week, under the management of W. W. Sargent.

"FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY," with the Honey Girls as an added attraction, filled this week at the Grand Theatre, Sacramento, Cal., under the management of Ed. Redmond.

SELIG NEWS.

Mrs. Otis Skinner Scenario Writer.
The Selig Polyscope Co. has announced for release on July 19, a two reel drama from the pen of Mrs. Otis Skinner, entitled "The Neer To Return Road." This is not the first time this brilliant and accomplished woman has placed her pen to paper for dramatic purposes, but it is practically her debut as the scenario writer for a pictorial play. The subject is particularly strong in the moving quality of "mother love." A tragedy perpetrated and one imminent, add to the intensity of its interest.

Last week Manager Tom Persons, of the Selig branch of Chicago, sent a carload of animals to the Selig animal farm at Edendale, Cal. Among the animals listed was the wonderful baby elephant, Annie May (only four feet high); a pair of most magnificent royal Bengal tigers that ever came from the Hagenbeck Zoological Gardens, of Hamburg; a mountain lion, a sacred cow, a pair of bear cubs, and a number of smaller animals. The baby elephant, Annie May, will soon be utilized in a picture play, with "Baby" Lillian Wade, at the California studio.

ALTHOUGH the Selig Polyscope Company has the largest skylight of any structure in Chicago, the intense heat of the first few days of last week was not as perceptible as might have been anticipated by reason of the fine new cooling plant that has been installed in the building, supplying cooled air to the studio.

The Farnums With Selig.

William Farnum and his brother, Marshall Farnum, stalwart favorite actors, associated with many dramatic successes, have been now engaged by the Selig Polyscope Company, for some special productions that will be made at the big Selig plant in Los Angeles, Cal. They will begin work there July 8, in a new pictorial version of "Vincet Church," the most famous American novel, "The Crisis."

Selig Releases Week of July 14.

At the present all the world is on wheels, consequently there is an almost universal interest in a railway drama. The Selig Polyscope Company have a unique play of this class, called "The Only Chance," that will be released July 14. In this remarkable film, a lineman makes a thrilling run on an up-to-date electric handcar, catching an express train running sixty miles an hour, and averting a terrible calamity.

In an eminently practical age, symbolism that points a moral is reliable for its accessible qualities. Such is the investment of "The Tree and the Chaff." This petite tragedy lists the wholesome person of Kathryn Williams as the good spirit, and Barney Sully as the bad. The story is of a God-fearing deacon. He stands for chance-blown chaff of fate. The good influence eventually lifts him free from the evil and worthless chaff to which he has given himself. "The Tree and the Chaff" will be released July 15.

A wild Irishman, whose dream of political ambitions reaches to the presidency, thinks he has attained this high office during his noon-day nap between trips of his hod to the top of a building in the course of erection. He surrounds himself with a bunch of "hannal mouths" and "low-brows," who proceed to play ball with politics. The only thing he really accomplishes is to settle the hod-carriers' strike, when the boss wakes him up with a kick. On this same reel is an educational subject of interest, "Fancy Fowls." This reel will be released July 16.

"Put to the Test" is a pathetic play with an admirable plot, showing the occasional obstacles placed in the way of artistic ambition. A country girl with a beautiful voice attracts the attention of a well known teacher who instructs her, and on the night of her debut in opera her voice vanishes. The girl is sorely tried by the calamity, but eventually returns to her old home, marries a worthy man, and settles down to domestic duties. When the first baby comes, a mother-love wells into song, her voice comes back, and eventually she returns to the stage and realizes her ambition in a higher and nobler way than she had ever dreamed of before. This interesting and touching play will be released July 17.

"Granny's Old Arm Chair" is a play in which love and faith are well rewarded. It is a play of simple, God-fearing folk, who idolize the Old Granny, who eventually passes away, leaving liberal dispensations for her relatives. The best beloved nephew, strangely enough, receives the most ordinary gift—her old arm chair—which he accepts with due gratitude, although other members of the family fear he will break the will. Eventually his house burns and everything is lost, but the old arm chair. This is so burned that he discovers in the upholstery valuable securities that make him the wealthiest member of the family. On this same reel is an interesting Selig educational subject, "A Moro Fish Drive," by Jolo. The release of this film is July 18.

VITAGRAPH COMPANY IN HONG KONG.

Under the title, "Field Sports at Hong Kong, China," the Vitagraph Company releases a film which cannot fail to interest all lovers of outdoor sports. It shows how athletes are developed on the other side of the world. Hong Kong, being an English treaty port, is the most up-to-date city in the Orient, and the audience is largely composed of English and Americans of the better class. These games show to what a remarkable degree the imitative feature of the Chinese is applied in athletics. Their hurdle races, jumping contests and other events would do credit to some of our leading colleges.

VITAGRAPH NOTES.

In the Vitagraph release, "The Spell," announced for release in July, Edwin August, the photo-playwright and star, gives us a sample of his remarkably effective versatility. Besides playing the leading part, he is credited with the authorship of the story, which is a particularly brilliant one. It tells of a young and pretty girl, held in the grasp of a hypnotic spell, being cleverly saved by the quick wit and action of her fiancé.

"The Spirit of the Orient," another product of the Vitagraph "globe trotters," promises to demand no small share of the great popularity of the photoplays of that now famous company. The drama staged in and around Bombay, India, deals with the domestic troubles of an Englishman who marries a beautiful half-caste Hindoo girl. It proves again that blood is thicker than water. She tries to kill her husband for the love of a man of her own race. The two conspirators die by their own hands.

MOTION PICTURE EXHIBITORS' NATIONAL CONVENTION.

So much has been said and written about the big convention that it is nearly impossible to add anything. The motion picture exhibitors from all over the country will assemble on July 7, at the grand Central Palace, some five or six thousand strong.

M. A. Neff, the president, will open the convention, and later a speech of welcome will be made by some big city or State official. During the week an elaborate plan of entertainment has been prepared, and it is confidently expected that there will not be a dull moment during the stay of the motion picture men in the big town.

Clem Kerr and Lou R. Thomas, national organizers, together with M. A. Neff, have been working like beavers for months past, and it looks as if their efforts will be crowned with success.

LAEMMLE-POWERS CONTROVERSY.

Nothing very definite has been settled in the interesting conflict over the control of the Universal. Friday, June 26, when the case came up before Justice Goff for a hearing, the Powers and Swanson faction was represented by John Delahanty, and the Laemmle side by George Gordon Battle.

Justice Goff, after hearing both sides, ordered them to hold a directors' meeting and try to come to some sort of understanding. This was done, but it seems as if it was of little or no avail in trying to straighten things out satisfactorily. Other meetings will be held this week, and it is thought that something of a definite nature will be decided on.

BIOGRAPH AND K.-E. TO RELEASE OCT. 1.

The announcement that the Biograph Company has formed a combination with Klaw & Erlanger for the purpose of producing, in motion pictures, some of their most popular stage plays, comes as a welcome surprise. The offerings of this combination will embrace an exclusive repertoire of copyrighted plays. Already nearly four hundred have been secured for this purpose, and rehearsals for the earlier releases will be begun at once. We can look for the first productions of this combination about Oct. 1.

KLEINE FEATURES.

George Kleine, of Chicago, importer of the famous Cines and Eclipse films, has made the statement that he does not intend to release any more single reel subjects, but will devote his entire time to multiple reel films. Among the coming Kleine films which are announced for release in General Film Service are: "A Villain Unmasked," "The Statue of Fear," "Honor Thy Father," three very strong features, particularly notable for fine photography and artistic settings.

PUSHING SCENES AND EDUCATIONALS.

Under the subject head, "Customs," in the General Film program, comes a picture entitled "The Consecration of a Buddhist Priest." This strange ceremony, illustrated in every detail, makes a welcome addition to the already generous proportion of "educational" furnished by the General Film Company. Preceded by a corps of musicians, the future priest marches with the members of his family to the temple, and there the temptation ceremony takes place. The musicians, personifying the evil spirit, take turns at tempting the young candidate, thus allowing him an opportunity to show his strength of character. Finally, after proving his ability to withstand the various temptations which might befall his priesthood, he is presented with his sacred vestments, which he accepts after a curious and impressive ceremony.

On the same reel is shown a travel subject, entitled "Pisa (Italy) and Its Curious Monuments"—a tour throughout the ancient city of Pisa, with stops before its many landmarks, which are all very old, including a view of the Leaning Tower, the most famous and one of the most mystifying structures in the world.

ALKALI IKE DOLLS IN DEMAND.

Mary Garden has written for an "Alkali" Ike doll. Not the Mary Garden we all know, but nevertheless, a Mary Garden. The Mary Garden we speak of is a little girl, seven years old, who lives in Bangor, Me. Her mother read her a story in one of the Bangor papers, in which the child learned that the Essanay Manufacturing Company was selling "Alkali" Ike dolls on horses. Mary became very enthusiastic and wrote to the film company, telling them that she had saved sixty-three cents and would like them to send her an "Alkali" Ike doll. The company have forwarded to this little photoplay fan a doll mounted on a horse, gratis. The Essanay Company hopes that Mary will receive much enjoyment out of the doll as they did in receiving her beautiful letter.

PATHE'S BI-WEEKLY A SUCCESS.

Motion picture fans throughout the country are showing unusual interest in the recent announcement of Pathe Freres of their intention to issue two Pathe Weekly films each week. The new arrangement is particularly attractive to all concerned because the news of the world, in both reels, will be three and four days earlier than was previously possible. The staff of camera men employed on the weekly has been increased to twenty-four expert photographers, so that there will be no dearth in interesting news items for both weeklies.

FILM FLICKERS.

BY HARRY.

DIRECTORS of film companies receive many queerly worded requests for positions, but the appended letter is entitled, at least, to some consideration as a contender for first prize honors.

MR. MOVIE PITCHER Co. Dear Sir: I am a comical in a film and wood lik to work for yore pitchers. If you need a actor rite away who nose a lot of funny stuf write and telegraf write away and oblige, JOHN OSTERHAUSEN, Milwaukee, Wis.

ROY E. AITKEN, managing director of the Western Import Co., Ltd., London, England, is now in New York City, looking over the local situation, and incidentally, making a host of new friends by his sunny personality and charming manners. Mr. Aitken is very optimistic regarding the outlook on the other side of the water. He declares that the Keystone, Broncho and Kay-Bee films, for which his company is sponsor across the pond, are absolutely creating a sensation and fully living up to their American reputation.

LARRY TRIMBLE, producer of the Turner Film Co., of which Florence Turner is at the head, has placed at his disposal for the making of interiors the studios of Cecil Hepworth. Mr. Trimble will arrange his outdoor settings in those sections of England best suited to the individual picture. The class of stories to be filmed will be those in which Miss Turner has been so successful—clean, healthy dramas and comedies, and occasionally a picture in which Miss Turner and one other will constitute the cast. A likeness of Jean, the canine film favorite, will serve as the trademark of the Turner Film Co.

ON PAGE 6 of this paper will be found a very good portrait of Hopp Hadley, publicity representative of the Reliance Co. A phrase of his character that few people have discovered is that he is studiously inclined, having studied law at the New York Law School only two years ago, preferring to spend his evenings pouring over Blackstone rather than in pursuit of pleasure. He is also a musician of some ability, having educated himself as a violinist and as a vocalist, his baritone voice being the reason for his original stage activities. Of course he is an enthusiast—a press agent must be one—he needs it in his business. If you want to hear him enthusiastically ask him about J. V. Ritchey's Tuesday night meetings at the Reliance studio, and the methods employed by Manager Ritchey wherewith he hopes to make Reliance pictures the greatest in the world. It is then that you will see his face, which usually bears a broad smile, grow serious, and the grave born of a long line of ministers (his three brothers are all Episcopal clergymen) come into his eyes as he talks about the future of Reliance as if nothing in the world was of any importance except moving pictures.

THANHOUSER GOSSIP.

Some wonderfully intimate views of Cardinal Farley are claimed by the New Majestic photographers in their film of the Golden Jubilee ceremonies of the New York Catholic Church. These views are stated to be the best "close ups" of the great dignitary of the church that have thus far been possible to procure. "It is like standing alongside his eminence," says C. J. Hite. The picture can be strongly recommended for Catholic Church entertainments, and in the regular picture house it will be educational to the many who like to see, at close range, how a real cardinal moves and acts at an important function. "The Golden Jubilee," as the film is called, releases Tuesday, July 1. Mrs. Lawrence Marston, wife of the veteran stage director, now with Thanhouse, is seen in a new type of part in "King Rene's Daughter" where she has the principal female role in support of Maude Fealy. Mrs. Marston, since her entrance into picture work, has gathered some reputation for her handling of roles of an Amazonian nature—fighting suffragettes and strenuous business women. In this connection, she must be remembered in "Good Morning, Judge," "A Militant Suffragette" and "A Business Woman," all featuring an up-and-doing female, who represented her sex as the stronger rather than the weaker. So readers may smile at the Thanhouse announcement that this film-ferocious female's part in "King Rene's Daughter" is that of a patient, placid nurse! With Mrs. Marston in the support of Miss Fealy are: Harry Benham, Mignon Anderson, David Thompson, William Russell and Leland Benham. There are three reels, releasing Tuesday, July 1.

They gown film productions just as accurately as they ever did stage productions, nowadays. It is interesting to note in this connection that Maude Fealy, starring in Thanhouse's "King Rene's Daughter," wore the very same lavender gown that Ellen Terry did in her celebrated stage production of this play.

"THE SCAPEGOAT," a story by Lloyd Osborn, is being produced in two reels by the American Film Manufacturing Co. From the interest and enthusiasm displayed by the leading man, Warren Kerrigan, and his supporting cast, the picture promises an unusually successful run.

The capacity of the drying room of the American Film Manufacturing Co. has been increased to twice what it formerly was. This was necessitated by the large and steady increase in business during the past several months. Other improvements are also being installed so as to insure an even better photographic quality than has heretofore been deemed possible.

SIGNOR E. GRAZZONI, one of the best known of the Cines directors, was the victim of an odd accident recently, according to advices from Rome. Grazzoni was the director of "Quo Vadis?" and while making a scene from a multiple reel subject of Oriental setting, had much difficulty in making a huge python remain within the lines of the camera. While stooping over the body of the giant snake, a setting crane by collapsed and fell with a crash, startling the snake so that Grazzoni received a severe glancing blow, which broke his right arm and stunned him. Grazzoni was taken to a neighboring hospital where his condition was reported serious. This is the first accident of any consequence that has befallen any member of the Cines Co.

RAMO NEWS.

"Things are coming along pretty nicely for Ramo," says C. Lang Cobb Jr., manager of sales and publicity. This is demonstrated in the fact that C. Lang has discarded his cane and rides about town in his new automobile. Wray Physioc, manager of Ramo productions, is planning some new trick pictures, soon to be produced at the Ramo studios. The films will be in five hundred foot lengths, and will involve educational and scientific subjects. John Arnold, who has been responsible for Ramo's excellent photography, has been experimenting with Mr. Physioc for several months, and they both claim that the result of their labors will prove to be wonders in cinematography.

Wm. S. Davis is directing a very interesting feature picture this week, entitled "Men Who Labor." The story is adapted from Emile Zola's "Labor." Mary Alden, Jack Hopkins and Stuart Holmes dominate the cast and, judging by their acting, they are lifting this strong story to a very high level. Wray Physioc keeps adding to the Ramo Stock Company. Arthur Finn, formerly with Lubin and Reliance Companies, is the latest addition. Mr. Finn will be featured in some forthcoming comedies now under direction.

DIRECTOR J. FARRELL MACDONALD, of the Powers Photo Plays, Inc., is making big preparations for a picture which promises to be a wonder. In fact the preparations have been going on for a long time now, and the photoplay starts this week. The subject is "A Dream of the World's Tragedy," and is suggested, by Mary Correll's book, entitled "Barabas." It is not yet decided what the length of the play will be whether three or four reels, but the play will be accorded the treatment it merits. Before starting it Tom Evans, the general manager, was approached, and the expense was laid before him, and his comment was, "Go to it." This production will be a revelation of just what can be done in California. The play will require a very large cast and a number of extra people, between two hundred and fifty and four hundred. That much is certain. Whilst all of the important parts are not yet cast, it is known that "Barabas" will be in the hands of Arthur Maude, who will have another chance to show what a splendid picture actor he really is. Judith will be taken by Constance Crawley, one of the finest classical actresses in the business, and Joe Harris will impersonate Calphas.

A SERIES of big important scenes will be capped by that of the judgment hall, and for this, as well as the other scenes, Charles Wallace, the scenic artist, first designed a cardboard set which is to be preserved by the company. Special costumes are being made for this picture.

ALTERATIONS to the studio of the Powers Photo Plays (Inc.) are constantly being made, and many additions show week by week. A new carpenter's shop is in progress, one capable of handling the large amount of work, and of accommodating the special machinery for furniture making. New dressing rooms are also being built.

PHILADELPHIA'S WEEKLY BUDGET.

Record was made last week of the transfer of the store buildings at the Northeast corner of Juniper and Market Streets, to the Finance Co. of Pennsylvania, for a $1,800,000 consideration. Nearly the entire lot will be used as a site for a moving picture and vaudeville theatre, which has already been leased to the Moving Picture Company of America, which owns a dozen other houses, principally in Market Street.

Peter Maguire has awarded a contract for a photoplay house, 72 by 112 feet, at the Northeast corner of Sixth Street and Cedar Avenue. It will cost $18,000.

Ogden D. Wilkinson is having plans prepared by Albert E. Westover for a "movie," 80 by 70 feet, at Second and Noble Streets. Joseph J. Goodstein has awarded a contract for a moving picture house, 36 by 100 feet, which will occupy the site of four dwellings, Nos. 2011-13 Frankford Avenue, and Nos. 2010-12 Sepvira Street. The cost will be $10,000.

Levick, Waldow & Kopner have started work on a $100,000 picture house at the corner of the Jefferson, at Nos. 2215 to 2223 N. Twenty-ninth Street. It will be a completely equipped house, with a gallery, and will measure 89 by 181 feet.

The Mansion Realty Co. has also begun work on a $22,000 picture house at the Southeast corner of Ridge Avenue and National Street. The dimensions will be 76 by 94 feet.

S. Allinger has awarded a contract for a $30,000 picture house on York Road, above Luzerne Street.

Freedman & Rose have awarded a contract for a $15,000 moving picture house at the Northeast corner of Twenty-fifth Street and Ridge Avenue. The dimensions will be 73 by 75 feet.

THE SELIG SEXTETTE

July 13.—The Summer solstice has a Selig two-reel release worthy the name in

"The Wild Ride"

Can you imagine anything more speedy, spirited or interesting for a real good run than a lovely lady racing over the South African veldt on the back of an ostrich—to arouse the military and thwart the hideous designs of murderous Zulus? "The Wild Ride" is a South African heroic—picturesque and potential.

July 14.—THE ONLY CHANCE. A railway drama of speed and thrill, in which a line-man overtakes the Limited in his Electric car and averts a collision.

July 15.—THE TREE AND THE CHAFF. A playlet of lovely symbolism—in which the example of a pure woman regenerates a young man who drifts with the wind.

July 16.—SWEENEY'S DREAM. Another rip-roaring comedy of the Sweeney series, in which the hood-carrier dreams he has been glided to the highest office in the gift of the nation. On the same reel is FANCY FOWLS, that has more class.

July 17.—PUT TO THE TEST. A pathetic drama of an ambitious young singer who loses her voice but finds it restored in the joy of motherhood—is an interesting theme charmingly handled.

July 18.—GRANNY'S OLD ARM CHAIR. A simple telling play, with big humanities to touch the heart and win the approval of all who see it. On the same reel with a Selig Educational from our island possessions.

CHIEF OF CHICAGO'S MOVING PICTURE CENSORSHIP BOARD INTERVIEWED BY NEW YORK CLIPPER REPRESENTATIVE.

In an interview J. W. O'Connor had this to say: "The police censorship of moving pictures in Chicago has attracted much attention, and as a general rule, very favorable comment from municipal authorities throughout the world," said Sergeant J. W. O'Connor. "The Chicago censorship is conducted by a squad of men selected from among 5,000 members of the police department because of their sound judgment and careful interpretation of the ordinances governing this subject."

"All films shown in Chicago are inspected in advance. The ordinance requires this and authorized the elimination of any objectionable scenes. If the subject is so overloaded with objectionable features that their elimination spoils the story the entire film is condemned."

"Recently delegates representing all of the leading film manufacturers in the country called upon Mayor Harrison to protest against any change in the present system of inspection, declaring that manufacturers and theatre operators were thoroughly satisfied, and that a big improvement in the tone of the moving picture shows had brought about more liberal patronage of them."

"The Censorship Bureau also has general supervision of the suppression of improper songs, scenes or sketches in theatres, the display in public places of art works which, though in themselves entirely proper, but which might have a detrimental effect upon public morals."

"Since the failure of the first attempt to suppress the public display of 'September Morn,' a nude picture, the city council has passed an ordinance making the display of nude pictures and statues in places in view from the public streets a punishable offense."

"The judges are inflicting fines upon all offenders brought before them."

"Films that are condemned are not taken up, but a record of their title is kept and a synopsis of the plot retained. If the film is then displayed it is confiscated as evidence, and the usual punishment inflicted is a heavy fine and the confiscation of the film by the court."

"The record of the bureau is being highly commended every day. Other cities throughout the country are constantly writing for copies of our ordinances, and other boards are daily asking for an outline of the method of censorship exercised in Chicago."

"Only a day or two ago I received from Berlin, Germany, a request that the municipal authorities there be supplied with an outline of the system employed here, as it was considered one of the most satisfactory in the world."

"Films are considered from the effect that they may have on the morals of those who see them. The Chicago ordinance permits the admission of children even when not accompanied by their guardians, and for this reason its censorship is sometimes stricter than if adults only were admitted."

"Public opinion has always indorsed the method employed, and the board feels proud of its record."

"I might also state that I find the owners and managers of moving picture exchanges to be a most courteous, liberal and responsive set of business men, always ready to assist and co-operate with this bureau in the elimination of any scenes or subjects which might be in the least considered detrimental to public morals."

WARREN A. PATRICK.

CHICAGO CENSORSHIP OFFICIALS GIVE DEMONSTRATION OF METHODS.

(Special to The New York Clipper.)
CHICAGO, Thursday, June 28.
The German consul in Chicago and a number of friends were the guests of Sergeant Jeremiah O'Connor, chief of the Censorship Board in Chicago, and Chief of Police McWeney, at a "film fest" held in the County Building this afternoon.

Approximately 1,200 feet of pictures, containing 500 objectionable or suggestive scenes, were thrown upon the screen, as the best means of demonstrating to the German consul just what sort of pictures the Chicago Censorship Board deemed advisable to cut out. The reel containing these scenes will be shipped by Sergeant O'Connor to the Board of Censorship in Berlin, Germany, so that they may pattern their views after Chicago's manner in handling the same.

Most of the scenes in the lot were views of hold-ups, suggestive dancing and death pictures.

ESSANAY NOTES.

ON MONDAY evening, June 2, the new Essanay Studio at Niles, Cal., was informally opened. G. M. Anderson and all the members of the Western Stock Co. received the invited guests, consisting of prominent business men of Niles and San Francisco. The speech by Mr. Anderson was enthusiastically received and gave the cue for the festivities to begin. Dancing, interspersed with gallons of refreshments (grape juice), comprised the evening's enjoyment.

MONDAY, June 9, was moving day for the Essanay Western Co., and everything, from pins and needles to auto-trucks, was moved into the new studio. On Wednesday Director Ingraham initiated the new plant with its first picture. The building is equipped with every improvement necessary in producing the par excellence pictures that this firm turns out.

J. ROBBINS, general manager of the Essanay Western Co., is on a short visit to the East, gathering information on all the latest improvements for the Western Studio. This is Mr. Robbins' first visit to the East in three years.

EDISON NOTES.

To one who has heard "the call of the West" in the Rocky Mountains of Colorado, the announcement of the Edison Company of the film "Over the Great Divide in Colorado," brings back a flood of pleasant recollections, memories of golden days on plains a mile above sea level, visions of rugged, snow-capped peaks and yawning canyons, thoughts of engineering achievements that must be seen to be believed. Colorado has furnished the setting for many dramatic photoplays, but the scenes are the best of all, for they show nature in its silent grandeur, quietly impressing one that America is the country to see first.

"Over the Great Divide in Colorado" will be on the screens July 7.

One of "Kate Klaby's Cases," a series of detective stories, by J. Seale Dawley, has been dramatized by the Edison people under the title "The Diamond Crown," and will be released in the prominent motion picture theatres of the country early in July.

DECATUR'S NEW PICTURE HOUSE.

Plans are under way for one of the finest motion picture theatres outside of Chicago. It is to be located at Decatur, Ill. This theatre, according to one of the promoters, will cost about $15,000, and will be erected on one of the prominent corners in Decatur within a year. It will be modernly equipped throughout, and will have a pipe organ.

QUESTION BOX.

L. I.—Several traveling companies sent out have been called in. 2. A little too cheap and sensational.

MARTINSVILLE.—1. Not at present. 2. We publish releases of all companies making "weekly" releases.

ELIZABETH.—1. He is with the Vitagraph Co. 2. He is a member of the stock company.

WONELL.—Any kind of contest held for increasing attendance is good, but should be away from anything approaching a lottery.

FILMS REVIEWED.

BY LEO.

"The Detective's Trap" (Kalem). Released June 23. A detective story with a good plot and plenty of action. This, of course, is necessary and desirable in a photoplay of this particular kind. The situations are cleverly handled. In all, a very interesting film. Photography up to standard.

"Mister Jefferson Green" (Biograph). Released June 23. A "coon" comedy, strongly resembling in places some of the good old time "nigger" acts of ancient variety days. "The Doctor Shop" would possibly be the one that would be recalled to the spectator. In all, however, a rather good farce is portrayed by the well balanced Biograph cast.

"Papa's Dream" (Selig). Released June 23. A story written on a theme which has been done a few times, but in this case it has been handled with intelligence and marked ability, and makes an exceedingly good screen story. The playing of Adrienne Kroell and Morris McHugh is worthy of commendation.

"Witness A-3-Centre" (Essanay). Released June 27. Here is a story with a theme that is as nearly original as it is possible to write. E. H. Calvert, Ruth Stonehouse and Beverly Bayne are entitled to great credit for their excellent work in this film. Photography good.

"Poleon, the Trapper" (Nestor). Released June 23. A story of the North woods that is told in interesting fashion. The plot, however, has been used in somewhat different form for more than one photoplay at least. The central character of Poleon is very well done. Direction and acting capable.

"The Guerrilla Menace" (Bison). Released June 24. A story of love and war that holds all the way through. It is in two reels. The battle scenes are especially good. The management of the players throughout shows capable direction and commendable attention to detail. The individual acting of Wallace Reid and Pauline Bush are both excellent.

"The Smuggled Laces" (Crystal). Released June 22. A good story with situations that give many opportunities for well handled comedy business. The acting is good and the direction capable. Photography O. K.

"Will Power" (Crystal). Released June 22. One of Pearl White's best efforts in the line of comedy photoplays. Situations are properly presented, with intelligent understanding of comedy values. Well sustained story and good photography make a film of excellence.

"His Mother's Love" (Imp). Released June 23. A story somewhat similar to one that was produced recently by another independent company. The acting and direction are both good. Dramatic situations of the "intense" kind predominate. Photography good.

"It Happened At The Beach" (Powers). Released June 23. A farce comedy, with scenes laid for the better part at the seaside. All of these are very well taken. The story, which is a trifle conventional and on the farcical order, is well told. Playing and direction good.

"The Burden Bearer" (Rex). Released June 20. Phillips Smalley and Lois Weber are the featured players in this interesting playlet. The story has the proper "punch." Situations are very good and well enacted. Photography good.

"A Husband's Mistake" (Americana). Released June 23. The story, which is developed through the fact of hubby seeing someone's kiss witty, who later turns out to be her brother, is conventional. The playing, however, is good. Direction and photography up to the mark.

"The House of Pretence" (Reliance). Released June 23. A photoplay with a good moral attached. The drama is presented by clever players, who depict realistically the well written story. Photography good.

"Forgive Us Our Trespasses" (Thanhouser). Released June 24. A story based on the subject of good for evil. The big scenes are worthy of special comment. Story cleverly told by competent cast. Photography, of which a double exposure is a feature, is very good.

"The Worth of Man" (Ramo). Released June 25. Good story, with interesting situations. Love and jealousy are the keynotes on which the dramatic scenes are built. The playing and direction are both good.

"Love's Old Sweet Song" (Edison). Released June 21. Story written on the theme of the old standard song, which has been a genuine favorite since grandfather's time to the present. The usual clever playing and direction is noticeable in this picture, as it is in most Edison productions. The scenes are finely photographed and enacted.

"From Ignorance to Light" (Lubin). Released June 21. One of E. W. Sargent's cleverly written scenarios. The love theme is well handled. Playing and direction are good. Photography good.

"The Hunger of the Heart" (Pathe). Released June 25. The dramatic interest is well sustained in this photoplay, written on the subject of the "eternal triangle." The playing and direction are all that could be desired.

"At the Telephone" (Lubin). Released June 24. A comedy with a bunch of good, legitimate laughs. The story is well told. Photography and direction both good.

"Bob Buys An Auto" (Lubin). Released June 27. Another of the "Bob" series. This time the story is based on the misadventures of Bob and an automobile. This has all been so well done in the vaudeville sketch, entitled "Motoring," that anything on the same order would have to be "marvellous" in order to create interest. Photography and situations good.

NEW YORK MOTION PICTURE ART EXPOSITION.

The first exhibition of the cinematographic art to be held in America, and the third in the history of the world, will be an auxiliary of the third national convention of the Moving Picture Exhibitors' League of America, at Grand Central Palace, New York City, July 7 to 12, inclusive. From present indication three thousand exhibitors will be represented on the floors of the exposition. These will include about forty European exhibitors, who were represented at the English exposition that was held in the Olympia, London, Eng., last March.

The exposition will have both a popular and a technical appeal. All of the prominent actors and actresses of the various film companies will be on hand, and a series of acts will be posed and photographed daily. King Baggott and his supporting company that the Imp recently sent to Europe will be present, and scenes in which he will appear will be put through a developing process on the exposition floor, and the various processes of manufacture will be demonstrated.

Thomas A. Edison will be the guest of honor, along with Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, at the banquet of the Motion Picture Congress, and many other notables in the field of cinematography will lend their presence to make the affair a brilliant one.

EXHIBITORS LEAGUE IN MAINE.

A Motion Picture Exhibitors' League has been successfully organized in Maine. The first meeting of this organization took place on June 23, at the Palmouth Hotel, Portland, Me. L. R. Thomas had charge of the meeting. Officers elected were as follows:

President, Moxley Brumberg, Portland, Me.

Vice-president, Hiram Abrams, Portland, Me.

Secretary, J. A. Emery, Bar Harbor.

Treasurer, J. W. Greeley, Portland, Me.

Sergeant-at-Arms, A. P. Biber, Lewiston, Me.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one and attended by a large number of motion picture men all over the State. The delegates elected were: A. A. Allen, A. B. Rosenberg, J. W. Greeley, F. E. Mortimer, J. A. Emery.

Delegates and friends will tour to New York in automobiles, where they will attend the exposition to be held at Grand Central Palace, July 7 to 12.

"SHENANDOAH" A GREAT FEATURE.

From the standpoint of historical accuracy, perhaps the most remarkable film ever made is the Kalem three reel production of Bronson Howard's great play, "Shenandoah." Practically all the guns and uniforms used in making this great film were actually used in Shenandoah Valley during the Civil War. There were used in this picture over 30,000 rounds of small arm ammunition. 5,000 rounds were used in the battery of twenty cannon. One of the Confederate flags used was captured by a Massachusetts regiment during Sheridan's raid through Virginia, and one of the Union flags was loaned to the Kalem Company by a Michigan Grand Army Post. The scenes showing Sheridan's ride were made along the actual route ridden by the doughty general.

When the spectator views the production on the screen he will find visualized an exact reproduction of the Union troops and the defeat and retreat of the Confederates in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia.

SELIG POLYSCOPE CO.
SPEND $1,000,000 IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Largest Zoo in the World to be Feature of Los Angeles Properties.

Wm. H. Selig Seeks Highest Quality in Film Product.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 22, 1913.—Mr. Wm. H. Selig, president of the Selig Polyscope Co., returned to Chicago this week after a prolonged visit to the Selig Studios and Wild Animal Farm in Los Angeles.

The film magnate visited the public some of his plans for a greater studio and zoo in the Southern California Metropolis.

These plans include provisions for extensive tracts of land, new and enlarged studios with complete equipment, the largest zoo in the world, and a magnificent collection of plants and foreign vegetation which will be imported to this country at great expense.

The Selig Polyscope Co. is well known as the largest and foremost motion picture manufacturing firm in this country and possibly in the world. Its main plant and studios are in Chicago, where it occupies several acres of ground.

In addition to these properties, the Selig Company operates other extensive properties in various parts of the world.

During his recent visit to Los Angeles, Mr. Selig purchased outright several tracts of land immediately adjoining the Selig Wild Animal Farm. These purchases will more than double the present size of the Farm.

The present zoo at the animal farm contains a collection of animals valued at upward of $50,000 and two more shipments of animals are now enroute, which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Before the summer has passed, over $250,000 worth of jungle ramens will be housed at this immense zoo. A model studio will be erected on the premises and thousands of dollars worth of rare tropical plants, trees and jungle growth will be added to the already picturesque effect which prevails in this unique picture-making ground.

The Los Angeles studio will be increased by several more companies in the near future and Mr. Selig has arranged to buy a home in the California city where he plans to spend from four to six months of every year personally supervising the work of the different companies.

The new plans, when consummated will represent a total investment by the Selig Company in Los Angeles of close to one million dollars. This, in addition to other extensive holdings of the Selig Company, will place this station away ahead of all contenders for first honors in the matter of equipment and permanent investment.

When seen at the Selig offices yesterday, Mr. W. H. Selig talked enthusiastically about his plans for the future. So well known is his constantly calling for better pictures, said Mr. Selig, "and we propose to give him the best picture that money, brains and talent can secure."

The film producing business is growing so rapidly that it is difficult to keep pace with it. So we are jumping a bit ahead of the procession. We are anticipating the future. That is why we are at present spending so much money on our California properties—to secure quality."

WHY SELIG IS SPENDING $1,000,000.00 TO THE MOTION PICTURE EXHIBITORS LEAGUE OF AMERICA

¶ The House of Selig, recognized as the champion of all progressive exhibitors, takes this occasion to extend to you its earnest congratulations and sincere best wishes.

¶ The name of Selig has reached the utmost corners of the earth.

¶ Selig success is at once admired and envied by rival picture makers the world over.

¶ The uniform standard of excellence which marks Selig Nature Productions is universally recognized.

¶ The aim and ambition of Selig is to please discriminating exhibitors.

¶ Selig success is due largely to perfection of production facilities.

¶ No manufacturer in the world, at the present time, has more extensive properties or better equipped organization than that owned by Selig—the maker extraordinary.

¶ Notwithstanding this fact, The Selig Polyscope Co. will spend, during the next two years, close to $1,000,000 in further equipment, properties and studios. Read the article.

¶ THIS GIGANTIC INVESTMENT IS BEING MADE FOR YOUR BENEFIT, MR. EXHIBITOR.

¶ In the future the name of Selig will represent, as it has in the past, the very highest quality obtainable in film product.

¶ So, Mr. Exhibitor, if you are constantly striving to improve the artistic side of your program—if you desire to give your program a distinctiveness—an individuality that will attract attention, cause comment, and increase business—

SUNDAY OPENING IN TEXAS.

STATEMENT BY T. P. FINNEGAN.

Declaring that the Sunday moving picture show is a moral exhibition, T. P. Finnegan, speaking as president of the Dallas Motion Picture Exhibitors' League, issued a statement last week regarding the showing of motion pictures on Sunday.

Mr. Finnegan's statement follows the indictment of a large number of Dallas picture show proprietors by the county grand jury.

Mr. Finnegan's arguments are in the form of an open letter to the public. In substance he says:

"To whom it may concern:

"In the beginning let me state that we do not desire anything except what is fair and right and in giving us just this and no more, justice will have been done to thousands of other Dallas citizens.

"When public sentiment concerning any public institution or service is divided to any noticeable degree the only safe and rational means of settling the difference is in putting the question at issue to a popular vote and let the majority rule. Is not this true?

"At the last municipal election the people of Dallas, in an overwhelming majority, declared themselves in favor of Sunday amusements. Notwithstanding this fact and also the fact that the home rule act which permits the citizens of any city to decide for themselves such matters as are not directly at variance with State and national laws (we believe) is a fair interpretation.

The Sunday moving picture show most seems to be working overtime, even to the exclusion of many other ordinances, which, if enforced with the same degree of ardor and vigilance, would rid Dallas of the speed maniac, the street corner masher, the social gambler, the gun toter and many other similar evils that are really vicious and a menace to lives and morals of the general public.

"Now, there are amusements and amusements, and realizing that none but clean and elevating amusements can or should endure, our theatres are open for inspection of any properly authorized committee of censors at all times, and we pledge ourselves to eliminate anything that could be considered as demoralizing or degrading.

"If the moving picture theatres are evil on Sunday, they are evil on Wednesday and Saturday—and every day, and should be closed eternally. If they are not an evil on week-days, they are not an evil on Sundays, and why should thousands of working people in the city of Dallas be deprived of the pleasure of taking their families to see them on the one day of the week which they can call their own? Dallas is a city of 116,000 inhabitants, and the greater majority of these are employed on week-days, and have but the one day (Sunday) in which to step aside from the hard life of fact to indulge in a little healthful diversion and recreation.

"The park system does not afford these people ample opportunity for recreation, and it does not require a very great mental effort to judge how a man, woman or child would decide between two to four hours in the sweltering sun, or the same in the cool, music filled theatre, where, seated in comfort, they may watch the unfolding of an interesting story with a good moral attached.

"The good that is done by moving pictures far outweighs the evil and many a Sunday afternoon has been pleasantly and profitably spent with them which otherwise might have been given over to a poker game or—worse. Think it over.

"DALLAS MOTION PICTURE EXHIBITORS' LEAGUE.

(FROM CONSUL GENERAL JAMES A. SMITH.)

GENOA, Italy.—The use of the cinematograph in public instruction has been availed of here lately by adopting motion pictures in the public schools of Genoa, the first innovation of this kind having been the recent installation of a cinematographic apparatus in one of the Regie Scuole Normali of Genoa (a school for girls), for the instruction of the pupils.

"Now, there are amusements and amusements, and realizing that none but clean and elevating amusements can or should endure, our theatres are open for inspection of any properly authorized committee of censors at all times, and we pledge ourselves to eliminate anything that could be considered as demoralizing or degrading.

"If the moving picture theatres are evil on Sunday, they are evil on Wednesday and Saturday—and every day, and should be closed eternally. THANHOUSER KID AT PROCTOR'S

Little Marie Eline, better known in the world of motion pictures as the "Thanhouser Kid," will be in New York City during the week of July 7, when the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America holds its exposition at Grand Central Palace. This really wonderful little actress will appear at two of the Proctor theatres that week, and will undoubtedly be a great drawing card.

Manager William Matthews, of Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre, realized he should have something to rhyme with the one day (Sunday) in which to step aside from the hard life of fact to indulge in a little healthful diversion and recreation.

The park system does not afford these people ample opportunity for recreation, and it does not require a very great mental effort to judge how a man, woman or child would decide between two to four hours in the sweltering sun, or the same in the cool, music filled theatre, where, seated in comfort, they may watch the unfolding of an interesting story with a good moral attached.

"DALLAS MOTION PICTURE EXHIBITORS' LEAGUE.

"By T. P. Finnegan, President."

Every exhibitor who visits the city for this great festival week fully appreciates what little Marie Eline has done towards elevating this still advancing line of amusement, and they will undoubtedly endeavor to make a visit to one of the Proctor theatres during their stay here, to witness this phenomenal little performer as a real actress before a regular audience. She is, without doubt, one of the most photographed little actresses in picturedom, and when she makes her first public appearance in New York, at these two theatres, she should live up to the wonderful record she has made before the camera, and test the capacity of F. P. Proctor's houses all week long.

A BIOGRAPH SPECIAL.

A remarkably strong multiple reel film, in which is ingeniously combined the Indian, Western and humorous elements which are popular with the American audience, is announced as the first Biograph special.

The story, "The Battle of Elderbush Gulch," deals with the visit of two orphans to their bachelor uncle in the West. Bringing two tiny puppies with them, complications arise when uncle announces that he'll have no dogs in his house. The pups cause all kinds of trouble, not the least of which is Reliance, S. Solax, L.

The baseball team of the Reliance Motion Picture Company added another victory to its long string at Lenox Oval last Saturday afternoon when they swamped the Solax nine under an 8 to 3 score. The Reliance boys had their nastiest batting tops on, and banged out fourteen hits, including a triple by Sam Smith, with the bases full, in the fourth inning. Jim Bailey was in rare form again, and allowed his opponents but five scattered bingles.

Next Saturday the Reliance warriors will slip over to Philadelphia to battle Sigmund Lubin's strong nine, and a great game is looked for. The Reliance team will be accompanied by about two hundred followers to invade the Quaker City and root for "their boys."

ON APPLICATION of Frank L. Dyer, the General Film Co., of Portland, Me., has been authorized to do business in New York State.

THE HOSPITAL BENEFIT.

(Special Wire to THE CLIPPER.)

CHICAGO, July 1.

The benefit performance given at the Auditorium Theatre yesterday for the Actors' Hospital was a huge success, all expectations being more than fulfilled.

An excellent program was offered, including six Hawaiian and Grace Wilson, Morton and Moore, Stella Mayhew and Billie Taylor, Beside Kaplan, Gene Greene, Joseph Santley, Saranoff and Shive Hein, and La Petite Duo. Dave Lewis made a capital official announcer. Talks were given by Lee Krane, Adolph Marks and Dr. Max Thorek. The orchestra was under the direction of James Henshel. The musicians were supplied by the Visitation Society, A. F. of M. The stage was under the direction of Abe Jacobs and Will Cunningham, while the stage mechanics were supplied through the courtesy of the International Alliance of Stage Employees, Local No. 2. Nurses from the American Hospital acted as ushers, flower girls and program sellers. Total receipts amounted to seven thousand dollars, and donations amounting to one thousand dollars were received. It was magnificent, in which everybody responded to such a noble and worthy cause, either with actual services or financial assistance.

GEORGE WARREN RETIRES.

CHICAGO, July 1.

George Warren, manager of McVicker's Theatre for the past fourteen years, retired from his position last night, and was presented with a gold watch by the members of his staff. Warren is one of the best known actors in the United States and enjoys a world of friends in the theatrical field.

PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE BILL.

FOR WEEK OF JULY 7.

Next week's bill at Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre will include as fine array of entertainers as the Summer season at Gus McCune's theatre has yet been graced with.

Jack Henderson and Nena Blake, fresh from successful musical comedy, will be seen in as graceful and snappy a singing and dancing specialty as the patrons of this house have gazed upon in many weeks.

Will Oakland and his company of singing monarchs will offer an elaborate version of their burst of harmony, entitled "At the Club."

Marion Gray is another new singer said to possess a splendid manner or displaying her talent.

Feelson and Goffie, the class of singing comedians, will be heard in new songs and sayings, while others will be the Stan Stanley Trio of acrobatic jesters; Ray Conlin, the comedy ventriloquist; Julia Nash and company, in the farce comedy playlet, "Her First Case." Jimmie Kennedy and Maude Kramer, the clever dancing duo, and Charles Thompson, the juggler.

JOSHUA A. M. SOLLAS, manager of the Ward Theatre, Kingston, Jamaica, is in New York engaging attractions for his house. He has signed contracts with the Angelina Gattini Italian Opera Company for an engagement in October, and with W. S. Harkins and Fred S. Lorraine for the Harkins Players, in musical comedy and vaudeville in September.

BOBBY WOOLSET and GERTIE WHEELING have formed a partnership, and will soon be seen in vaudeville together.

La Fonda and Watsons, "The Honey Boy Kids," are working together again, after a separation of five years.

NEW VAUDEVILLE ACTS

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 25.

A trio of speedy dancers and singers who scored heavily at this house last week, were the Three Lubins. Two girls and a young man compose this act. They worked in one, on their own mat, opening together in Dutch costume, with song and dance. This was followed by a song and dance by one of the girls and the man, he in white silk blouse and black velvet knickerbockers, and the girl in pale blue knee length kid dress. They started it with a bit of tango, and finished with a jig. It was finely executed.

Then the other girl, in purple ankle length dress, sang "Snap Your Fingers With Me" in a real clever manner. The sister followed this with a single dance bit which showed her to be one of the fastest little workers in the wooden shoes that has clattered 'em here in a good while. She wore a fresh looking knee length pink dress, was joined by the other two (sister in blue dress), and they closed the act to a good hit with a trio dance. Speed and accuracy mark the Lubins an O. K. dancing act, fit for any bill. About nine minutes, in one. Tod.

John de Persia and Company.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE, MATINEE, JUNE 30.

This is another of those sketches wherein the wrong man is accused of murder through circumstantial evidence, and its title is "A Close Call."

The evidence against the man is very strong, but he stoutly declares his innocence in the one scene which occurs in the district attorney's office.

The arrest of a woman who had loved him before his marriage, and her confession that she had killed the woman through jealousy, saves the husband's life. The cast:

Robert Larkin.....W. F. Canfield
James Burke.....J. J. Pevins
Giacomo Roberto.....John de Persia
Mrs. Silverstein.....Leona Price
The ?.....M. Diston
Dan Costello.....H. Cowan
John de Persia, as the Italian husband, did a capital bit of acting, and Leona Price, as Mrs. Silverstein, was excellent.

Old Timer.

Belle and Jones.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 25.

Man and woman. They are classy workers and have fine delivery. The man is a very clever straight comedian, while the young woman's good looks and personality make her far above the average "feeder" role.

They open under spot, making a slow entrance with "Underneath the Cotton Moon," with him in straight street costume and straw hat, while she wears a neat black dress and hat. He followed with a Yiddish number (single), which was very cleverly delivered. Then a duet, with the girl in pretty white spangled gown and cap, and "Lovey Dear" showed them to good advantage, with his comedy songs properly worked in.

The act closed with a medley of songs, which the man burlesqued with funny business.

Belle and Jones are an entertaining duo. Both make a fine stage appearance, and they sing their duets well. The act should keep working steadily. Tod.

Four Brass Men.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 25.

A colored musical quartette. They open in light minstrel frock coats and high hats, on trombone, cornet, clarinet and flute. This is followed with a trio number, with piano, cornet and trombone, the latter instrument being played by the comedian of the act, in "band" uniform. It was a well rendered offering and was fully appreciated.

The comedian then holds the stage alone with a solo on the trombone, working the slide with his foot. The fourth selection was given on three saxophones including a powerful bass, played by the comedian, three in neat Hussar uniforms, with the comedian remaining in the burlesque one. After another number on four xylophones they closed on trombone, cornet, clarinet and flute, with the comedian leading in comedy antics. They used "Suave River" in half a dozen different "times," and were a musical hit. Fifteen minutes, full stage act. Tod.

"A Night at the Opera."

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE, MATINEE, JUNE 30.

The Manon Orchestra, composed of seven musicians (mostly string), with James Bradford as conductor, and John Lorenz, tenor, and Frances Lloyd soprano, headed the bill at this house for the first presentation of the new act, Monday, June 30.

The orchestra gave three selections from popular operas. John Lorenz sang "La Donna, from 'Rigoletto'."

Miss Lloyd did an Italian street song from "Naghty Marietta," also appearing with Mr. Lorenz in the "Miserere."

John Romano rendered a harp solo in his well known finished manner.

The act is a musical treat, still many in the audience walked out.

Either the act is too classical for Fourteenth Street or it may have been the bad position of the bill (closing the show), which caused some to wend their way to the street.

Old Timer.

Ed. C. Jordan and Company, in "Tom Katz's Night Out."

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 25.

"Drunk" acts have about had their day. "Tom Katz's Night Out" features the coming home of Tom about 2 A. M., his wife beating him into the Katz apartment by merely a second. Tom arrives fully "soaked," pulls an abundance of stunts, and finally finishes by loving up the housemaid. Here his wife enters and consumes enough evidence to warrant her breaking up furniture and bric-a-brac, and even to the stunt of pulling down the portieres. The maid was a chic little thing, and she found time to do a "skirt dance," but with no introduction as to why she desired to dance.

Tom Katz got some laughs because a "drunk" usually does. Otherwise the act is empty of anything substantial. Sixteen minutes, interior. Tod.

Paul Gordon and Ane Rica.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE, MATINEE, JUNE 30.

This cycling duo, in which the young man does some of the best single and carrying riding ever seen here, had a very capable assistant in Miss Rica, and their debut here June 30, was a very auspicious one.

Their attention was given principally to the high wheels, in which they showed a marked proficiency.

Most of their work was of an original order.

Miss Rica also did a neat skipping rope dance.

Old Timer.

Lorenz and Gallagher.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE, MATINEE, JUNE 30.

These old time performers have formed a partnership and are appearing in nearly the same act that the former appeared in for a long time with another partner.

The act went well on Monday, and they created a deal of laughter. Old Timer.

Harry Botter and Company, in "A Matrimonial Blissard."

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

This particular matrimonial blissard passes through the office of Lawyer "Ferry" Ferguson, a dried-up character of that profession, whose authority on things lawful had probably never been seriously taken. Ferry is visited by a Dick Savage, who desires advice for taking steps towards getting a divorce from his Republican wife. Dick was a Democrat, and therefore he failed to "love, honor and obey." He talked and walked through his past, slapped Ferry's hands at every opportunity, and abused the poor old guy's high hat and umbrella until he was satisfied he had advice enough, and went to an adjoining room to plan his harvest.

Hardly had Dicky made his getaway when Mrs. Dick Savage came, went through the same line of talk and action as her hubby, and Ferry was a dilapidated looking adviser by the time Dick came from his room and met wifery. Things were satisfactorily explained as to the right of a man's overcoat found hanging in Mrs. Dick's room by her husband, and her discovery of a pair of lady's silk gloves in Dicky's wardrobe. Each snatched therefrom for legal evidence, clothing, and Ferry believes himself the cause of the reconciliation.

The woman in the sketch did the best work with what material she had at hand, and she knows how to carry good fitting dresses. Too much, and therefore she failed to "love, honor and obey." The husband, a bit of over-acting by the "husband" spoiled her. Would otherwise be fairly good entertainment. Seventeen minutes, interior. Tod.

Flossie Le Vere and Company.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

A chic blonde girl is Flossie Le Vere, and with the assistance of two young men, she put over a neat singing and dancing act here last week to just as neat a reception. Flossie doesn't claim any Tetrazzini honors as a singer, but she warbles pleasantly enough to accompany her real clever stage personality and dancing ability.

The act opens with Miss Le Vere and one of the boys singing "I'd Do As Much for You," seated on a bench. They are joined by the other boy for the chorus, and finish it with a soft shoe dance. For this song Miss Le Vere wore a pretty red and black accordion-plaited dress and a large straw hat, and the boys wore gray suits.

The boys follow this with a soft shoe number, finishing with an Irish jig, while Flossie changes to a pretty pale blue gown for her "Wait Until We're Married, Dear" song. Then the boys again, in bell hop uniforms and on the wooden soles, giving Miss Le Vere time for another change to a white accordion-plaited dancing dress, white slippers and stockings, and "The Gum Shoe Man" gave Flossie the opportunity to show her as a flexible dancer she is, when the boys, looking their best in dress suits, joined her for the finish dance.

Good workers, all three, and merited enough for an early position on big time. About fourteen minutes, in one. Tod.

Seven Minstrel Kiddies.

CECIL SPOONER, THEATRE, MATINEE, JUNE 29.

Even though girl minstrel acts are nothing unusual, the Cecils are exceptionally clever ones. The kiddies (six girls and one boy) are really kiddies, for none of them can claim over the fifteen year mark. All of the youngsters have good voices and their numbers were well put over. Each kiddie has an opportunity to display his or her talent, and the singing of "You Made Me Love You" and a number, entitled "Sis," put on by the Morlarty Sisters, showed these juveniles to advantage. Master Carey got all there was out of his song, although the number could be improved by having the girls work in it with him.

The "It Takes a Little Rain with the Sunshine" number was also a wee bit shy on the possibilities that could have been built around it. The addition of a little more dancing would give several years "it takes over" in proper style. Allen Foster is credited with directing all of the numbers, and taking the act as it stands he neglected but little. It has the meat for a great kid act and when it has been rearranged will undoubtedly reach that stage of prosperity. Pete.

Dick Bernard and Company, in "The Animal Staffer."

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL, JUNE 30.

Dick Bernard is a brother of Sam Bernard. It has been so long since Dick has been on the stage that his appearance could easily be considered a debut. In make-up, voice and mannerisms he resembles his famous brother closely.

Mr. Bernard has for his offering a one act playlet, which in plot appears to be a condensed version of "The Man That Sued Still," which Jules Eckard Goodman wrote for the Grand Opera, and which that comedian played for several years. It is a comedy in proper style. Allen Foster is credited with directing all of the numbers, and taking the act as it stands he neglected but little. It has the meat for a great kid act and when it has been rearranged will undoubtedly reach that stage of prosperity. Pete.

Ruby Lusby and Girls.

PROCTOR'S FIFTH AVENUE, MATINEE, JUNE 30.

Put on the bill here at the last minute, Ruby Lusby, assisted by five girls and a male piano player, presented a singing specialty that will not cause any amount of comment.

Their whole performance can be summed up in one word—"It's a good thing!" It is burlesque, and will hardly do for the big time vaudeville.

In rendering one of the songs the piano player runs off the stage, followed by the girl, who being so old that it proved a dismal failure.

The act runs about twelve minutes, in one. Jack.

Bollinger and Reynolds.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

Man and woman tight rope and wire performers. Man works in tramp make-up and is an exceptionally good pantomime comedian. He is clever performer on the rope, doing the usual stunts and somersaults, etc., and featuring a stand on one foot on a chair, the hind legs of which he balances on the rope, having a lamp on his head the while.

The woman, in knee length dress, works alternately with him on the loose wire below, but by her work she does not appear to have been doing her end of the act very long. The act does very well. About eleven minutes, full stage. Tod.

Stayman and Hayden.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

German and black face comedy musicians. Both play on brass instruments as if they really understood their work, and we didn't doubt it after hearing a few duets and solos. Neither neglects his character in voice or action during their entire stay, and it helped them in going over to a big reception.

Their feature what they are there for—play—and offer just enough funny business and exchange chat to balance the act nicely. German works in band leader costume, the black face in a roomy white suit. Fourteen minutes, full stage. Tod.

Goldie Boys.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

A smooth working wooden shoe dancing duo. The boys dance very well together and alone, the smaller giving an exhibition of the material change of style in dance steps of to-day as compared with the dancing of the past, while his partner did equally good work in a comic dance number in "boob" make-up. A change from blue serge to gray suits and they finish together without the orchestra accompaniment. A good act for this time. About nine minutes. Tod.

Jack Strauss.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

Character singing comedian. Opens dress suit, top hat, etc., and did well, good voice with "Fullman Porters On Parade." Quick and clever change to Italian make-up, and under yellow flood he delivered a "fast" monologue to follow a song. His dialect is close to perfect in this character, and "Saramento" closed him a big favorite. Eight minutes, in one. Tod.

Vera Bettina.

PROCTOR'S TWENTY-THIRD STREET, JUNE 26.

Vera Bettina, plumply ungraceful, half talked and half sang four songs, but without the proper "get-over" spirit. Of course, the evening was warm and Vera is no lightweight, so whether she possesses a voice for a single act or not was not demonstrated at two shows on the above date. Eleven minutes, in one. Tod.

Summer Parks and Fairs

CANADIAN AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL FAIR.

(FROM CONSULAR AGENT WM. A. HEARD.)

The Fredericton New Brunswick, Biennial Fair, Sept. 15-20, 1913, is open to the Dominion of Canada and State of Maine for live stock, poultry and agricultural exhibits, while the Industrial section is open to all.

Premiums for live stock, poultry and agricultural exhibitions total $15,000; Industrial exhibitors will receive medals and diplomas. The Fredericton exhibition is considered the largest Eastern Canada, outside of Toronto and Ottawa. Attendance in 1911 was 50,000 to 60,000, but it is expected to be much larger this year due to several new railway lines.

In 1911 there were eleven American Industrial exhibits, representing fertilizer, roofing and building products, cream separators, tobacco, perfumes and extracts, farming machinery and spraying outfits. One American concern has already secured space for a large exhibit for exhibiting chocolate and cocoa. Space costs five to ten cents per square foot. This is an excellent opportunity for American manufacturers to bring their products to the attention of the people, especially agricultural machinery, as great activity is being shown, both by the government and the people, in the advancement of agriculture. In this connection it may be noted that a "better farming train" will tour New Brunswick beginning the middle of July.

Further information concerning the fair may be had from W. S. Hooper, secretary, Box 150, Fredericton, New Brunswick, Can.

(Special to THE CLIPPER.)

MONTREAL, June 28.—Dominion Park, the Coney Island of this city, was partly destroyed to-day, by a most spectacular fire. The park lies six miles East of the city, and the fire engines from Montreal proper were engaged to get there quickly. Several persons were injured in the crowds that gathered to see the blaze. The damage is estimated at $20,000.

AT LUNA PARK.

By far the best program so far this season was on the boards for the free circus at Luna Park, Coney Island, last week. The free performance, which is given in a large ring over the lagoon in the centre of the park, is continuous from noon until midnight. Luna was never more inviting than it is now, and record breaking crowds are in daily attendance.

"Fire and Sword," the realistic reproduction of the fall of Adrianople in the war between the Balkan States and Turkey, is the big show. All the raw rides and thrills are ranged along. There are sort of aqueous roller coasters, which are given a switch back and the chutes and aerial dips which furnish sensations. Tornado and Flood, the reproduction of the Omaha and Dayton disasters continues to draw, and there is a new animal show. This is the Darling aggregation with twenty groups of wild animals, far better trained than the average. Lions, tigers, hyenas and bears go through their work in a quiet obedience to their trainers.

As though a magician had waved his magic wand over its acres of beach land, Frederic Thompson has transformed the whole enclosure into a wonder place of novelties.

PALISADES' HOLIDAY BILL.

For the holiday week Manager Nicholas M. Schenck has, at the Palisades Amusement Park, a program of free attractions which is quite the most elaborate since the big New Jersey pleasure resort has been under the direction of the Schenck Brothers. Four days of July will be observed in a safe and sane manner, with a special display of fireworks, in the evening, on the plaza overlooking the Hudson River. In addition there will be animal fights by Frank Goodale, band concert by Prof. Loxton's Royal Italian Guards Band, and a bewildering array of circus acts.

In the Rustic Theatre the bill includes: May Ward, the Dresden doll comedienne, as the headliner; the Naconia Opera Co., the Grey Bros' Minstrels, Paul Asord's acrobatic troupe, and Jack and Jill, juvenile comedians. All of these features will be in evidence for the entire week, beginning Monday. On Thursday night the regular display of fireworks will be given.

LAGOON BOOMING.

The Lagoon, at Ludlow, Ky., opposite Cincinnati, is coming to the front this year as one of the most successful parks in America, due partially to its wonderful natural advantages, but more to the big free attractions that have been presented and to the costly amusements installed, one being the new Motordrome, costing over forty-five thousand dollars. Another improvement that has been helpful to the success of the Lagoon is the new sub-station, giving the street car line an extra 600-horse power, enabling them to increase the carrying capacity to nine thousand an hour in each direction, or during certain rush hours a total of eighteen thousand.

The Park Amusement Co. operates the Lagoon. The officers of the company are: Joel Ward, president; John V. Hunt, secretary and treasurer; J. J. Weaver, general manager; Arthur H. Wilber, acting manager and director of amusements.

FRED. W. WEAR and his wife (Lillian Seneca) are enjoying a much needed rest with Mr. Wear's parents at Great Falls, Mont.

ATLANTIC CITY NOTES.

The Hippodrome, on the Million Dollar Pier, opened June 30. The bill includes: J. Morris and his fifteen minstrel boys, Charles and Annie Glocker, Emmett Welch and company, the Four Bottomleys, the Luckers, Rex Comedy Circus, Archie Dunbar and the Carrays.

Geo. M. Cohan and Sam Harris were at the Shubert last week, also Eddie Dunn. Eddie Selwyn enjoyed himself on the Boardwalk last week.

Margaret Blington will be seen in "Within the Law" at the Apollo, July 14.

The Tennessee Avenue pier is expected to open this week.

Work on Nixon's Theatre is progressing rapidly.

Ned (Clothes) Norton gave the girls a treat last week by promenade the Boardwalk.

"Mme. Sherry," in tabloid form, is a special feature at the Savoy.

ADVERTISEMENTS AND SUBSCRIPTIONS RECEIVED AT WESTERN BUREAU OF NEW YORK CLIPPER, WARREN A. PATRICK, WESTERN MANAGER, 505 ASHLAND BLOCK, RANDOLPH AND CLARK STREETS, CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Monday, June 30.
This week brings to view one new play, "How Much Is a Million?" and sees McVicker's restored to the uses of the drama, a revival of "The Blindness of Virtue" having been arranged. The Cort, Studebaker, Grand and Garrick will continue in operation, retaining their popular attractions. The Victoria and Imperial will remain open for the rest of this week, and then close for a period of four weeks.

"How Much Is a Million?" is a new American comedy in four acts, and is on view at the Fine Arts Theatre. The setting of this comedy is in Washington Square, New York, and the story has to do particularly with an eccentric and impracticable writer of fairy tales, who wins an heiress over the heads of his wealthier competitors, and marries her after stipulating that each shall be financially independent. Up to this time none of his books have been published, but the young woman arranges to have one printed at her own expense, and he is made to believe that it is bringing in large royalties. Complications follow his discovery of the deception, and he leaves home because he cannot share his expenses equally. Subsequently he makes a fortune and the wife loses hers. The author of the play is C. K. Hopkins, who has had considerable experience as an actor. In the company besides the author are: Mrs. Hopkins, Grace Griswold, Lionel Belmont, Robert Brandon and others.

Supreme faith in his desire of the public for his goods was typified by T. C. Gleason today when he installed his company of players, with Frank Sheridan at McVicker's Theatre, in spite of the terrific heat. Two performances daily will be given by this company in "The Blindness of Virtue" for a four weeks' run, at exceedingly reasonable prices.

The same place had a marvelous run at the Studebaker during the past season with an all-English cast, although this is its first production within the exact bounds known as the Loop. And Mr. Gleason has spared no expense or pains to make his downtown debut a notable one. The drama itself is a sure-fire one, having been given a test while it passed faultlessly. The new production is spotless and the players are all notable. Others in the cast besides Frank Sheridan are: Edith Lyle, Thomas Swift, Winifred Burke, Hazel Kelly and Lora Bradstreet. Miss Burke will be remembered as the delineator of the title role in "The Vampire," with Robert Hilliard. Sheridan himself has been seen as the star in many a cast, and during the past season was in "A Thief for a Night," "The Unwritten Law" and "Fine Feathers," in Chicago theatres.

Fritz Scheff, now playing at the Studebaker, is so well pleased with the welcome he has received in the revival of "Mlle. Modiste" in Chicago, that she purposes continuing that opera throughout the next season.

On Tuesday, July 8, Joseph Santley, in "When Dreams Come True," will pass his one hundred and twenty-fifth performance at the Garrick.

Love, romance, thrills and laughter are the ingredients of "The Ghost Breaker," with H. B. Warner and his company, at the Cort Theatre. This is the eighth week.

The Oliver Morosco production, "The Tik-Tok Man of Oz," entered upon its sixth week of an all-summer engagement at Colman's Grand. Adele Rowland, Harry Kelly and Joe Whitehead have been added to the cast. Joe Whitehead is a popular vaudeville, having been seen recently at both the Palace Music Hall and Majestic Theatre, in Chicago, where he was a pronounced hit. His work in the new sphere is exceptionally fine.

AMERICAN MUSIC HALL (Samuel P. Gerzon, mgr.)—Dark.

AUDITORIUM (B. Ulrich, mgr.)—A benefit performance was given in the Auditorium, on Sunday, June 29, for the Actors' Hospital. A number of stars who were playing in the city took part, together with several who came here for that purpose only. The house will continue to be dark for some time.

BLACKSTONE (A. J. Pon, mgr.)—Dark.

CORT (H. J. Herrmann, mgr.)—"The Ghost Breaker," with H. B. Warner, is a pronounced success by this time, and is to continue indefinitely.

FINE ARTS THEATRE (Albert Perry, mgr.)—"How Much Is a Million?" a new comedy, presented by C. K. Hopkins, has been installed in this theatre.

GARRICK (Asher Levy, mgr.)—Joseph Santley, in "When Dreams Come True," is a true musical hit and a light pleasant warm weather entertainment.

GEORGE M. COHAN'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE (Harry J. Ridding, mgr.)—"The Tik-Tok Man of Oz" is an ideal summer show, and evidently will have an extended run.

ILLINOIS (W. J. Davis, mgr.)—Dark.

MCVICKER'S (J. G. Burch, mgr.)—"Cosmo Hamilton's domestic drama, 'The Blindness of Virtue,' is having its second loop production, this time at McVicker's Theatre, with Gleason's all star company, featuring Frank Sheridan.

OLYMPIC (Sam Lederer, mgr.)—The Olympic Theatre has discontinue moving pictures, and has closed its doors to be cleaned up for its fall opening, which is to be quite early in the season. Probably "Within the Law" will be the first booking.

POWERS' (Harry J. Powers, mgr.)—Paul J. Ralney's African hunt pictures.

PRINCESS (Wm. A. Singer, mgr.)—Dark.

STUDEBAKER (E. M. Leonard, mgr.)—Fritz Scheff in "Mlle. Modiste."
ZINGFELD (W. K. Ziegfeld, mgr.)—Dark.
COLUMBIA, Empire, Star and Garter, and Folly remain dark. The Columbia will be the first to open, with Ed. Wrothe, in "The Ginger Girls," July 12.
CROWN (F. W. Carruthers, mgr.)—Pictures.
IMPERIAL (Kilmt & Gatzolo, mgrs.)—"The Master of the House" will be the last attraction for the summer at the Imperial. The house will be closed for four weeks.
NATIONAL (John F. Barrett, mgr.)—Stock Co.
VICTORIA (Alfred H. Spink, mgr.)—"The Havoc" will finish at the Victoria, this week, after which the house will close for a period of four weeks.
PALACE MUSIC HALL (Mort H. Singer, mgr.)—Several feature attractions are at the Palace Music Hall this week, among them being Joseph Sheehan, late star of the Sheehan Opera Co., assisted by Antoinette Le Brun and company, in scenes from "Il Trovatore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana." Lincoln Beachey, the world's famous and daring aviator, who tells, in a humorous and witty way, his experiences and also illustrates them with moving pictures of his various flights; Jessie Busley, well known leading woman, is acting in Rupert Hughes' farcical sketch dealing with department store life, entitled "Miss Siss." Others on the bill are: Grace Edmond, a prima donna soprano; Mycroft and Vanity, novelty dancers; Smith, Cook and Brandon, comedians; Kramer and Morton, black face artists, and Meachan's novelties, consisting of a troupe of trained dogs.

MAJESTIC (Lynn B. Glover, mgr.)—Lulu Glaser is the chief attraction at the Majestic Theatre. Miss Glaser, who played the principal role in "Dolly Varden," "Mlle. Modiste," "The Girl and the Kaiser" and "Little Miss Madcap," is appearing in a playlet with music, entitled "First Love." Raymond W. Peck wrote the book. Miss Glaser is supported by Thos. D. Richards, Laddie Cliff, "England's Clever Boy Comedian," is seen in a repertoire of humorous songs and eccentric dances. The company also follows O'Connor present their original sketch, "Hired and Fired," designed for the purpose of extracting laughter. The Six Brown Bros., a company of comedy musicians, manage to mingle fun with artistic playing on a dozen or more instruments. Piano, Piano, Piano, a shooter of Italy, exhibits feats of marksmanship.

GREAT NORTHERN HIPPODROME (F. C. Eberts, mgr.)—The Great Northern Hippodrome will hereafter present fourteen acts on its program. Among the more prominent on the bill this week are: Reed's acrobatic bulldogs, Dr. Nixon's Spirit Paintings, Virginia Grant, "My Lady Dainty," a songstress; Fields and Allen, comedians; Guerrero and Carmen, instrumentalists; Jack Winkler Trio, sensational acrobats; Harry Bestry, comedian; Patterson Troupe, five young women who do an aerial act, and the Castillions, acrobats.

COLONIAL (George Harrison, mgr.)—The bill at the Colonial for this week contains a number of novelties. The bill includes: Mariott Twins and company, Brandy Twist Duo, Joseph Remington and company, in a comedy sketch; "The Millinery Salesman," Russian Balalaika (ten people), musical act; Hamanda Japs, comedy novelty acrobats; Regine and company; Melba and McDowell and company, in "The Sheriff"; Carl Randall, comedian; Robinson, Brown and Carbonette, the three cavaliers; Joe Mole and Brother, cycling comedians; Mack Dugal and company, scenic production.

ACADEMY (T. J. Carmody, mgr.)—Vaudeville.
APOLLO (R. L. Jacoby, mgr.)—Vaudeville.

WILLARD (J. G. Burch, mgr.)—Vaudeville.
WILSON (M. Licalzi, mgr.)—Vaudeville.

PAT CHAT.

WOOLFOLK RETURNS TO CHICAGO.
Boyle Woolfolk has returned from a four weeks' trip. His route covered the important cities of the United States and Canada, down through the United States and back by way of Denver. Mr. Woolfolk's tablids all seem to be doing well, and from all indications the demand for this class of entertainment bids fair to continue indefinitely.

VALERIE BECK GETS OFFER.
Valerie Beck, the pretty little songstress, who has been affording more than an ordinary degree of pleasure to Chicagoans for the past season, is considering the acceptance of ten weeks' time from the W. V. M. A. in Florida.

Valerie, for the last few weeks, has made hosts of friends and caused more than a favorable comment with her singing at the Riverview Cabaret, North American and the Olympic Theatre. Last week she added further laurels to her already bedecked laurels at the Washington and Oak Park. While undoubtedly the new time being considered by her would make an adorable ten weeks, still it would be bad to have her journey so far from the "Windy" City.

Moving pictures have been eliminated as part of the bill at the Great Northern Hippodrome. This was brought about after Manager Eberts had studied the situation and found out that the majority of his patrons considered this part as dead entertainment, for so often they had seen the "movie" at an earlier date in some other theatre.

KERRY MEAGHER accompanied by his wife, will sojourn at Atlantic City for the next four weeks for his summer vacation.

AL. ZIMMERMAN closed a very successful season with "The Pink Widow" tablids, June 8, at Racine, Wis. His headquarters will be in Chicago until he again takes up the managerial reins when the show goes out next season, which will be about Sept. 1.

HAZEL LEVIN, of the Jones, Linick & Schaefer office, left Saturday for a four weeks' vacation at Soda, Mich.

P. J. SCHAEFER returned recently from a fishing trip, where he got two hundred pounds of fish. He left Chicago again on Thursday last week on a business trip; destination not given.

DEKE DARROW's father died at Minneapolis.

ROBERT C. BURNS and LELAND C. WHITE, who had a show under a top at the Firemen's Reunion at Monroe, Wis., report that it was anything but a success.

The Holland-Dockel Troupe is going Sans Souci, being canceled by Earl Cox when the Hippodrome there continued to play vaudeville.

THE Popular Four, now composed of Paul Ortmeyer, baritone; Gus Goodwin, second tenor; George Peirce, first tenor, and Harry Willard, basso, opened on the Hopkins Circuit, placed by C. L. Carrell.

HARRY MILLER announces that the houses which he has been booking for several years will be a part of the Inter-State chain next season. The Inter-State plans to split tablids and vaudeville in eighteen houses in the States of Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Texas.

This Gem burlesque theatre has been purchased from Jones, Linick & Schaefer by Selig-Fichtenberg Co. Charles Bell, well known to all, a good friend and a member of The Showmen's League of America, has been installed as the new manager.

JONES, LINICK & SCHAEFER have installed Summer policy of pictures and an entertainer at their Willard Theatre, on Fifty-first Street. Gene Greene is there this week. All seats are ten cents.

TOM FAXTON and TELL TAYLOR have left for the woods in the North during the hot weather.

TILLIE ZICK, who made her debut as a dancer in Philadelphia with the Chicago-Philadelphia Grand Opera Co., in "Aida," has been engaged to dance at the Jones, Linick & Schaefer houses during July.

BELLE BAKER is off for the East.

PRESS matter says Joseph Santley has invented a new tango, with no suggestive features to those who cannot see it for art's sake.

THE Crown Theatre, under the regime of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, will open with vaudeville Aug. 18, playing five acts each half of the week. It will offer the same class of attractions as the Willard and Wilson. It is also barely possible that it will split with the Plaza, on North Avenue.

THE Academy, in Chicago, is closed for the season.

SANS SOUCI CABARET is now being booked by George Van, instead of Fred Webster, who will take it over for a week.

HARRY VAN FOSSEN, who played in Chicago for two consecutive weeks at the Palace Music Hall and Majestic, goes with Neil O'Brien's Minstrels.

ALEX. CHRISTENSEN has been booked at the Willard and Colonial, in Chicago, by Frank Doyle, of Jones, Linick & Schaefer.

LAURIE ORDWAY is recovering rapidly from her operation in Los Angeles.

It is reported that Lillian Russell will undertake vaudeville abroad.

FRANK DOYLE clinched a five years' contract with David King, of the National Theatre, in Louisville, Ky., while he was there last week. Mr. King, who also has charge of the National Theatre in Detroit, will book vaudeville in both houses through Jones, Linick & Schaefer.

CONLIN, STEELE and CARE, who were seen at the Majestic, in Chicago, and also the Palace, are booked to open again on the Orpheum time Minneapolis on Aug. 24.

THE Orpheum, at Racine, Wis., was closed by the press, in Duluth, Minn., was a Chicago visitor last week.

AL. H. WEBSTER, owner of the Webster Circuit, was in Chicago for the past few days.

MANNY NEWMAN, one of the La Vigne & Langner managers, was a Chicago visitor last week, and states that his new house in La Salle, Ill., will be ready to open about Labor Day. F. Frazer, of Mendota, Ill., another manager, was a La Vigne & Langner visitor last week. He is keeping his house open all summer, playing vaudeville from the La Salle and La Salle, Ill., and is managed by the Doutrick Agency, the "last half" of each week.

THE Thalia, another house booked from that agency, had the following show for the four days ending Sunday: Eggert and O'Rourke, Anna E. Iman and company, Katherine Keogh, Craig and Williams, and Three Nervos. The show there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday consisted of: Eul and La Vigne Sisters, Pauline Parks, Joe Bannister and company, Harry Van Fossen, and Five Juggling Normans.

FRANK DOYLE announces that the Orpheum, at Hammond, Ind., will close July 20 for three weeks, during which time the house will undergo renovation. The Orpheum at South Bend, Ind., is closed for the same process, and will open the middle of August.

THE Orpheum at Racine, Wis., was closed July 6 for a summer cleaning. Mr. Allard is planning a vacation in Europe, and will get away the middle of July.

MILTON POLLOCK, in "Speaking to Father," is to make the Orpheum tour and then the Inter-State.

FRANK Q. DOYLE was in court four or five days last week on the attachment proceedings of Jones, Linick & Schaefer against Alber's heirs. He expects to play the courts again the present week.

A NEW theatre at Norwood, O., opens Aug. 20, and the bookings have been awarded to Frank Q. Doyle, of the Jones, Linick & Schaefer Agency. The owner has four picture houses in Cincinnati, which may turn to vaudeville any time.

FRANCIS and MADEIRA MURRAY (La Petite Duo) appeared at the American Hospital benefit at the Auditorium last Sunday with great success. They are the children of Tom Murray, popular manager of the Thalia Theatre. They are highly talented.

HALTOM BOWELL is now located in Chicago. His tablids, "Henpecked Henry," closed at Port Huron, Mich., on Wednesday last week, and Powell came on here to occupy the office that W. S. Butterfield had fitted up for him in the Majestic Theatre. He is a well known actor, and has been successful in "Henpecked Henry." Trainor has been the backbone of the Billy Clifford show. Earle S. Dewey and Mabel Rogers have been engaged for "The Runaways," which Powell sends out next season. Dewey's Dancing Dolls recently completed the Pantages tour. It is a well known act. Dewey is a good light comedian and should prove a hit in "The Runaways." Mabel Rogers is also looked upon as ideal for her role. Hal Johnson will be starred in "The Arrival of Kitty." There will be no featured artists in the other tablids Powell is preparing, but care is being taken to have well balanced casts.

DAN FISHELL, of Dan and Arthur S. Fishell who operate the Princess Theatre, in St. Louis, and have lots of other theatrical interests a-borning, was in Chicago last week and gave out the news that he and his brother had leased the Garden Theatre, in Kansas City, Mo., of J. B. Swafford. The Fishells will take possession, Sept. 15, and will install popular priced musical comedy, with Frank Moulton and Grace Van Studdford featured. This will be something entirely new for Kansas City, and Fishell thinks it will capture the town. He is a good showman, and is probably right in his diagnosis of what that city needs.

ORDER OF MOOSE GROWS.

Provost is a brother of one of the national organizers of the Loyal Order of Moose, and he began working as an organizer for that society last week. He got thirty-eight members for the Chicago Lodge the first three days. The Great Lion, J. Schickler, general manager of Minnie Palmer's attractions;

Maurice L. Greenwald, manager for Minnie Palmer's "Running for Congress," and Harry Blaundin, of the Earl Co. office, were among those of vaudeville who joined owing to Provost's efforts. Provost will play the Great Northern Hippodrome week of July 7, and expects to secure a number of members that week.

FRANK Q. DOYLE has closed with a number of attractions for next season, such as: Edwin Ford and company, Hamada Japs, "The Sambo Girls," Chester's dogs, Gilmour Corbin, Wilfred Clark and company, H. B. Fitzgerald and Grace Cameron, C. L. Carrell offered Mr. Doyle Cecilia Loftus for four weeks starting early in September. The matter is still hanging fire. Should the contract be closed it will be the biggest money that Jones, Linick & Schaefer have ever paid.

PRINCESS LUBA MEROFF went to the Majestic Theatre at London, Ont., from Chicago, and returns in a few weeks to open with Hurlig & Seamon's Taxi Girls, as leading woman. Her engagements in Chicago were very pleasant, and won her honors.

C. S. HATCH is to have a burlesque show the coming season, and turn the New Linden Theatre over to the new wheel attractions. Hatch's show will be called "The Mirthmakers." Office room has been taken in Minnie Palmer's offices in the Crilly Building. Johnny Fogarty will be principal comedian of the new show, which has been booked by Addison Burkhardt.

VAUDEVILLE IN CHICAGO.

BILL AT MAJESTIC HEADED BY FRANK KEENAN—STELLA MAYHEW AND NONETTE AT PALACE—GOOD BILL AT COLONIAL.

(Special to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.)
CHICAGO, June 28.

PALACE.

An otherwise good solid bill, made stronger by the presence of Stella Mayhew and Nonette, the violinist who sings, constituted the two hours and a quarter of excellent warm weather entertainment at the Palace Music Hall for the past week. Three of the acts were new to Chicago, the others have paid us many visits in the past. However, the majority of those which have been seen here before were of strong enough calibre to be welcome the second time and still be enjoyed. A good example is Stella Mayhew, whom, perhaps everybody has heard at some time or other during her career, yet this comedienne found a very pleasant haven here, and was the big noise on the bill.

Norris' baboons, "Emperor" and "Empress," are two of the best monkeys in the business. They accomplish all the old tricks and a lot of new ones with a most likable preciseness, and on occasions really show startling intelligence, so much so that it nearly converts one to the Darwinian theory without hesitation. The act is staged in a novel way, and introduces both a dog and a squealing little pink pig, to which Empress feeds milk from a bottle. This is one of the acts by no means new to variety fans in Chicago, and may have been seen a little while back at another house.

Again in second position we stood repetition in the person of Harry Van Fossen, who made a short jump from the Majestic of last week to the Palace of this week. But Harry was not bored at that, and managed to turn away with his audience as usual. A more detailed review of the act may be found in the issue of June 28 of THE NEW YORK CLIPPER. Harry cannot sing, but he has a funny method of pronunciation which, after use it continually, succeeds in landing its desired effect to create mirth. Harry also adds a catchy little dance to his endeavors, which makes a good close for him. He received a nice hand and was forced to encore.

The Four Vaniers, presenting a story in song, entitled "A Fisherman's Betrothal," were enjoyed very much. It is safe to say that for all, although it was too warm to exert oneself to applaud very heartily. The number is pretty set, the costumes appropriate for the story, and the four some have excellent, strong voices. Ester De Lour was the feature of the affair, and her soprano singing was wildly marvelous. Every number received a satisfactory hand, although the quartette of singers did not take an encore, which they might have easily done.

"Fixing the Furnace" is the name of a most novel and comical little skit by Billy Burke, and presenting George Rolland and company. George is a slang artist, and thus somewhat of a comedian, always talking, but fortunately it is always something worth while while he is saying. His remarks were the hit of the proceedings, which otherwise would have amounted to very little. But Billy Kelly deserves a lot of credit for the fun exposé, as he is an eccentric little Englishman, with a correct cockney accent and a very ridiculous appearance, which Mr. Rolland accurately described as looking like an ant-eater. Mae Gerald, although not having very much to do, was quite satisfactory in every move. There is no plot, merely a humorous situation, which is squeezed funless by the able Mr. Rolland and Billy Kelly. They make a fine pair.

Nonette, another act not new to Chicago, appeared in No. 5, but new or old, Nonette will always be a hit on any big time bill. She sings and plays the violin equally well, and it would be hard to tell just which is the most likable part of the affair. She costumes herself in an attractive dress of many and varied colors, with a neat red turban hung jauntily upon a head of jet black hair, making a very pretty picture. Nonette, while playing, broke a string on her violin, but she made a rapid recovery by changing violins with the orchestra second leader, and continued the scintillating music with scarcely a break. Nonette received a large amount of applause.

W. L. Abington was quite appreciated on this, his first appearance here. He is playing in a skit with his own company, called "Honor Is Satisfied," and a cleverly contrived affair it is. The story shows Mr. Abington returning home from a trip to find his wife in the company of a friend whom he trusted and more than this, to find them having a little dinner in his friend's apartment. There is nothing new about this part, as hundreds of skits are based on these lines, but is, indeed, interesting to see how Mr. Abington handles the situation in his own philosophical way until things are again righted. Nina Herbert and Frank Hoins assist nicely, although the parts could be made a bit more emotional, for both seemed a bit unnatural in not endeavoring to explain more, which would be the natural trend of anyone in this situation.

It will suffice to say that Stella Mayhew and Billie Taylor are the same popular pair which they have been for some time past. It seems everything that Stella does is thorough fun, while the parts of the pair is more than one. Billie Taylor helps the kidding match along with his piano playing and a couple of songs.

The Curzon Sisters closed the show with an exceedingly daring display of iron jaw work. These two girls, so fearless in their way and yet modest withal, could not help but command the admiration of the spectators. It is quite safe to say that the act is unsurpassed in its line.

MAJESTIC.

The name of Frank Keenan comes first on Manager Glover's program for the week of June 23. Not that the rest of the names are not deserving, for they should, indeed, all be commended for adding their share to an excellent program, but Mr. Keenan comes first by all means, and the audience applauded madly his few moments of real acting, in a skit, entitled "Vindication," written by Willard Mack.

To start with, Valeria Sisters, two clever girls, appeared, and sang and danced, much to the delight of the enthusiastic crowd, who were gathered together on this warm night. This sister team may be classed as one of the best in vaudeville, and their talent has been presented to Chicagoans several times before. Unfortunately the ladies cannot sing, but they have a rapid-fire way of putting over their songs, which easily excuses the lack of voices. But right here it would be well to add that some new songs will have to be added to their repertoire in order to keep the stunt up to the standard which it has set. The comedienne of the pair is quite capable of getting the full amount of laughs out of her material, but once again we repeat that the act must be replenished with something more fresh and new. The dancing was very mediocre, but again it was a case of putting it over. The girls closed with a nice hand considering their position.

The Woods and Woods Trio, who appeared in an original pantomime, called an "Elopement by Wire," simply presented the old stunt of tight wire walking, in their own novel manner, and it was this act that distinguished it from the many other acts of its nature. The ability displayed on the wire demanded no special attention, for it was not superior to the hundreds of other like performers who have appeared on the Majestic bills. But it was disclosed with enough originality to bolster its worth up. The comedienne, although he worked hard and made a lot of noise, could hardly be called funny. Miss Ollie Wood, who according to the program, was the feature of the affair, appeared to be a vivacious little creature, full of life, and agile on her feet.

The worth-while part of the entertainment started with Hal and Frances, a lady and gentleman, whose names were not printed on the program, but to be sure Manager Glover showed exceedingly good taste when he acquired the pair, and put up with them in which Beck and Henry were originally billed. The whole proceedings were as honeyed and sweet as could be, and equally as fresh and clean. The girl of the duo is very pretty, modestly likable, and possesses a very true and clean face, which she knows how to use. The gentleman, on the other hand, was pleasant and breezy, and could also sing in true vaudeville style. As a result of this combination there was scarcely a noticeable fault, and Hal and Frances withdrew in the same modest manner, which they sang and danced, but not without a huge shower of sincere applause.

As for Williams, Thompson and Copeland, in their few minutes of laughing, called "The Jugglers Union," James Thompson, in black face make-up, was the whole show, the biggest and best laugh of all. The offering itself is nothing more than a bit of burlesque doings, but who cared as long as James was there to put it over. This genre, without doubt, is some comedian, and one of the few black face artists who does not become tiresome. Jack Williams and Carl Copeland were good enough indeed, but Jimmie accepted all the chances alone and didn't miff a one. The affair was full of speed, and thankfully no dull moments were obvious.

Robbins, who imitates various musical instruments for a living, turned out to be a deal more interesting than it appeared he would be from reading the program. He uses a humorous make-up and a bunch of paraphernalia to aid him in his comedy, but his ability lies less in his power to mimic and not as a comedian, and he must be judged by the former. From the standpoint of an imitator he did very nicely, in fact, excellent in certain spots, but it is not the kind of stuff that causes anyone to go into a riot, so that the hand which he received upon closing might well give us the right to say that this gentleman went extremely big.

It was a hot night for "The Top o' th' World" dancers, but they worked hard, nevertheless, until they were dripping with perspiration, and for this spirit alone they were worthy of both the attention and applause which they later received. There are twelve of them in all, and a dancing dozen they surely are. Dance, dance, dance, fast, slow, and every which way, but always good. Immense in ability but little in stature, which made it all the more attractive when dancing with the big bear, a part taken care very well by Harry Hewitt. Others who starred in dancing were Harry All and Paul Houlton, though very clean and new, were a bit worse in spots for wear. The chorus worked hard and fast, and knew how to dance.

We had just about had our fill of dancing when the Three Du-Fur Boys appeared and danced so splendidly that we received them with double the enthusiasm. The best way to describe them is to quote the program, which rightfully states that they offer every feature of dancing in a nut shell, a stunt which they did to perfection. The three of them worked in perfect unison throughout the various intricate steps and won a large burst of applause. The act is easily ranked among the most superior in its line.

pleasure in his episode, called "Vindication," for he solicited and received our deep interest from beginning to end. And how natural Mr. Keenan did act, and how realistic he made it all seem with his wonderful characterization of a Southern colonel. It was simply great every minute. The skit itself is an excellent vehicle for the star, and Mac Barnes, in the part of the Governor, gives able assistance. Mr. Keenan was forced to take a half dozen bows.

Hoey and Lee proved to be Hebrew comedians of mercurial sang snappy parodies and talked a lot of foolishness until they had them all laughing. In spite of the fine bill which preceded them, the boys came back very strong and closed with a big hand.

Harry Weber and the Wilson sensational dancers, who were late of Marie Dressler's Co., offered some of the latest fads in dancing in a pleasing way. They were well applauded for their graceful work, and more of it would have been readily accepted had the two artists saw fit to present it.

COLONIAL. Considering that this is practically the hottest period of the year it is amazing to see the huge patronage which Jones, Linick & Shaefer's Colonial plays to, both afternoon and evening. Another feature of the policy of this house is that they do not advertise a big headline, but endeavor, very successfully, to have six or seven standard acts, one equally as good as the other, and consequently making it live entertainment throughout, instead of sitting through a "dead" show waiting for the one big noise. Manager Harrison runs the show with a snap, which is indeed another attractive feature.

For the first half of this week the Jean King Quartette was the first number to arouse the seat-slumping audience from its state of coma and stir up a little enthusiasm. During such hot weather it is very easy for the audience to simply slide down in their seats and remain there, while it is equally as hard for the artists to pull them back up and make them applaud. But the Jean King Quartette proved to be such a pretty and pleasing musical stunt that it imbued the spectators with enough life to make them sit up and take notice and applaud quite heartily. Miss King, who formerly appeared alone, has surrounded herself with an able trio of singers, who render bits of opera, popular ballads and little ragtime in good style. It is true that the members might unbelt themselves a little more and not be quite so stiff, even though they are all dolled up in dress clothes and evening gowns. But they can sing, and that is enough to make it a worth while affair.

Knapp and Murray succeeded in making the audience laugh at a lot of their jokes. These two gentlemen pulled a lot of burlesque melodrama and "got by."

Murray's Canines were put through a number of clever stunts, such as tight wire walking and turning a complete forward somersault.

The Alvo Acrobatic Troupe did some excellent work. The straight gentleman of the trio was considerable of a wizard on the horizontal bars, and the feature attraction of the number. Their attempt at comedy was weak. The act closed with a usual amount of warm weather applause.

Combs Bros. offered a very pleasing physical culture act, also a series of Grecian poses, in which the boys used appropriate costumes to go with them. Half of the act, it might be well to say, was the winner, according to the banner displayed on the stage, of the first prize in the physical culture contest of the United States. That is fair enough, isn't it? In fact, that alone gives anyone a license to appear in present day vaudeville. The boys closed their act with a number of strong arm feats, which were both interesting and excellently executed, so that, all in all, this duo ranks as one of the best on the bill.

Nat Carr and company found no difficulty in winning the good graces of the audience right from the start. Mr. Carr is a well known Hebrew comedian in vaudeville, and knows how to handle the character in the correct manner, adding to it all with a good dialect. A little story was involved in the skit, enough to sort of hold it together and keep up the interest until the end. The young lady and gentleman assisting Mr. Carr were capable, but were a minor factor along side of the star.

BIG PREPARATIONS FOR THE FOURTH—NUMEROUS HOLIDAY FEATURES IN VOGUE.

(Special to THE NEW YORK CLIPPER.) CHICAGO, Saturday, June 28. AT SAN SOUZI GARDENS preparations are being made for a crowd on July 4. There will be numerous holiday features. A big celebration will be held in the park. There will be fireworks in the evening. The celebration will begin on Thursday night, and will continue during the afternoon and evening of the Fourth. Creators and his famous band will also entertain. The Winter Garden bill will include: Jay E. Kelly, tenor; Alma Fleming, singing comedienne; Archer and Ingersoll, dancers; the Acme Four, society entertainers; Frank Lowe, the wizard pianist, and others.

FOREST PARK has arranged for one of the greatest Fourth of July celebrations ever held in Chicago. A $12,000 fireworks display, depicting some of the memorable events in the history of the nation, will be a big feature of the amusement. The principal part of the affair will begin at 9.30 in the evening. From now on fireworks display will be given on every Wednesday and Saturday nights at this place.

WHITE CITY announces an additional attraction in the Great Raymond, the magician, who has taken possession of one of the large buildings in the park. The White City Ballet has changed its program, and will present a new terpsichorean endeavor, entitled "The Masque Ball." It is reported that the various shows are playing to capacity during this spell of warm weather. RIVERVIEW'S various rides are in prime favor, especially the new one, called "Shooting the Rapids." Both new and old are enjoying the best of patronage. The Chicago organizations whose object it is to perpetuate the folk songs of Norway will gather tomorrow at Riverview Park's picnic grounds for their annual outing. The sporting events for the week are baseball games and motor cycle races between Chicago and Cincinnati. RAVINIA PARK, Bismarck Gardens and Comiskey Park will exert for the Fourth of July demonstrations.

SUCH IS LIFE IN CHICAGO.

BY GAD.

Now that the tourist season is at hand, a few salient facts regarding Chicago, our great little city, may not prove amiss.

CHICAGO is bounded on the North by Morse's Garden. Morse has been dead for a number of years, but if you are curious to know who runs the resort, start someone.

ON THE South Chicago is bounded by the Stock Yards. Any hot night in Summer, with a South wind, will verify this statement.

ON THE West the city is bounded by Forest Park, where many wise citizens go, as it is some distance from said wind of the South.

ON THE East the city is washed by the waters of Lake Michigan, which is the only part of the city that ever gets a bath.

CHICAGO has a sky over it, but it is almost impossible for the visitor to believe this, on account of our well known smoke.

THE city has the largest number of smoke inspectors of any city in the world. Over two million and a half inspect smoke here every day.

ENGLANDWOOD is a part of Chicago, and was so called to give the vaudeville performers a chance to localize their jokes and get a laugh.

CHICAGO is known for its hog industry. If you doubt this try to get on a street car during the rush hours.

THAT black smudge just East of Michigan Avenue is the I. C. Railroad. It is not one of our beautiful lake, and the people are "next" to the I. C., but it doesn't do them any good.

THEY are going to electrify the I. C. some day. They should electrocute some of its employees first.

BORDERING on Michigan Avenue are some of the highest priced hotels in all the world. They overlook the lake, and a lot of other things besides, but not your money.

DIRECTLY to your right is the Art Institute. It is now the only place in the city where "September Morn" is on exhibit, and they don't back up the wagon.

THE Loop is a well known institution in Chicago. Gold was discovered there in large quantities some years ago by Geo. M. Cohan, and has continued to discover it every season since—in large quantities.

ANY part of the city may be reached from the Loop by elevated trains, providing cars stay on track, which they sometimes do.

THE Rialto is in the heart of the Loop, and is only a five minute walk from any of the principal hotels, which is why it was so located, as walking is quite popular with the average art, likewise less expensive.

THE College Inn is a famous eating emporium. You can get something to eat there if you are strong enough to carry a bribe heavy enough to catch a waiter's eye. A boy at the door takes your hat when you go in the College Inn. When you come out he hands it back, providing you hand him something in return. If you have any money left after tipping the waiter and hat boy, you may then go to a lunch room and get something to eat.

THERE are a few cheap lunch rooms in the Loop, but they don't make any money, merely enough to buy their owners half-million dollar homes.

WE ARE now entering the famous Lake Shore Drive. To the left is the beautiful home of Mrs. Potter Palmer. She loves her beautiful home so much that she lives eleven months of every year in Europe, and the other month in New York.

HERMAN ZIMMERMAN is good to get a hundred dollars if he is good for two weeks. We have to be good on a great deal less than that.

"HOW MUCH IS A MILLION?" is listed for production at the Fine Arts Theatre. Don't ask us. Ask one of the College Inn waiters. There are 3,424 languages and dialects in the entire world. Friend wife can speak 'em all on some occasions, believe us.

THE irony of fate. Harry Spingold, as related in this column last week, became possessed of an automobile. No sooner had he got it so that it would stand without his help than some miscreant stole it. Mr. Spingold says he doesn't know the true meaning of "irony of fate," but if it's a new line of swear words, it goes double and takes in the chauffeur.

NETTIE, the violinist who sings, is scoring her usual success at the Palace Music Hall, this week. "Floating Down the River" is her encore number.

LATER: Mr. Spingold went to the police regarding his auto. Every policeman on the force, however, swear he never saw it, and consequently Mr. S. will have to look elsewhere.

BARTOLA SALES CO. NOTES.

Harry Lawrence, Billy Edelmann, George Brommersburg and W. W. Riley are among local musicians who have inspected the Bartola Orchestra recently, being shown around by James H. Harrington. Every one of them thought the new invention a wonder.

Ray D. Lewis, of the Lee Lash Co., witnessed a demonstration of the Bartola Orchestra at Schiller Hall recently. He is quoted as saying that it is the greatest thing of the kind that ever came to his notice.

Messrs. Ashton and Burns, of Australia, partners of Messrs. Spencer, Carroll and Valdere, are in Chicago, en route to New York, and spent some time at the Chicago headquarters and exhibition hall of the Bartola Orchestra. Messrs. Ashton and Burns are going to Australia, via London, but Mr. Carroll will return to Chicago and arrange, it is said, for Bartolas for Australia, Philippine Islands, China and Japan.

Jack Baxley is singing at the Healy Theatre, in Fort Worth, Tex., where a Bartola Orchestra was recently installed, which is reported to be a big success.

W. McGowan, of the Grand Theatre, at Evanston, Ill., is going to install a Bartola Orchestra shortly.

Sam C. Haller, of San Francisco, stopped in Chicago recently to witness a demonstration of the Bartola Orchestra, and is said to have invested in several of the instruments. He is now in Evanston, Ill., to install Bartola Orchestras in place of mechanical orchestras at present in use.

OUT OF TOWN NEWS

CINCINNATI.

Another turn of the Thespian kaleidoscope is to give the Orpheum on Walnut Hills a stock company next season, and this time J. Herman Thuman, dramatic and musical director of the Orpheum, will see fortune on the hilltop. The Orpheum has certainly had a varied career since 1. M. Martin made his first heroic play to turn the trend of theatrical pilgrimage to the city on the hill. The Orpheum stock Co. will take hold Sept. 14, and a season of thirty weeks is outlined. Manager Thuman is now in New York looking the ground over for players and plays. He severs his newspaper connection in the city, and will retain his post of business manager of the May Festival. He has already booked Pavlova, the Russian dancer; Yaeze, the violinist, and Paderewski, the pianist, for Winter engagements. The weather continues of the parboiled sort, and the outdoor managers are in clover. Good Fourth of July added attractions are offered by all the resorts.

CHERRY PARK (H. M. Martin, mgr.)—Arthur Hahn, "The Man Who Plays to Beat the Band," comes June 29, to head the vaudeville bill at the Opera House. Others: The Two Gabberts, Demaree and Chabot, "The Kubbels of Vaudeville"; Les Arabes, and the Curtis Sisters.

ZOO (W. P. Whitlock, mgr.)—The Ben Greer Players began their second last week at Woodland Theatre 30. Large audiences greeted the favorites, and their engagement is now accepted.

Royer Smith. At the bank, Janina Butkiewicz, the dancer; Cornelius Van Vleet, the cellist; Edith Roberts, vocalist, and Lena Roberts, accompanist, are pleasing crowds.

R. F. KATZ (John P. Girard, mgr.)—Herald of Moose swarmed over the grounds 28, and 29 saw the Red Men and Bears in great evidence. Cabaret features are now clubhouse specialties.

B. F. KATZ (John P. Girard, mgr.)—Herald of Moose swarmed over the grounds 28, and 29 saw the Red Men and Bears in great evidence. Cabaret features are now clubhouse specialties.

LING FAY, modestly announced as former entertainer to the ex-Dowager Empress of China, is coming 29, in "A Night in the Orient." Others: Lydia Teanams Titus, McBride and Cavanaugh, Hipp and Kipp, and Victorine and Victor, Cincinnati in motion pictures and photoplays.

LUDLOW LAGOON (John J. Weaver, mgr.)—The motordrome races have taken precedence as the biggest money at the Kentucky resort. Three fireworks balloon ascensions are given weekly.

WALNUT STREET (W. F. Jackson, mgr.)—"The Battle of Gettysburg" begins a second week 29. One of the largest war crowd, however. Much enthusiasm has been displayed by the crowd.

ADITORIUM.—The Children's Entertainment Company of the Goldenberg School presented "Katsidni." Mabel Mason was the instructor of stage dancing.

OLYMPIC.—"The Promised Land" was presented under the auspices of the Zionists 24. In the cast of this prize Harvard play were: Daniel Matthews, Gabriel, and Louisa Rapaport, Jacob Hyman, Samuel Gottlieb, Harry Ellis Reed, Kurtz H. Streng, Edward Sussdorf, Miriam Kurtzman, George Kluber, Robert G. Toepfer, Nathan Bernstein. The play was staged by Edna Mannheim.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—"The Struggle" and "The Trapper's Mistake" are the feature films for the first half of the week beginning 29. Emmons and Collins continue as vocalists.

LYRIC, FAMILY, LYCEUM, HECK'S OPERA HOUSE and CENTURY continue to show motion pictures.

SUMMER NEWS EPIPHANY. C. C. LAWRENCE, "Box the Globe Trotter," has been giving his novel illustrated act at the nearby resorts. Norwood people gave him splendid hearings at the Norwood Park Airplane. He is traveling with Mrs. Lawrence and "the Foxes" as a regular feature of the week.

HE was a sailor on the Oregon, and went into vaudeville after a long time experience in the navy. He is a West Virginian.

THE banding of Star newsboys were guests at the Monday night performance at B. F. Keith's Theatre. They occupied the gallery and enjoyed the treat.

SIDNEY HYMAN and his troupe of life saving dogs are doing an aquatic act at the Ludlow Lagoon.

MANAGER JAKE RORER, leader of the B. F. Keith Orchestra, has been visiting Churchville, and he is telling the story on him that after attending a performance there he started out by the exit under the stage. Just force of habit.

BUILDING ASSOCIATION DAY at Chester Park, July 5, will be a notable affair.

ATVON'S Western Vaudeville was the soloist at a concert given at Music Hall by 1,000 singers of the North American Saengerbund and the United Singers of America.

EDMONTON, CAN.—Empire—Gus Edwards' "Kaleidoscope" with Eddie Cantor and George Kessel and company, twenty features in a strong bill, June 23-25. Scored. Others: Will Rogers, cowboy humorist; Jane Connelly and company, in a pleasing playlet, "Strong Cup of Tea"; Brent Hayes, band leader; Helen Terry, Rose Valerie Troupe, La Valeria and Melvin Stokes, in "A Dash of Spanish"; Edison's talking pictures. Big business. John Mason scored in "As a Man Thinks."

PANTAGES.—Joseph E. Howard and Isabel McCarne were the headlines 23 and week. Others: The "Trio," acrobats; Mabel Harper, comedienne; Lopez and Lopez, and Jack Taylor, Comedy.

LYCEUM.—The Permanent Players played to capacity in "The Deep Purple" 23 and week. Grace Alworth, "The Peacock," Kate, and James Byssell, as William Lake, scored another success. They were given excellent support by the balance of the company. Big business.

Musical Comedy Co., which has been playing for the past four weeks, closed for the week of 23, the company taking to the road, from Edmonton to Vancouver. The Musical Amusement Co. opens with a new company 30.

UNDER the auspices of the Edmonton Baseball Club, Con T. Kennedy, who has one of the largest carnival organizations will bring his nineteen acts to Edmonton, July 14, for one week. One of the unique features will be the choosing of a queen for the carnival. A valuable diamond ring will be presented to the popular young lady securing the largest number of votes. The contest opened Tuesday, June 24.

LONDON, CAN.—Grand (John R. Minibinnick, mgr.)—Lynan Howe's travel festival week of June 30.

SPRINGBANK PARK (W. L. Stewart, mgr.)—The season opened 23, with the Stoddard Stock Company. The "Peacock" and "The Peacock" are in the hands of Leah Stoddard and W. L. Stewart. Bills will be changed weekly.

NOTE.—The Western fair will be held Sept. 6-13. Attractions are now being booked.

HAMILTON, CAN.—Temple (J. G. Appleton, mgr.)—"The Palace of the King" week of June 30.

MOUNTAIN (G. H. Summers, mgr.)—For week of 30, "A Stranger in a Strange Land." "The Spendthrifts" to follow.

Springfield, Mass.—Poll's (O. Gordon Wright, mgr.)—"Under Southern Skies" June 23-25 took well with good houses. "The Rosary" will be home the next week.

BROADWAY (D. D. Scullen, mgr.)—"A Romance of the Underworld," June 23-25, was romanced by well filled houses. "The Nigger" 30-July 1.

A MUSKETEER WEDS.

John T. Farrell, one of the Three Musketeers, was married in Albany, N. Y., on Thursday, June 28, to Emma V. Higgins, of Brooklyn. The newly married pair were presented with a large floral horseshoe by the management of the Grand Theatre, in that city, where the act was working.

BURLESQUE NEWS

HAIL COLUMBIA.

I sat down late one evening after the Follies of the Day.
I floated to the Dreamlands with the Girls of the Gay White Way.
The Rising Sun cast a ruddy glow on trees and silver brooks,
I vow I saw the Roseland Girls standing with Golden Crooks.

It surely was a Beauty Parade, The Columbias showed me,
Of girls, and girls, and yet more girls, in one Big Jubilee.
The College Girls mixed with Social Mads, and Happy Widows, too,
All mingled in the merry throng, Cracker Jacks thro' and thro'.

These Queens of Paris held my breath, they were Belles of Beauty Row,
But I fainted at the heavyweights, oh! you Billy Watson's Show.
Ben Welch's and Dave Marion's Owen came fast, with head erect and proud,
There was Beauty, Youth and Folly in all that motley crowd.

Oh! Merry Girls from Hoppyland, and Gay New Yorkers, too,
With Hurting & Seamon's Beveries, decorated with Star and Garter anew,
Tell me, American Beauties, with all your smiles and curls,
Why I could dream the lifelong day about those Ginger Girls.

I dreamed of Rosey Posey Girls, with lights turned dim and low,
The Honeymoon Girls, too, passed in line, with Al Reeves' Beauty Show.
I saw in happy vision the Girls from Starland bright,
It seemed that Fate was good to me in rosy dreams that night.

The Troaders, Liberty Girls and Belman Show were there,
With Bon Ton Girls, the whole mass of pride and Vanity Fair.
I rubbed my eyes and looked again, saw Robbie's Beauty Show.
The Broadway Girls they marched along with Mollie Williams' Co.
When Miner's Big Frolic appeared in line my head in clover laid,
For I was drifting high above, with Sam Howe's Kissing Maid.

I drifted on with Harry Hastings' Big Show, my mind a mass of whirls,
The Watson Sisters hand in hand, those handsome, clever girls;
Last, but not least, the Tast Girls, those queens of happy mirth,
They rounded off my reverie and I came back to earth.

LILLIAN HART (Roach and Hart).

BURLESQUERS AT ATLANTIC CITY

Low Watson, Charles Yeager, Mrs. Yeager, Florence Bell and Kittle Davis form a merry quintette of bathers every day. Last Friday was almost unlucky for Low, as he nearly lost his bathing trunk while cavorting around on the beach. The girls are great tumblers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hastings are expected down this week.

Joe Golden, musical director of the Golden Crooks, is playing at Steeplechase Pier. Billie Davis, with season with the Marion Show, is sporting a natty bathing suit.

Ollie Ramsey, of the Golden Crooks, is enjoying a few weeks rest.

George Barrett, leader of Billy Watson's Big Show, and Mrs. Barrett are visiting. Last week George took the place of the Savoy's musical director, who was suffering from ptomaine poisoning.

Wm. S. Campbell brought his mother down to Jack Sydel's hotel. Phil Sheridan accompanied them. Rose Sydel and Christie Sheridan went down on Saturday, and they all come back to New York this week.

CHANGES AT ORPHEUM.

"Billy" Watson, after a forty-two weeks' tour with his big beauty show, has returned to his home in Paterson, N. J., and is devoting his time to superintending the remodeling and decorating of his Orpheum. The show house has undergone a thorough overhauling, and when it opens early in August it will be the handsomest show house in the State.

The ladies' matinees will be one of the features again next season, at ten and twenty-five cents. Smoking will not be permitted at the matinees.

Mr. Watson is altering his show house, has provided a ladies' retiring room.

Carl Schilling and his Empire Orchestra, which for the past three seasons at the Empire Theatre, has been engaged by Mr. Watson.

Thomas McCready, of St. Paul, Minn., will be the manager. He will arrive here about July 25. Low Watson will be treasurer.

The opening attraction at the Orpheum will be "The Rising Son" Co.

GIRLS FROM JOYLAND ROSTER.

Sim Williams has completed the cast for his Girls from Joyland Co., playing over the Progressive Circuit. Sim will introduce something new in the way of a leader. A. M. Zinn, the well known "Trisco", will produce the entire show, write all the numbers and instead of being a violin leader will use the piano in the pit. The cast includes: Jack Miller, Six English Rosebuds, Fred De Silvo, Lenore Butler, Walter C. Smith, Jimmy Galligan, Nick Murphy (the old reliable), and Edna Hooper. Danny Mack will pilot the show.

COLLINS WITH WATSON.

Eddie B. Collins, Irish comedian, who recently severed his connection with the firm of Whalen & Martell, Inc., has signed contracts to appear under the management of Billy "Beet Trust" Watson next season over the Columbia circuit, in the character of Grogan, in "Krausemeyer's Alley." Mr. Watson will furnish special paper for Mr. Collins.

PROGRESSIVES IN ST. LOUIS.

Contracts have been signed whereby the Progressives secure the lease of the Galey, the former Eastern wheel house, for ten years. The Columbia Amusement Co. have settled the claim of Mr. Crawford for the unexpired term of their contract. The Progressives will probably land a good house in Kansas City.

HONEY GIRLS ROSTER.

The roster for Huggle Bernard's Honey Girls includes: Barrett and Dunn, Barrett and Bell, Carrie Young, Marie Revere, Joe Murphy and Flossie McCloud. Huggle will head his own show. The staff: Izzy Grodz, manager; Henry Wolf, advance; Mike Hume, props; Jim Stewart, electrician; Arthur Young, carpenter.

NEWARK AND NEW YORK.

Frank Abbott is a busy commuter nowadays. People's New York, in the morning, and the Empire, Newark, in the afternoon, divide his attention.

At the Empire, Newark, Dave Marion will give an opening performance with his own company, Aug. 5.

CURLEY CLOSES WITH HOWE.

Pete Curley closed with the Sam Howe Show June 28, and was replaced by Fred Nolan, who played the Irish part during the regular season. Pete Curley has signed with Wash. Martin, for his Sunshine Girls, playing the Progressive circuit this season.

NEW BURLESQUE CORPORATION.

Fred W. Stair, of Toronto; James D. Barton and Ernest J. Carpenter have incorporated the Northwestern Theatrical Company, at Albany, N. Y.

Two Minutes' walk from the Empire.

HOUSES REPORTED FOR PROGRESSIVE CIRCUIT.

Although nothing authentic can be learned as to the houses acquired by the Progressive Circuit for their new wheel, from very good authority the following houses are given as those secured by the burlesque combine:

The Gotham and Dewey, in New York; the Haymarket, Chicago, and a new theatre under construction at Sixty-third and Halstead; the Troaders, Philadelphia, Pa.; Imperial, St. Louis; Colonial, Indianapolis; Cadillac, Detroit; Grand, Cleveland; Dr. Lothrop's two houses in Boston, the Grand Opera House and the Howard; the Colonial, Minneapolis; Star, St. Paul; Cock's, Rochester; Star, Buffalo; the Galey, St. Louis; P. W. Stair's house in Toronto, and the Bender, Utica.

The Howard, in Boston, will be a weekly guarantee stand of 1,500; the Colonial, Minneapolis, will play the 1,500 guarantee basis. Up to the present time twenty-six houses have been secured by the new wheel.

HERE AND THERE IN BURLESQUE.

MABELLE PARKER (Schwartz) little Earl and Muffet are spending a part of their vacation with friends in Omaha, Neb. On July 5 they will motor to Cheyenne and live on a ranch where Miss Parker expects to gather color for her new book which is in preparation.

LAWRENCE and THOMPSON have signed with Dave Marion, and will go with Marion's Own Show.

CHARLIE FINBERG goes ahead of Henry Dixon the coming season over the Columbia circuit.

HELEN ARMSTRONG, who underwent a serious operation at the Astor Sanatorium, on West Seventh Street, has recovered, and is about again.

BERT BAKER is back to the Columbia field after a serious operation.

MEYER HARRIS is spending a few idle hours in the mountains while others suffer from the heat and hot, but right on the job?

BERNARD and ROBERTS have signed to replace Bill Arlington and Eddie Johnson with the Golden Crooks—Jacob & Jermon's Own.

LEW HILTON has signed with E. A. Forrester for his American Beauty Show over the Columbia circuit.

DAN GUGENHEIMER left the heated pines of the Great White Way for Greenwood Lake, then to New Orleans for two weeks.

ALICE SAYLES has signed again for next season with Sam Howe.

ALICE SAYLES returned to the Ponyrow of Sam Howe's Show.

LONG TALKER will take his Girls from Missouri over the Progressive circuit this season.

SAM MICALS is spending a few weeks of his vacation in Philadelphia, Pa., combining pleasure with a few weeks in vaudeville.

MARGIE ADAMS closed with the Sam Howe Show at the Columbia, June 28, and will take a much needed rest at her home in Trenton, N. J.

SILVIA JASON, the little soubrette with the "Kissing Maid," has signed with the Red Rose for next season.

MAY HOWARD will have a show over the Progressive circuit this season with J. D. Barton.

HOW MANY WELCHES ARE THERE?

Ben Welch had a kind of a family reunion July 1, in honor of his brother's return from Australia, the Rev. David Woolinsky, who has been in Australia for forty-five years. Ben took a crowd of friends for a sailing trip to the "Alicia," owned by his brother, Jack Phila. Those in the party were: The three brothers, Ben Schaffer, Frank Freeman, Pat Kinney and Frank Murphy. The bunch sang "If It Weren't for the Irish and the Jews."

RUDE PUTS ONE OVER.

Rube Bernstein is always on the job, and certainly gave the boys something to sit up and take notice about last week when he signed up Dan Coleman, that inimitable Irish comedian, for his Big Review show, over the Progressive Circuit.

CHARLES ROBINSON, CENSOR.

Charles Robinson has been appointed by the Progressive Board of Directors to act as a general overseer of the productions on the wheel, and will pass upon all shows before they take the road.

F. A. NELKEN IN TOWN.

F. A. Nelken, of the Avenue Theatre, Detroit, is spending a few days' vacation in New York, prior to the opening of the Detroit house. F. A. is accompanied by his wife.

MEYER HARRIS GAFILTER FISHING.

Letter at hand from Meyer Harris, who is spending his vacation at Catskill, N. Y. Nothing but a great time all the time, writes Meyer. Regards to all Lox members.

GERTRUDE HAYES AT INDIAN LAKE.

Bark from a Maine birch tree as a souvenir postal was received from Gertrude Hayes, who is spending her vacation at Joe Indian Lake, Me.

Try this treatment for whitening the skin to-night, just before you retire

Sallow, Freckled Skins

HOW TO WHITEN THEM

Just before you retire, cleanse the skin thoroughly by washing in your usual way with Woodbury's Facial Soap and lukewarm water. Wipe off the surplus moisture, but leave the skin slightly damp. Now dip the cake of Woodbury's in a bowl of water and go over your face and throat several times with the cake itself. Let its lather remain on over night, and wash again with Woodbury's in your usual way next morning.

Use this treatment with Woodbury's every night—unless your skin should become too sensitive, in which case discontinue until this sensitive feeling disappears. A marked improvement will be seen after a few applications, and your skin will become just what you want it to be. Woodbury's Facial Soap costs 25c a cake. No one hesitates at the price after their first cake. Tear off the illustration of the cake shown below and put it in your purse as a reminder to get a cake today.

Woodbury's Facial Soap

For sale by dealers throughout the United States and Canada

Write today for samples

For 10 we will send a sample cake. For 10c samples of Woodbury's Facial Soap, Facial Cream and Facial Powder. Write to-day to the Andrew Jergens Co., Dept. P-7, Spring Grove Avenue, Cincinnati, O.

In Canada, address the Andrew Jergens Co., Ltd., Dept. P-7, Perth, Ontario.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

HENRY GEORGE HIBBERT, SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

Clipper Bureau, 5 South Square Gray's Inn, London, W. C.

JUNE 21.

There is the false kind of activity not uncommon at this season. The hot weather finds the weak spots; prudent managers declare for a vacation; rash speculators step in and possess themselves of theatres for seasons that are sometimes very short. James Douglas, for instance, who took the Aldwych to produce his weird melodrama, entitled "The Duchess' Necklace," only managed six performances. He is said to have lost quite a lot of money. Will it be believed that, on the eve of Midsummer, your correspondent has to record the production of three new plays, two revivals and many minor happenings. The critics are asking Edward Hemmerde whether it is assistant to his dignity as a lawyer and as a politician holding a judicial post, to put his name to such plays as "A Cardinal's Romance," which was produced at the Savoy on Saturday. A wealthy young man, whose father had been of loose morality was led to believe that the sweet girl whom he had married was his own sister. It is a disgusting situation. Investigation would probably have satisfied him that there had been a mistake; but he promptly separated from his wife and child, became a Catholic priest, and eventually a cardinal. When at last he learned that he had been misled, he had nothing better to offer the unhappy woman than the prospect of a re-union in Heaven. Mr. Hemmerde's method of dealing with the situation most arbitrarily set up is laboriously melodramatic, and his dialogue is pompous.

Sir Herbert Tree revived "Twelfth Night" at His Majesty's Theatre on Monday. His Malvollio is well known and well liked. The novelty of the occasion is a very charming performance of Viola, by Phyllis Neilson Terry.

Doubtless because the novelties of the season have not worked out very well, the disposition of managers is toward revivals. "Jim the Penman," so popular years ago on your side as well as on this was done at the Comedy Theatre on Wednesday, with Warren McKinnell as Jim, Grace Lane as Mrs. Ralston, and J. Fisher White as Baron Hartfeldt. It had a good reception.

On the same night, Rutherford Barrington, the old Savoyard, made, not by any means his first adventure in management at the Globe Theatre. Then and there producing a play called "The Gilded Pill," by J. Spencer Clouston. But for Barrington's old performance, as a shrewd, meddlesome old man, with a kind heart and a provoking habit of being funny, Bill Deniston by name, the play would not amount to much. It depicts the life of a family, four in number, Sir Bevis Sinton Glastonbury, his brother and sisters. They lived in a fine house, on an income derived, as he believed, from the investments of their father, a deceased aristocrat, and they tried to cut a fine figure in the country, though they were, in truth, an uninteresting lot. They were specially unkind to a little girl, a poor relation. There appeared on the scene, their trustee, Bill Deniston, to whom they behaved so disgustingly that the truth had to be revealed.

Weedon Grosmith sketch, "A Week End," is just a quarrel scene between husband and wife on the eve of a vacation.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings" was duly revived at the Playhouse on Monday, and well received. Kate Moffatt resumed her original character as Bunty, but Graham Moffatt, much protesting, has been replaced by Robert Morand. No love is lost between Cyril Maude and Moffatt!

"Jadore Ca" has been carefully revised and many new scenes added. Its run at the Middlesex now promises to be indefinite. "Brewster's Millions" moved into the Strand Theatre on Monday—and seems to have taken a new lease of life. It is done by Percy Hutcheson's road company, which lately played it for a month at the Prince's. Drury Lane box office is besieged by applicants for seats to witness the performances of Russian opera and ballet, which begin, under the management of Thomas Beecham, on Monday.

For years the censor has strenuously refused to license any play based on the Scriptures, though Martin Harvey got "Great Possessions" through, he thinks because the official did not recognize the originals of the characters! Anyhow, there has been a frank acceptance of "Joseph and His Brethren" on Sir Herbert Tree's account, and the result is that all the people who have been writing Scripture plays for the last twenty years, are raising the manuscripts upon the devoted head of the poor censor!

Cyril Maude took his leave of the London playgoer after the last performance of "The Headmaster" at the Playhouse, in a pleasant speech, recalling that he had been on the stage thirty years that very night. He began in America, which country he would shortly revisit.

Charles Urban has secured the world's rights to produce Marjorie's "Mary Magdalen," with his Kinemacolor process.

John Glendinning produces "The Rosary" at the Elephant and Castle, an outlying London theatre, on Monday. Other engagements prevent Jessie Millward's appearance with him. Beatrice Burdett will accordingly play the heroine.

There was a pleasant interchange of civilities at the Duke of York's Theatre the other afternoon. The French company, playing "L'Habit Vert" at the New Theatre, witnessed the performance of "The Yellow Jacket," and was afterwards entertained at a tea party.

"L'Habit Vert" is played for the last time to-night. On Monday Simone will appear in Bernstein's "Secret."

A play by George Moore, the novelist, is shortly to be produced by the stage society. It is entitled "Esther Waters."

At the request of the king and queen, Melba and Caruso are both to appear in "La Bohème" at the opera on Monday.

A most interesting collection of books, manuscripts and oddments associated with the sage, made by the late Bramstoker, Irving's manager, has been disposed of by auction sale during the past few days.

Sir George Alexander celebrated his fifty-third birthday on Wednesday. "Diplomacy" will be played at Wyndham's Theatre for the one hundredth time to-night. A. E. Matthews has joined the cast.

"Last nights" of "The Dancing Mistress," at the Adelphi are announced. May Isabel Fisk, the American authoress and entertainer, appeared in a new character on Monday, when she successfully produced two one act plays at the Little Theatre. One entitled "The Cormorant," included a fine character study of an old man of good birth, idle and selfish, maintained in luxury by the infinite sacrifice of his wife, his boys and his daughter. The other, called "Greater Love Than This," tells the tragical story of a sculptress to whose Paris studio there came an aristocratic masquerading as an amateur. He made love to her, and then broke her heart with the announcement that he was engaged to a woman of his own rank. Albert Tofts, the famous sculptor, fixed up the studio scene for Miss Fisk. It was most realistic.

A reception to meet Irving Berlin was given by the directors of the Moss Empires at the Savoy Hotel on Thursday. Mr. Bishop shortly joins the company at the Hippodrome. Berlin said: "I can't write a note of music. The melodies—the rhythm and lilt are taken from the negroes—strike my ears, I tell my pianist to play them, and I get another man to write them. That's how it's done. Berlin admits to an income of $100,000 in royalties.

Hugh Mackintosh, the Australian magnate, is in London.

Charles Hadden Chambers has delivered to Charles Frohman the completed manuscript of a play founded on the novel, "Tante." Mr. Frohman will produce it in New York toward the end of the year, but Mr. Chambers retains the English rights.

MILO C. RICHTER.

The song writer, whose latest march song hit, "Milly Terry" is said to be as rousing as "Dixie." Published by Shapiro, Bernstein & Co.

The "leading heavy" among wardrobe trunks

This new heavy-duty Theatrical Trunk is starring as "The Amazon." Very light in weight. Produced by "Likly" of Rochester, N.Y. Backed by 69 years' experience in the making of fine, durable trunks and bags.

This "Likly" Trunk—"The Amazon"—is beyond question the most durable wardrobe trunk ever designed for any purpose. The foundation box is a three-ply basswood veneer. Covered and lined with strongest granite vulcanized fibre, harmonizing with the color of the trunk.

Corner caps and bottom angle protectors are of cold rolled steel. All rivets are hand driven. Extra heavy hinges, bolts and catches. The self-locking Yale lock is of cast bronze.

Carries 15 to 18 suits or gowns. The model for women has an extra hat-box drawer of special design. Get full details from our catalog.

The line of "Likly" Luggage is the widest in America. We have a special Theatrical Luggage Booklet which every member of the profession should have. Send for a copy today. It tells the points of difference between good and bad luggage.

HENRY LIKLY & COMPANY

Sold by high class dealers.

Mary Elizabeth is here again. She begins a tour of the provinces at the Alhambra, Glasgow, on Monday.

George Bevan has now got to work on the Moss Empires tour with "The Sign of the Cross." He opened at the Empire, Stratford, on Monday.

Arrivals by the Mauretania, on Tuesday, were: Alice Lloyd, Kitty Gordon, Edna May, Walter Hast, the Reals and P. J. Selbit.

McIntyre and Heath, who took ten years to make up their minds to visit this country, opened at the London Hippodrome, in "Hello! Ragtime," on Monday.

Claude Bostock, the agent, is on a visit to London.

Alfred Butt and his colleagues of the Variety Controlling Company are said to be at the back of the new Dublin music hall.

A receiving order in bankruptcy has been made against Joe O'Gorman.

It is announced that the death of Mrs. J. R. Elliott, of the Elliott-Savonas will in no way affect the constitution or conduct of the troupe.

Charles Gulliver, managing director of what used to be the Gibbons Circuit, had a sudden attack of illness on Thursday, necessitating an immediate, happily, quite successful, operation.

Samuel Lloyd has been refused a license to trade as an agent on the representation of the Federation that contracts, in respect of which he had made himself responsible as a Glasgow manager, remained unfulfilled. Lloyd declares he will appeal.

Latest news of the Sisters Macarrie came from Bombay.

Oswald Stoll will install a wonderful series of pictures illustrative of "Parsifal," at the Cusum on Monday.

Low Stern, who declares that English audiences are the best ever, has lately lost his father.

Seymour Hicks leaves the Empire revue to-night. They do not propose to replace him exactly, but to rearrange the show.

Zena Dare, who is now the Hon. Mrs. Maurice Brett, a daughter-in-law of Lord Esher, gave birth to a daughter on Wednesday.

Having been published at twelve cents, on Saturday, for seventy-five years, The Era is now to be issued on Wednesday, price two cents. Some time ago it was sold by Edward Ledger, its many years proprietor and manager, to William Bass, the brewer, for upwards of $500,000.

Edward Pickering, the much esteemed "Pick," of the Empire, the Alhambra and the Palace, writes me from Johannesburg: "The Palladium here has closed, after a very short and inglorious life. I have been appointed manager of the Empire, and took over my duties on May 25. (The African Theatres Trust) my firm have been awfully good in organizing performances to help to pay the fares of Palladium artists to London. The African Theatres Trust have also taken over the Palladium, but mean to keep it closed. The theatrical and vaudeville business out here is at a very low ebb, and showmen's bankruptcies are weekly occurrences. However, I am looking forward to better times when the air is cleared. The number of bioscope shows in this town is ridiculously in excess of the demand."

Some locations for Monday next are: Herbert Lloyd's Minstrels, Hippodrome, Bury; Alice Pierce, Hippodrome, Putney; The Two Bobs, Oxford and Hippodrome, Walsden; The Two Britons, Palace, Warrington; Hedges Brothers and Jacobson, Empire, Stratford; Chung Ling Soo, Empire, Sunderland; Jen Latona, Empire, Ardwick; B. G. Knowles, Alhambra, Glasgow; Carl Hertz, Theatre Royal, Edinburgh; Covell and Gillette, Hippodrome, Newcastle; Byers and Hermon, Empire, Edmonton; W. C. Fields, London Coliseum; Fanny Fields, Empire, Shepherd's Bush; Charles Aldrich, London Pavilion; Melville Gideon, London Pavilion; Grant and Grant, Hippodrome, Brighton; Wilson and Waring, Empire, Sheffield; Anna Dorothy, Empire, Bradford; Stelling and Revell, Empire, Edinburgh; Barton and Ashley, Empire, Glasgow; A. D. Robbins, London Hippodrome; Beth Tate, Empire, Kilburn.

Radiant Beauty For Every Woman

Just a little touch of CARMEN enhances the lovely, youthful complexion nature gave you. It will not "show powder" or rub off until removed.

CARMEN Complexion POWDER

Quite different from all others. Harmless, pure, fine, will not injure most sensitive skin—but rather benefits. Fascinating enduring fragrance.

White, Flesh, Cream, Pink, Toilet, Blue, 50c everywhere.

Stafford Miller Co., 539 Olive Street, St. Louis, Mo.

HAIR ON THE FACE

Neck and Arms

Instantly removed without injury to the most delicate skin. In compounding, an incomplete mixture was accidentally spilled on the back of the hand, and on washing afterward, it was discovered that the hair was completely removed.

We named the new discovery "MODENE." Apply for a few minutes and the hair disappears as if by magic. IT CANNOT FAIL. Modene supercharges electrolysis. Used by people of refinement, and recommended by all who have tested its merits.

Modene is now for sale at drug stores, or will be sent by mail in safety mailing cases on receipt of $1.00 per bottle. Postage stamps taken. Address Modene Manufacturing Co., Dept. 11, Cincinnati, O.

OUT OF TOWN NEWS

W. W. SPARKS, Scenic Artist, Little Theatre, Phila., Pa.

PHILADELPHIA.

The Liberty closed its season on 28, and all that still remain open to defy the hot weather are the Metropolitan, Keith's Chestnut, Keystone and Nixon. Wherever there is an open lot near a residential section, an airplane is being opened, and even these are doing big business in which the profits are large as the running expenses are quite limited.

GARDNER (Nixon & Zimmerman, mgrs.)—The "Quo Vadis?" film pictures continue to excite the admiration of everyone, and as a result the attendance continues to be large. Starting 30 is the eighth week.

FOURSEVEN (Nixon & Zimmerman, mgrs.)—The kinematical pictures had good patronage last week. The second week begins 30.

CHESTNUT (Will A. Page, mgr.)—The Orpheum Players offer "The Circus Girl" week of 29. There was considerable interest manifested last week in the revival of "Three Weeks." Gertrude Dallas was the queen and did perfect work. Edward E.

Gerard, Hastings and Wilson, Horner Barnett and moving pictures.

KEYSTONE (M. W. Taylor, mgr.)—"Nursery Rhymes" Martini and Maximilian, Wilson, Franklin and company, Holden and Harrison, Ethel Golden, Yamamoto Bros. and moving pictures.

LIBERTY (M. W. Taylor, mgr.)—The season, which has been a most highly satisfactory one, came to a close on 28.

GAVITY (John P. Eckhardt, mgr.)—The Summer season continues despite the warm weather conditions. The crowds were of good size last week, and enjoyed the show as well as the boxing contests. For week of 30 One Round Hogan will be the fist star.

WILLOW GROVE PARK (J. T. Davies, mgr.)—Canway's Band, which has been in popular selections, and the big pavilion was crowded at all of the concerts. On July 6, Victor Herbert and his orchestra starts an engagement which continues until 19. The amusements are all being well patronized.

WOODSIDE PARK (Wm. C. Martin, mgr.)—Miss Soller and her male symphony band scored a big success last week. Business, so far, this season has been unusually good and the two dozen amusement features are all doing excellently.

POINT BREEZE PARK (Fred McClellan, mgr.)—All roads are now leading to this resort which is becoming more and more popular with the downtown residents. The big attraction last week was the free show offered by Captain Dan. In his "Dip of Death." The motordome has exciting

This effort to build a picture house at Broad and Thompson Streets has been renewed despite the fact that the Common Pleas Court decided that the offensive occupation clause in the deed applied to movies. Thomas M. Dougherty, to whom the house was to have been leased, has petitioned the courts for leave to intervene as a party in interest in order that the case may be applied to the Supreme Court.

In order to prevent the erection of buildings for amusement purposes near houses of worship a bill has been passed by the State Legislature, which provides that no playhouse shall be erected within 500 feet of any building used for religious purposes.

The Girard Opera House closed its season of moving pictures on 28. This it is announced, concludes the State & Havlin control of the house, as it now passes into the control of Fred G. Nixon-Niddling, who will expend $30,000 on its interior reconstruction, and will re-open the theatre in September as a popular priced vaudeville house.

Carbondale, Pa.—Grand (Frank R. Trullis, mgr.) the High School commencement exercises June 29 had capacity, and were delightful. Thirty-two were awarded diplomas. Charles Calvert Ellis, A.M., Ph.D., of Juniata College, delivered a strong, practical address on the theme: "Hitting the Mark." Elegant music was furnished by Lynott's Orchestra.

INAT (L. A. Farrell, mgr.)—Lynott's Orchestra and daily change of photoplays. Special added attraction each Wednesday evening.

GEM (Alfonso Sirrianni, mgr.)—Mechanical orchestra and a strong daily program of the best picture previews, which incorporate the Animated Weekly service.

SAVOY (The Screen Amusement Co., mgrs.)—Excellent music and change of pictures daily.

VICTORIA (Louis Matile, mgr.)—Music and pictures of high character, and daily change of films.

LAKE LODGE.—This resort, with modern equipment, is doing well.

Seranton, Pa.—Poll (John H. Docking, mgr.) for week of June 29, the Poll Stock Co., supporting Alfred Swenson and Lillian Beyer, present "The Greyhound."

ACADEMY (A. F. Winstrom, mgr.)—Photoplays changed daily and special feature nights.

ARIAL GARDEN (M. J. Comerford, mgr.)—Kinematical pictures and vaudeville. Pictures changed daily, vaudeville twice a week.

BLOOM DREAMS, WONDER, MANHATTAN, COLONIAL, HYPHOCOME, VICTORIA, WONDERLAND and ORPHEUM, moving pictures.

Greensburg, Pa.—Oakford Park (Earl Moore, mgr.) Moore's Players presented "Reaping the Harvest." June 23-25. Lora Thorne 26-28.

South Bend, Ind.—The Gentry Shows played to two capacity audiences June 29. F. H. Gentry is in active charge and does everything possible to make things pleasant. W. E. Wells handles most of the one ring acts and has his ponies and dogs working nicely. His baseball elephants were the hit of the bill and equal to similar acts with the big shows. There are two very good acrobatic acts, the Thomas Trio, in a comedy trampoline bar act, were a big hit, and the Four Da Omas offered a neat aerial act. Mrs. Da Omas is the only woman with the show. Beverly White did some good work ahead. The show opened in Detroit, Mich., 23, for six days, on different lots. The advance guard of the Barnum & Bailey Show has been here. The show is due to appear here July 18. The Ringling Show will play but one town in Indiana on their trip West. Ft. Wayne, July 12. The Majestic is the only show house open here, and is playing two acts of vaudeville and pictures. The Orpheum is being re-modeled, enlarged and re-decorated. The new Alhart house will be ready in Elkhart, late in the Fall. Grace Scott will head the company which will occupy H. G. Sommers' Auditorium from Sept. 1. The Huntington Stock played thirty-two weeks, to good business there last season.

LOIS (E. B. Sheets, mgr.)—Vaudeville and pictures.

YOUNG'S AUDITORIUM (Sam Young, mgr.)—Baxter Stock Co. will close here June 29. Beginning 22 Manager Young introduced vaudeville between acts. The bill included: Boyle Bros. and Billy Link, and Blossom Robinson.

NOTES.—Major J. M. Burke, in advance of the Two Bills' Show, was here 18. Brazil Eagles have changed carnival date to week of July 4. Brazil Chautauqua program, 15-21, consist of: Rospath Opera Co., Adam Wade, Joseph Folk, John R. Ratto and Emil Seidel.

Oakland, Cal.—Maconough (F. A. Geiss, mgr.) is dark.

YE LIBERTY (H. W. Bishop, mgr.)—Bishop's Players present "Arizona" June 30 and week. The policy of presenting two different plays, one at 7 p. m., the other at 9 p. m., was not a success. Manager Bishop announces that in future only one stock production will be given weekly.

Common Sugar Made Into Dollars

Everywhere the boys are doing it. One pound of sugar makes 50 five-cent packages of candy. Takes like hot cakes. Gets the crowds and the money. Lots of the boys make the price of the machine the first day out. Best money-getter yet for fairs, picnics or wherever the crowds gather.

EMPIRE Candy Floss Machine

Can you beat a machine that will turn you in $75 to $100 a day right along, and all good clean money. You can do this with one of these Empire machines. Let us prove it. Write for facts. We'll show you what others are doing and what you can do. Write today for catalog E-1.

Stevens Mfg. & Supply Co.
Fisher Bldg. Chicago, Ill.
Also special catalogs of pop corn and peanut roasters and ice cream cone machines. Free if you want them.

DELATONE

Removes Hair or Fuzz from Face, Neck or Arms. Delatone is an old and well-known scientific preparation in powder form, for the quick removal of hairy growths - no matter how thick or stubborn they may be. A paste is made with some Delatone and water, then spread on hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off and the hairs have vanished. When the skin is washed it will be found to be white, firm and hairless. Delatone is used by thousands of people and is highly recommended by Mrs. Mac Martin, the authority on "Beauty." Druggists sell Delatone, or an original one-ounce jar will be mailed to you at once upon receipt of one dollar by THE SHEFFIELD PHARMACEUTICAL COMPANY, 325 Sheffield Avenue—Dept. AT—Chicago.

THE ONLY WAY! THE CLIPPER REGISTRY BUREAU.

Performers in all branches of the profession are rapidly taking advantage of the opportunity presented by this institution to secure a PERMANENT AND RELIABLE RECORD, which can readily be called upon to give publicity to any just claim for priority in presenting any particular line of work, without any lengthy investigation or any expense whatever. It is your own fault if you do not place on record any new idea which you are presenting, and it will be your own fault if you will not be in position, at any future time, to call on this Bureau to substantiate your claim as to when and at what place you registered the material in dispute.

AT ANY TIME, ONE WEEK OR TEN YEARS THEREAFTER, SHOULD IT BECOME NECESSARY FOR YOU TO PROVE THAT YOU HAD USED THE ACT, THE CLIPPER WILL, ON YOUR REQUEST, ACCOMPANIED BY THE CERTIFICATE, FURNISH YOU WITH A CERTIFIED COPY OF THE ENTIRE PLOT, DESCRIPTION, SONG, PARODY, DESCRIPTION OF TRICK AND DATES WHEN REGISTERED, OR IF DESIRED WILL PUBLISH SAME IN OUR COLUMNS UNDER THIS DEPARTMENT, GIVING YOU THE DESIRED PUBLICITY AT THE PROPER TIME, WITHOUT TROUBLE ON YOUR PART.

They will NOT BE PUBLISHED unless YOU YOURSELF WANT THEM TO appear.

WRITE OUT YOUR MATERIAL IN FULL, GIVING ALL ESSENTIAL DETAILS.

CUT OUT THE ATTACHED COUPON and send it to us with your description, one coupon for each act, gag, trick, or for a series of them. THIS COUPON will be numbered and attached to your contribution, and a certificate will be returned to you as an acknowledgment, and for future reference. The contribution should be signed plainly by the person or firm sending in same, and should be endorsed by the stage manager of the show or of the house where the act is being used. Further acknowledgment will be made by the names and numbers being published each week as received.

OUT OF TOWN NEWS

BOSTON.

A hot wave struck us last week and knocked away the underpinning of what little business the few minor houses that are now open have been doing. The Castle Square joined the dark houses, 28, after a week of "A Trip to Chinatown." All the vaudeville houses are open and bank on cool nights to pay their expenses. The managers at the beaches say the crowds are large enough, but the people are not spending the money in proportion to their number.

Playmouth (Fred Wright, mgr.)—Eleanor Gordon and her stock players offer "Her Husband's Wife." They gave an excellent performance of "The House Next Door" last week.

TELEPHONE (Joe R. Schaeffer, mgr.)—Third week of the wonderful motion picture, "Quo Vadis?" with business holding up exceedingly well. Seats are on sale for four weeks in advance.

KEITH'S (B. F. Keith, mgr.)—Second week of "The Meistersingers," in their scenic production, "In the Wild Woods." Others on the bill are: Edwin and Tina Marshall, Muller and Stanley, Ismed, Moore and Irving, Harvey Devora Trio, George, and the Alexander Brothers.

GORDON'S OLYMPIA (J. E. Comerford mgr.)—Mile. Harriet, Clifford and Douglas, Parisian Dancers, Three Marshalls, Lutz Brothers and "House Boat Party" supply the entertainment current week.

NATIONAL (G. A. Haley, mgr.)—Second week of the wonderful "Battle of Gettysburg" motion picture.

BOWDOIN SQUARE (G. E. Lothrop, mgr.)—Week of 30: Mascotte's Merry Maidens, T. F. Thomas and company, De Grace and De Paul, the McCarvers, Alexander, Evelyn Winters and Billie Mathews. Business is quite good.

GLOBE (Robert Janette, mgr.)—Silver and Duval, Blondell and Tucker, Lockhart and Ledy, Three Lubins and Frank Dobson occupy the stage of this house week of 30.

ORPHEUM (Victor J. Morris, mgr.)—For the first half of the week: Myrtle and Daisy, Vander Kooers, George De Alma, "Behind the Footlights," Kelley and Forrest and the Pettit Family. For the last half: Williams and Dixon, De Lisle and Vernon, Black Brothers, the Sophers, Bonner and Powers and Carletta.

St. James (Marcus Loew management)—Williams and Dixon, De Lisle and Vernon, Black Brothers, the Sophers, Bonner and Powers, Carletta, for the first three days. For the last three: Myrtle and Daisy, Vander Kooers, George De Alma, "Behind the Footlights," Kelley Forrest, and the Pettit Family.

LEXINGTON PARK (I. Ormand Jackson, mgr.)—Elliott, Belmont and Elliott, Vischell Brothers, Jimmie Green, Prof. Karl and Belle Wilton, appear in the Rustic Theatre current week.

NORWICH PARK (Carle Alterie, mgr.)—Michel Brothers, Hawaiian Brothers, Leander and MELLEN, FITCH COOPER, and Harry Morse and company appear week of 30.

MEDFORD BOULEVARD (J. W. Gorman, mgr.)—Martine and Hardy, Le Boeuf, John West and company, Three Bannans, Three O'Neills, and Hay.

PARAGON PARK (G. A. Dodge, mgr.)—Cabaret bill: Matillat Lloyd, Raymond Sisters, May Green, Winnie Crawford, Marjorie Mack, Mlle. Emmerie Circus, Nervo, Williams and Williams, Jones and Lee were the features last week.

PICTURES, songs and vaudeville are offered at the Bijou Theatre, Scenic Temple, Pastime, Conique, Star, Unique, Puritan, Shawmut, Apollo, Liberty, New Palace, Harvard, Waltham Hall, Ideal, Superb, Williams' Ideal, Dudley, Oriana, Back Bay, Dreamland, Niagara, Deane, Inter, Hub, Cambridge and the Huntington Avenue.

THERE was quite a time at the Boston National League baseball grounds on the morning of 27, the occasion being the annual ball game between the single and married employees at Keith's. Mel Moore was the leader of the single men and pitched a wonderful game, and also led off in the batting honors. The married men were under the guidance of Mike Costello. After ten innings of the hardest kind of fighting the single men captured the game by a score of 8 to 7. There were many spectators present.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Lyric (Benj. M. Stalnack, mgr.)—Lynn Harding and company present for week of June 30, "Love's Young Dream."

EAST END PARK (A. B. Morrison, mgr.)—Business continues good. Bill week of 29: Great Lester, Kirk and Fogarty, Five Musical girls, Eva Shirley, Hollandow Bros., and motion pictures.

POPULAR, BELLEVUE, MADISON and MOZART, air-domes, are having good attendance.

THREE MAJESTIES, EDIPER, PRINCESS, AMERICAN, Echo, Colonial, Alamo, CARROLLTON, PALACE, METROPOLITAN, the two PASTIMES, DAISY, JOY, SAVOY, PERKIN, GEM and ROYAL, motion pictures.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Staub's (Felix Staub, mgr.)—"Quo Vadis?" in motion pictures, week of July 1.

BROAD (Frank Rogers, mgr.)—Tabloid musical comedies are playing to good business.

CHILLICOTEE PARK (Charles Fleming, mgr.)—Beginning June 30 free motion pictures, together with one act of vaudeville.

GAY, MAJESTIC, RENES, LYRIC and GEM, moving pictures.

ROLAND REED.

Roland Reed was born June 18, 1852, in Philadelphia, Pa., and had been identified with the profession all his life. His first appearance was made as a baby in arms in the farce, "Mr. and Mrs. Peter White." He continued as a stage baby until he could walk. At the age of fourteen he became stage doortender at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia. From that theatre he went to the Arch Street Theatre, first as usher and then as call boy. His first appearance in a speaking role was made at this house. The role assigned him on this occasion was Tom, in "The Jealous Wife." When he was seventeen years of age he was promoted at the same theatre, and upon one occasion, during an engagement of Lotta, Robert Craig, who was the engaged as second low comedian at that house, was taken ill and Mr. Reed was asked to take his place in the cast. The play was "The Firefly," and Mr. Reed acquitted himself so well that the following year he was engaged as second low comedian at that house. He afterwards had valuable stock experience at the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia; Bidwell's Academy of Music, New Orleans, La.; Olympic Theatre, St. Louis, Mo.; John Elliker's Academy of Music, Cleveland, O.; and McVicker's Theatre, Chicago, Ill., with which companies he was first comedian. During the season of 1879-80 he was principal singing comedian of the Colville Folly Co., and in the Fall of 1880 he began his first starring tour, the piece being Augustin Daly's "Arabian Nights." In 1881-82 he played Mo Jewell, in Brooks & Dickson's "World" Co. He resumed starring in the Fall of 1882, in "Cheek," in which he appeared for several seasons. He was the original Ko Ko, in "The Mikado," when it received its first legitimate presentation in this country, July 6, 1885, at the Grand Opera House, Chicago, Ill., and won much praise for his work. He refused an offer to continue with the company, and next appeared as Foutelard, in "The Bridal Trip," at the Bijou Theatre, this city. He then resumed his starring and presented in succession "Humbert," "The Woman Hater," "The Clue Friend," "Innocent as a Lamb," "Lend Me Your Wife," "The Wrong Mr. Wright," "Dakota," "The Politician," "His Father's Boy" and "The American Eagle."

As an entertainer Mr. Reed had won great popularity, and for the last ten years of his stage life ranked among the most successful stars. In fact, few stars have ever enjoyed such great popularity in all sections of the United States.

In the early part of the season of 1899-1900 he was taken ill, and he was forced to abandon his tour. Returning to New York he underwent several surgical operations for cancer of the stomach, and recovered so much that he was able to open his season as usual in the Fall. In a few weeks, however, he was again forced to close his company. His return to this city was followed by a long stay at a hospital, during which time his life was despaired of on several occasions. He finally convalesced sufficiently to be removed to his home in New York in January, 1901, but the disease made fast progress, and he died March 30, 1901.

Mr. Reed was a member of the Players' Club and the Actors' Order of Friendship. Mr. Reed died in the possession of ample means, and no charity contributed to his support during his illness, or toward his obsequies, which occurred April 2. In accordance with a request he made shortly before his death, members of the Edwin Forrest Lodge, Actors' Order of Friendship, attended in a body. The funeral services were conducted at his home.

He was survived by Florence Reed, now a well known leading lady.

OUR AUSTRALIAN LETTER.

SYDNEY.

HER MAJESTY'S (J. O. Williamson, Ltd.)—The delightful and musical "Count of Luxembourg" is sailing along the sea of success at this theatre on a voyage that promises to be as protracted as it will be profitable to the management, and pleasant to their patrons. The new opera company is simply reveling in a riot of sweet music and delightful dialogue varied by graceful dancing and specialty turns of a high order. The opera, on the whole, may be written down as one of the greatest successes staged by the Williamson management.

LITTLE THEATRE (Direction Hugh Buckle).—"Fanny's First Play." Shaw's delightful comedy, continued to attract and delight crowded houses nightly. The piece has now entered on its fourth week of triumphant success with every indication of lowering the splendid record put up by "The Man in the Box."

ADRIAN (Direction William Anderson).—"Under the management of the above named popular entrepreneur, the Adelphi has entered upon what promises to be a most successful season of drama, favored with melodrama. In the initial piece, "The Evil Men Do," the management has found ample scope for those spectacular effects and mass situations that hold the patrons of virtue drama. The playwright has performed his task well, and the capable company of players who reform under the Anderson banner present the playwright's work in a manner that commands success.

PALACE (Direction Bert Bailey).—"On Our Selection" continues to crowd this cozy theatre nightly with audiences that never tire of the wholesome Australian humor that surrounds the piece. It is a great Australian success, and has made history, from the fact that the author is an Australian, and all the players taking part in the performance are Australians.

THEATRE ROYAL (J. O. Williamson, Ltd.).—"After a highly successful season of ten weeks, 'Antony and Cleopatra' was rung off on Friday night, and the following evening, 'Kismet,' brimful of Oriental splendor and spectacularism, was staged before a crowded house. Brilliant as was its original production, Oscar Asche has exceeded it in the present one. As the piece will only be played one week, no surprise can be expressed that it is testing the seating capacity of the theatre. 'Kismet' will be replaced on Saturday evening next by 'The Taming of the Shrew,' when Mr. Asche will be the Petruchio to Miss Brayton's Katharine. The treat thus promised for lovers of Shakespeare is anxiously looked forward to. The whole of the dress circle and reserved stalls have already been booked at 7s. 6d. each.

CRITERION (J. O. Williamson, Ltd.).—"The Fortune Hunter," though still going strong and in its tenth week, the exigencies of change and contracts demand that the piece must retire from the scenes of its triumphs. On Saturday next, patrons of the Criterion will have presented to them, under the Williamson management and the direction of Fred Niblo, the great American comedy success, "Excuse Me." This piece is reported to be one of the greatest laugh catchers that has ever been produced. An extensive cast, under the leadership of Mr. Niblo, will introduce "Excuse Me," and guarantees it to be loaded to the muzzle with favor winning shot. Unfortunately Josephine Cohan will be absent from the piece, but under the present circumstances it cannot be helped. Miss Cohan requires a holiday, a sea trip, and the lady has gone to visit her home and friends in America.

REPERTOIRE THEATRE.—The first of a series of musical entertainments will be given in the Repertoire Theatre (Federation Hall), Grosvenor Street, on Saturday evening, May 31. Caleb Porter, late of the Oscar Asche Co., and Alfred Hill have arranged to establish the theatre, and offer a program of music, story and drama, for which a number of new artists have been engaged. Messrs. Porter and Hill are the joint proprietors and managers of the new theatre.

At the Tivoli Theatre, on Saturday matinee and evening, the Kettle Sisters made their first appearance in Australia, and, judging by the big audience which they attracted, these comedienne, their turn will have a good run. Dressed one as a policeman and the other as a Quaker, looked extremely funny. The first song they sang, "I. O. U.," was heartily applauded. The setting of the second song was in the Arctic regions, where they appeared as a ship's officer and an Eskimo girl. Interspersed with clever singing and neat and stylish dancing, the end of their act was responsible for immense enthusiasm. Kitty Dale again filled the part of Miss Osborne who is absent through illness, in the clever and amusing "Drunk" sketch with Gertie Brooks, and also repeated her successes with her ordinary turns.

The Belleclair Brothers, with their marvelous athletic act, brought down the house. Captain Tiber's wonderfully trained seals continue to delight the crowds, who showed their appreciation of the turn by well merited applause. Torcatt's clever band of roosters again excited a good deal of merriment, particularly with the burlesque boxing match, Johnson vs. Jeffries. A. G. Spry, the popular comedian, is an immense favorite, having to do six songs for his turn. Margaret Ogilvie is a bright and dashing serio, and works hard to deserve her great popularity. The Quint Qs (4), Miss Clair, O'Hana San, Signor Marini and the Krema Brothers, all contribute to an excellent program.

ALHAMBRA (Direction Joe Goodman).—Large audiences are being attracted to this theatre, where an excellent vaudeville program is at present being shown. The Three Racons, acrobats, and Jules and Lillian, sketch artists, are the latest arrivals.

NATIONAL (Fuller Brennan, Ltd.).—This theatre seems to be making great headway nowadays. The program is not only refreshed with half a dozen new, first class turns, but the main feature, the Royal Bazaar Family of Japanese entertainers, are the best that has ever appeared in this land of the "Golden Pleece." The troupe consists of two males and two female adults, and a funny little kid, who is a mixture of the comedian, acrobat and contortionist. They employ a gorgeous stage setting of silk and velvet, which is said to have cost a fabulous price. Without going into detail, I can only repeat that their act from first to last is absolutely marvelous. The other new turns were: Moons, Herbert, novelty musician; the Lyntons, sketch artists; Morley and Bates, song and dance; Lillian Brookh, serio, and Hechty, Vincenta and Bush, American comedy acrobats, who make good all the time.

PRINCESS (J. O. Bain, lessee).—Bain's Vaudeville and Minstrel Co. are going strong, all things considered. The company is fairly strong, and made up from Australian artists. Here are the names: Keldine and Speed, comedy trick cyclists; Belofa, mimic; Ziff, caricaturist; Maud Fanning, serio; Arthur Elliott, comedian; Ida Jarvis, serio; Vera Harris, serio and dancer; Elliott Sisters, Con Moren, Chas. Skinner, Ray Devere, George Sorlis, the Four Chrissies and Jim Craydon.

During the absence of Mr. McIntosh and Ed. Covel from Australia, Clifton Clarke has acted ing songs and exquisite costumes has been the talk of the city. The Jackson Family of cyclists, in their most graceful bicycle act, are charming to watch, and the Flying Banvards are also particularly effective in their turn.

BYRON (Directors, H. Frankel and W. R. Hughes).—"The Speculators" still attracts large audiences, where the clever work of Bert La Blanc and Frank Vack, ably assisted by Carlton Chase, Miss Teddy Martin and the other members of the company, give a bright and clean performance. The last nights of the company's season in Melbourne are announced, after which they open at the Palace Theatre, Sydney, for a long season.

ATHENAEUM HALL (The Dandies, Ltd.).—The popular company of players, The Dandies, are now firmly established in their Winter quarters at this hall, where they nightly give further proof of their versatility and inexhaustible repertoire. All the artists are seen here at their best and do their work with a cheerfulness and refinement which carry the audience with them throughout the program.

GAIETY (Fuller-Brennan, Ltd.).—This house of cluded in the bill are: The Seven Mangrums, Manager Boreford, Scott Leslie, Phillips and Martin, Bright Sisters, Carl Prinz, Paul Polina, Post Mason, Florrie Raymond, Delavale and Gilbert Lily Vocher, and the Two Gibson Girls.

KING'S THEATRE (Fuller & Brennan, Ltd.).—Beny and May, intrepid cyclists; the Two Sisters, time singers and dancers; Glorio Mayne, the five O'Graves, King and Thornhill, comedians; Tessie Wilton, the Dentines, and the boy, Emmie Hardy, the Driscoll Boys, and the Double Duo. Business flourishing.

ADELAIDE, SOUTH AUSTRALIA.

AT THE THEATRE ROYAL (J. O. W. Loh, lessee).—"The Julius Knight Co. are doing big business with 'Milestones,' which has been heartily received during the week.

TIVOLI (Rickards, Ltd.).—A big bill is provided here and business is of the best. The new arrivals this week are: Syd. Back, Harry Ward, Rosella, Irving Sayles, Harry Warton, Mark Quintrell, Charley Zoll, the Clarence Sisters and Brothers.

KING'S THEATRE (Fuller & Brennan, Ltd.).—The managers report tip-top business and have a very strong company of variety artists.

TASMANIA.

AT HOBART there are only two picture shows, Spencers and the Empire, and the people largely patronize the two places of amusement.

BROKEN HILL.

JANSEN, the magician, put in twelve nights at the Crystal Theatre, and did remarkably well. Frank Talbot is his touring manager.

FRANKTON CREWELL'S COMEDY CO. have had a seven nights' stay at the Royal, and played to packed houses. The company is a grand little one, and should do well, for it includes: Carrie Moore, Maud Chetwynd, Katie Arnold, Grace Compton, Enice Bowman, Cressie Ward, and two other comedienne.

HAYWARD'S EMPIRE HALL continues to be the home of vaudeville. A very good program is put forward, and additional artists appeared this week—The Luntens and Desperado and Madam Rose.

OLIVER'S VAUDEVILLE CO. will arrive here next week. The following are in the joint: Ethel North, Mabel Bruce, Jack Burrough, Ethel Jeffries, the Lynchs, Victor Hardy, and Alice Jeffries. Their tour has been eminently successful.

FAIRHAVEN BREEZES.

On a standing invitation THE CLIPPER man paid a visit to the Fairhaven Boat Club House on July 4, and found the boys spending a safe and sane Fourth, fanned by cooling breezes.

About noon a coterie of boat captains and their friends embarked at the float and choo-chooed up to Red Bank to view the speed boat races, but a goodly representation was left behind, among them: Jas. Ten Brook, Tom Lewis, Frank North, Tommy Glenroy, Johnny Cantwell, Homer Howard, Frank S. Pierce, etc., who made themselves comfortable in negligence or bathing suits.

Miss Otto lost a pocketbook containing some change, overboard while stepping into a boat. Later in the day, Arthur Otto recovered it by one of his celebrated diving stunts. A stein was also brought up in the same manner.

Little Bobby Hunting recently gained his laurels as a long distance swimmer by crossing the river in record time for one so young.

Mauri Krauss is down very ill with some sort of brain disease and hallucinations. At last accounts he was somewhat better, but Dr. Warner does not hold out much hope.

Frances Clare and Guy Rawson are among the steadies.

Leo Hayes and Fannie Thatcher are enjoying their stay, not worrying over next season. Flossie Hope is in Red Bank here. She goes with the Sunshine Girls.

Kittie Gebhardt is a welcome visitor. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Howard are here for a ten days' stay.

Rose Sydel and W. S. Campbell were here early last week.

Julian Ellinge is expected down for another few days this week.

Al. Jolson and Melville Ellis had the time of their lives down here, and also gave the boys a fine time.

A lot of the boys are stopping at Fred. Rider's new place, and seem to like it.

Abie Bennett's is still a popular resort.

Secretary Will J. Cooke, of the White Rats, arrived by trolley via Highlands, and seemed to like the place. He promised to come again.

Tom Morrissey gave a party at his home July 4, night, and there was nothing missing.

Hap Handy bought another lot on the main road and is busy fixing up.

J. Royer West was one of the boat racing party. Lew Hunting came back early and had several orders of beans served in his private dining room on the float. Bobby Hunting was his guest, also "Rufus" Hunting (half Newfoundland and half water spaniel).

Patsy Doyle arrived July 3 and entertained at the evening concert.

Important factors in the social life of the colony, besides those mentioned above are: Maggie Cline, Annie Hart, Annie Morrissey, Ada Burnette, Lottie Wesson, Bessie Lovett, Corinne Hunting, Marion Otto, Elizabeth Otto, Mammie Nelson, Ada and Curly Burnmaster, Rita Walker, Eddie Carr, Harry Vantelle, Lulu Keegan, the Two Stanleys, Geo. Moore, Moore and Vanderbilt, Charley Rice, Eddie Lovett, Lolly Mervin, Kittle O'Neill, Joe Schroeder, De Witt, Burns and Torrence, Ed. McDowell, Frank Howie, Merritt and Douglass, Marion Ford, George Quigley, Murphy and Willard, Lester Pike, Arthur Mueller, Trovillo, Harry Emerson, Grace Celeste, Fred V. Bowers, Ralph Smith, Annie Peyer, Frank Martineau, Frank Herbert, Bill Foster, George Sidney, Phil Cook, Capt. Nelson, Johnny Goodman, Joe Humphries, Frank Otto, Ernie Otto, Bill and Jack Mason, Ina Lorell, and John Barry. The season has been somewhat slow, but a great many additions to the colony are looked for within the next two weeks.

HOUDINI SAILS.

Harry Houdini sails for Bremen, Germany, on the Kronprinzessin Cecelia (N. D. L.), en route to Stockholm, Sweden, where he will appear for three performances at the Royal Celebration at the King of Sweden's Palace, July 16-18, he being the only American appearing. This is quite an exceptional honor, as all the rest of the artists are native born.

Houdini will tour Norway, Sweden and Denmark for three months, will play the principal cities in France, and in January, 1914, will play the Moss Empires in Great Britain, where he has been contracted to give the special matinee performances, in which he will give the entire two hour show. It is not unlikely that it will be 1915 before he again appears in America.

STEWART FOR SAN FRANCISCO.

GEORGE W. Stewart will be the musical director of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. Festival Hall will be the scene of Mr. Stewart's activities in a series of musical festivals. He founded the famous Boston Band, and was musical director of the Chicago and St. Louis Expositions.

as general manager for all the Harry Rickards, Ltd. Theatres throughout Australia, and George Fortus has acted as business manager and treasurer at the Tivoli, Sydney. Both gentlemen are courteous and affable and very popular with the players of the city.

THE GEORGE MARLOW COMPANY, LTD., after a twelve months' continuous run of melodrama, vacated his theatre, the Adelphi, and leased to Mr. William Anderson. Mr. Marlow has now five companies touring Australia, outside of Sydney.

On Monday last David Bispham arrived in Sydney from San Francisco. The American baritone will commence his short Australian tour under the direction of Fred Shipman on Saturday evening next. He will give five song recitals at the Eden Hall, his program on Sunday will conclude with the recital of Longfellow's "King Robert of Sicily" with grand organ and pianoforte accompaniment. Clearness of enunciation is one of the things upon which Mr. Bispham prides himself. Mr. Shipman has arranged for the visiting artist to give in the four principal cities of New Zealand six concerts in each while he is on his way back to the United States in August.

Mr. Bispham is under contract to appear in the New York production of Leo Fall's light opera, "The Jolly Peasant," on Sept. 15.

J. O. Williamson management have received a cable message stating that the Quinlan Opera Co. had sailed for South Africa, where they will appear prior to commencing their Australian tour at Melbourne. Her Majesty's, in August. The message further mentioned that the company totalled 178 people, and that tremendous enthusiasm marked the concluding performances of "The Ring" and "The Meistersinger" the latter of which will open the Australian season.

LATER.

THE BISPHAM CONCERTS.—David Bispham, the American baritone, of whom so much has been heard lately, commenced his season last night, Saturday, May 31, at the Town Hall, Sydney, when a capacity audience greeted his rendition with the utmost favor and appreciation. The francus baritone was in excellent voice and his respects of both classical and popular songs were decidedly good. He devoted the first part of his program to classical and modern songs by foreign composers, but rendered in English, and the second part was devoted to the works of American and English composers. Mr. Bispham promises to become a vogue in the local musical world.

CRITERION THEATRE.—"Excuse Me," Rupert Hughes' novel and sparkling comedy, was staged at this theatre on Saturday, May 31, for the first time in Australia, with Fred Niblo and Beatrice Terry in the chief parts. In the hands of such a strong company of comedienne, "Excuse Me," which came here with a world-wide reputation, easily upheld its fame, and the quaint laugh maker put everybody in good humor.

This firm of J. O. Williamson, Ltd. has covered pretty well the whole range of theatrical enterprises relating to opera, musical comedy, comic opera, drama and comedy, but the engagement of the Imperial Russian Ballet will be a long and an absolute novelty, so far as the audiences of this country are concerned. This is the first time an artist who holds the unchallenged position of the world's greatest dancer has been brought to Australia, and the first appearance of the notable Imperial Ballet from St. Petersburg will also provide an attraction new to Australian theatregoers.

MELBOURNE.

PRINCESS THEATRE (Geo. Marlow, Ltd.).—The Hamilton-Plimmer Co. revived "A Message from Mars," that sermon against selfishness, last Saturday, as their farewell piece. The play has been so recently played here that it was a somewhat risky thing to stage it again so soon, even with certain changes of cast. However, all things considered, the piece done remarkably well and more than paid expenses.

KING'S THEATRE (Wm. Anderson, lessee).—"Life's Shop Window" is in its last nights, having run four weeks to good business. The piece has many elements which rank it much above the average melodrama, and the second act is a very strong one, and decidedly well acted. The Sallor's Wedding" will be staged on Saturday evening, seventy people being in the cast.

THEATRE ROYAL (J. O. Williamson, Ltd.).—"Within the Law," which is drawing immense business to this house, is a well-built play, in which the interest is sustained from first to last, and the comedy arises legitimately and naturally. However much one may cavil at its moral atmosphere for it cannot be denied that all through one's sympathies are with the criminals—it is one of the strongest plays we have seen here for some time. It is very well acted right through, for the roles have been judiciously allotted.

HER MAJESTY'S (J. O. Williamson, Ltd.).—"The Sunshine Girl" has captured the fancy of the fickle public and has ousted all along the line from their mind, the previous beauties which played in the opera. It is the brightness the "go" and the action which pervade the piece, which, after all, is just gay frolics, that spells its success.

OPERA HOUSE (Managing Director, H. D. McIntosh).—Harry Corson Clarke and Margaret Dale Owen present a new sketch, "Strategy," which is an episode in the life of a middle-aged man who has invented a son by a former wife, in order to acquire a little spending money from his spouse. It is briskly acted and goes well, being received with laughter and much applause. Geo. Whitehead, a baritone with a fine robust voice, scores a success. The Australian dancers, the De Bruns, give an interesting and picturesque turn, showing the original measures upon which some of the latest ballroom dances are founded. To the regret of all, last night finished the season at this theatre of Madge Temple, who has been an established favorite right away. Her charm-
